Armed US woman detained after standoff at FBI building in Seattle

Seattle, US A woman armed with a handgun was taken into custody after an hour-long standoff at the FBI building in Seattle on Wednesday, authorities said.

The woman walked into a publicly accessible area where people have to wait to be buzzed into the lobby, according to FBI spokesperson Steve Bernd."She pointed the gun at herself", the Seattle Police Department said in an emailed statement. A hostage negotiation team eventually persuaded her to lay the gun at her feet and surrender. No hostages were taken and no one was hurt, authorities sid. The woman's identity was not immediately revealed. "We are continuing to investigate her motives, and no charging decisions have been made yet", the FBI said in an emailed statement.

The FBI has reported an uptick in the number of threats against bureau personnel and facilities in the last few years. A man armed with an AR-15 rifle and a nail gun tried to breach the FBI's Cincinnati field office in 2022 and was killed hours later after a standoff with authorities. And in August, a man rammed a barricade at an FBI office in Atlanta and then tried to follow an FBI employee into the secure parking lot on foot.

Kuwait building fire tragedy claims life of 33-year-old Kollam native

KOLLAM: A devastating fire in the southern Mangaf district of Kuwait claimed the life of Umarudheen Shameer, a 33-year-old native of Kollam, along with 48 others, mostly Indians. The blaze, which occurred on Wednesday, left dozens more injured. Shameer, hailing from Sooranad North, had been working in Kuwait for the past seven years.

Relatives were informed of the tragedy around noon on Wednesday. According to family sources, the bodies have been moved to a local government hospital. It is suspected that Shameer died while attempting to jump from the building in a panic. The repatriation of his body is expected to take several days. Shameer had returned to Kuwait only nine months ago after a period of leave. Meanwhile, relatives and friends have been in constant communication with the Kuwait embassy.

"We got a call around noon informing us about his death. From the photo we received, it is suspected that he jumped off the building. It was said that the entire building was filled with smoke following the fire outbreak. Another resident of Sooranad who worked with Shameer fractured his leg and has been admitted to a hospital," said Safedu Oyyur, Shameer's cousin.

"We are in constant touch with the Embassy and Members of Parliament. As of now, we are not getting clear information on when the body will be repatriated. The official told us that it was not a simple death case but a major incident. Because of this, more time will be required to complete the procedures before repatriation of the body," Safedu added. Shameer was employed as a driver in Kuwait. He was the son of Umarudheen and Sheebna and had one younger brother, Nijaz, who is in class 8. His father, known locally as Raju Mesthiri and has been working as a contractor of home construction. Shameer was married to Surumi, a PSC aspirant. The family had previously resided in Oyor village for 15 years before

US sheriff deputies responding to distress call shot at, suspect wounded

Dixon, US,. Three sheriff's deputies were shot on Wednesday while responding to a northern Illinois home, and the suspect was also wounded, authorities said.Ogle County Sheriff Brian VanVickle said the deputies were responding to a report that someone inside the home in the Lost Lake community near Dixon was threatening to kill themselves or others. He said the suspect was also shot. He did not provide any information about the suspect, including name, age or where the person lives. VanVickle said a family member called police shortly after 8:30 am to report the threats from someone at the home. He said negotiators tried to reach the person by phone and decided to go inside shortly before noon. Immediately upon entering the house, our deputies received fire from inside the VanVickle initially tried to walk away from reporters after giving a statement without more details, but responded to shouted questions by saying everyone injured "is in good condition". A spokesperson at Katherine Shaw Bethea Hospital in Dixon said three people were taken to the hospital's emergency department, two of whom were treated and released. The spokesperson did not release the condition of the third person

The Illinois State Police will handle the investigation of the shooting, VanVickle said. The agency did not immediately respond to an email from The Associated Press seeking comment. Aerial video by local media on Wednesday afternoon showed law enforcement and private cars parked on the side of unpaved roads throughout the neighbourhood and officials occasionally gathering in small groups but little ongoing activity. Yellow police tape blocked at least one driveway and an Ogle County sheriff's mobile command centre was parked at the end of the drive. Lost Lake's property owner's association describes the area as a "country style community" with about 700 owners in an unincorporated area close to the cities of Dixon, Franklin Grove and Oregon, about 100 miles (160 kilometers) west of Chicago.

US says Hamas seeks changes to Gaza ceasefire plan, terror group denies

Doha/Geneva/Cairo, US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said on Wednesday that Hamas had proposed numerous changes, some unworkable, to a US-backed proposal for a ceasefire with Israel in Gaza, but that mediators were determined to close the gaps. Senior Hamas official Osama Hamdan denied that the Palestinian Islamist group had put forward new ideas. Speaking to pan-Arab Al-Araby TV, he reiterated Hamas' stance that it was Israel that was rejecting proposals and accused the US administration of going along with its close ally. White House National Security Adviser Jake Sullivan said many of Hamas' proposed changes were minor "and not unanticipated" while others differed more substantially from what was outlined in a UN Security Council resolution on Monday backing the plan put forward by US President Joe Biden. "Our aim is to bring this process to a conclusion. Our view is that the time for haggling is over," Sullivan told reporters. Hamas also wants written guarantees from the US on the ceasefire plan, two Egyptian security sources told Reuters.Late on Wednesday, Hamas issued a statement stressing its "positivity" in the negotiations and urging the US to pressure Israel to accept an agreement leading to a permanent ceasefire in Gaza as well as full withdrawal from the enclave, reconstruction and release of Palestinian prisoners. The Palestinian group said that while US officials have said Israel has accepted a ceasefire proposal outlined by Biden on May 31, "we have not heard any Israeli official confirm this acceptance."

Biden's proposal envisages a truce and a phased release of Israeli hostages in Gaza in exchange for Palestinians jailed in Israel, ultimately leading to a permanent end to the war. At a press conference with Qatar's prime minister in Doha, Blinken said some of the counter-proposals from Hamas, which has ruled Gaza since 2007, had sought to amend terms that it had accepted in previous talks.

MONTHS OF TALKS

Negotiators from the U.S., Egypt and Qatar have tried for months to mediate a ceasefire in the conflict - which has killed tens of thousands of Palestinians and devastated the heavily populated enclave

ceasefire in the conflict - which has killed tens of thousands of Palestinians and devastated the heavily populated enclave - and free the hostages, more than 100 of whom are believed to remain captive in Gaza. "Hamas could have answered with a single word: Yes," Blinken said. "Instead, Hamas waited nearly two weeks and then proposed more changes, a number of which go beyond positions that it had previously taken and accepted. "In its late Wednesday statement, Hamas said it had expressed its readiness to cooperate while Israel did not. Blinken's stance was "a continuation of the American policy complicit in the brutal genocide against our Palestinian people." The group said the U.S. was providing political and military cover for Israel to press ahead with its assault on Gaza. The U.S. has said Israel has accepted its proposal, but Israel has not publicly stated this. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has repeatedly said Israel will not commit to ending its campaign before Hamas is eliminated.

Major powers are intensifying efforts to defuse the conflict in part to prevent it spiralling into a wider Middle East war, with a dangerous flashpoint being the escalating hostilities along the Lebanese-Israeli border. The fighting in Gaza began on Oct. 7 when militants led by Hamas burst across the border and killed 1,200 Israelis and took more than 250 hostage, according to Israeli tallies.

Israel's air and ground war since then has killed more than 37,000 Palestinians, according to Gaza's health ministry, displaced most of Gaza's population of 2.3 million and devastated housing and infrastructure. The head of the World Health Organization said.

Donald Trump's lawyers urges judge to lift gag order in hush money case

Donald Trump's lawyers urged the judge who oversaw his hush money trial to lift a gag order now that he has been convicted, arguing his opponents were using the restrictions on the former US president's speech as a "political sword."In a court filing earlier this week, defense lawyers Todd Blanche and Emil Bove noted that Democratic President Joe Biden's campaign had referred to Trump, the Republican candidate, as a "georgical folor", in a May 30

Trump, the Republican candidate, as a "convicted felon" in a May 30 statement. They said the order might limit Trump's ability to respond to attacks from Biden during their June 27 presidential debate - though the order only restricts Trump's public statements about jurors, witnesses and other individuals involved in the court proceedings, and does not prevent him from criticizing the case in general. President Trump's opponents and adversaries are using the Gag Order as a political sword to attack

President Trump with reference to this case, on the understanding that his ability to mount a detailed response is severely restricted," Bove and Blanche wrote. A Manhattan jury on May 30 found Trump, 77, guilty on 34 counts of falsifying business records to cover up his former lawyer Michael Cohen's $130,000 payment to porn star Stormy Daniels for her silence before the 2016 election about a sexual encounter she says they had a decade earlier. It was the first-ever criminal trial of a US president, past or present. Trump denies having sex with Daniels and has vowed to appeal the verdict after his July 11 sentencing. Before the trial began in April, Justice issued the order after prosecutors argued Trump's history of making threatening statements showed he could derail proceedings.

During the trial, Merchan for each of 10 violations of the gag order. Those included a social media post in which he called Cohen a "serial liar" and an interview in which he said, "that jury was picked so fast - 95% Democrats." Prosecutors in a one-page letter last week urged the judge to keep the gag order in place at least through his sentencing, arguing he was still obligated to "protect the integrity of these proceedings." They are expected to follow-up with a more complete filing in the coming weeks.

AP-NORC poll: About half of US adults approve of Trump's conviction, but views of him remain stable

NEW YORK: About half of U.S. adults approve of Donald Trump's recent felony conviction, according to a poll from The Associated Press-NORC Center for Public Affairs Research. The survey shows some potential vulnerabilities, along with some signs of resilience in his support, as Trump tries to become the first American with a felony record to win the presidency.

Less than five months before Election Day, the poll paints a picture of a nation with firmly entrenched opinions of the divisive former Republican president. Overall views of Trump and Democratic President Joe Biden remain unchanged since before the guilty verdict in Trump's New York hush money trial.

But the findings also suggest that Trump's conviction is one more weakness among disaffected Republicans. While most people in the United States have heard about the conviction, political independents are less likely to be paying attention and more likely to have a neutral opinion of Trump's conviction, indicating that there may still be room for the campaigns to sway them. Nancy Hauser, a 74-year-old independent from West Palm Beach, Florida, said she approves of Trump's conviction based on the little she followed of the trial. The verdict, she said, suggests that Trump may be willing to engage in criminal activity if he were back in the White House. "I feel if you've been convicted of a crime, especially a felony, a serious crime, how can you run a country?" she said.

But she also has concerns about Biden, especially his age and leadership on the economy and the war in Israel. Biden is 81, while Trump turns 78 on Friday. I'm not sure who I'm voting for," Hauser said. "That's the sad part."

Overall, U.S. adults are more likely to approve of Trump's conviction than they are to disapprove, according to a survey of 1,115 adults nationwide conducted over three days beginning a week after the verdict was delivered May 30, and before Biden's son Hunter was convicted in a federal gun case on Tuesday. About 3 in 10 somewhat or strongly disapprove of Trump's conviction, and about 2 in 10 do not approve or disapprove. Perspectives were similar among registered voters, with about half saying the conviction was the right choice. Republicans are less united on the verdict than are Democrats. Roughly 6 in 10 Republicans somewhat or strongly disapprove of the conviction, while 15% of Republican adults approve and about 2 in 10 Republicans neither approve nor disapprove. Among Democrats, by contrast, more than 8 in 10 somewhat or strongly approve. About half of Americans say that the conviction was politically motivated, while a similar share think it was not. Nearly half of Republicans who have an unfavorable view of Trump do not see the conviction as politically motivated, compared with less than 1 in 10 Republicans who have a positive opinion of him.

In initial win for Argentine President Milei, senators approve his key bills after violent protests

BUENOS AIRES (Argentina).
Argentina's Senate narrowly approved key state overhaul and tax bills proposed by President Javier Miliei, delivering an initial legislative victory to the libertarian leader in his efforts to enact his promises of radical change.

Senators voted 37 to 36 late Wednesday to give their overall approval to the overhaul bill after 11 hours of heated debate while protesters — urging lawmakers to reject Milei's harsh austerity plan — clashed with police outside Congress. The Senators still must approve individual measures in an article-by-article vote set to stretch throughout the night.

In a reflection of the fierce backlash to the legislation and deep polarization gripping Argentina's Congress, Vice President and head of the Senate Victoria Villarruel cast the tiebreaking vote in favor of Milei's agenda. The legislation delegates broad powers to the president in energy, pensions, security and other areas and includes several measures seen as controversial, including a generous incentive scheme for foreign investors, tax amnesty for those with undeclared assets and plans to privatize some of Argentina's state-owned firms. If the Senate approves the articles with modifications, the lower house still has to okay them before Milei can claim his first legislative win since entering office last December.

since entering office last December. As Senators pored over the bills, protesters in downtown Buenos Aires hurled sticks, stones and Molotov cocktails at police who sprayed water cannons, pepper spray and tear gas to disperse the huge crowds. Demonstrators poured gasoline on two cars and set them alight, turning the central square into a smoke-filled battlefield. Authorities reported least 20 police officers injured and more than a dozen protesters arrested over the violence. Milei rose to power on promises he would resolve Argentina's worst economic crisis in two decades. But his political party of relative novices holds just a tiny minority of seats in Congress and he has struggled to strike deals with the opposition. We have the weakest president we've ever seen who is trying to pass the biggest bill we've ever seen," said Ana Iparraguirre, an Argentina-based analyst at Washington strategy firm GBAO. "That's the contradiction."

Senators approved two bills late Wednesday, a tax package and a 238-article state reform bill that passed the lower house of Congress in late April. Months of negotiations watered down the initial far-ranging proposal, which had over 600 articles. Unlike previous Argentine leaders since the return of democracy in 1983, Milei has failed to pass a single piece of legislation during his first six months in office. Instead, the populist outsider has relied on executive powers to slash state spending and sweep away economic restrictions. "Today, it's almost more important for Milei to demonstrate that he can pass laws in Congress than what he passes," said Lucas Romero, director of Synopsis consultancy. That desperation was clear in some of the Senators' closing speeches. "How can I not give a president a tool that he needs in order to function?" said.

Washington. The United States wishes India well in its efforts to improve strained ties with China, the number-two U.S. diplomat said on Wednesday, while cautioning that Chinese leader Xi Jinping finds it very hard to show any flexibility on territorial issues. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said on Tuesday after assuming office for a second straight term that India would focus on finding solutions to border issues with China, that have long strained ties between the neighbours. US Deputy Secretary of State Kurt Campbell, who has led U.S. efforts to boost ties with India to push back against China's growing power, was asked at a Washington think tank about Jaishankar's comments."I think the truth is that anytime two countries can find a degree of the common space to reduce tensions, I think we have to support that," he said."I think we wish the Indians well in deliberations," he added, before going on to say that Washington was "very confident and comfortable" about its own bilateral relationship with India "and we want that to continue going forward."Campbell said he would be in India next week with Jake Sullivan, the U.S. national security adviser, to

"advance areas of coordination.""I think we feel very good about this partnership," he said, while adding: "I think there are some structural issues between China and India that frankly will be difficult to resolve."Campbell said he believed that for any rapprochement, or substantial improvement in relations with China, India would expect changes in how Beijing treats their contested borders.

"One of the things that we've seen under Xi Jinping on anything that bridges, or touches, territorial matters, I think it's very hard for the Chinese to show any flexibility, or any desire to find common ground," he said.India and China share a 3,800 km (2,400 mile) border - much of it poorly demarcated - over which the nuclear-armed nations fought a war in

The meeting comes in the wake of a series of major terror assaults in J&K, raising concerns about regional security. On June 9, terrorists opened fire on a bus in Reasi, causing it to fall into a deep gorge, resulting in the deaths of at least nine pilgrims, the bus driver, and the conductor, with 42 others injured. Further attacks in Kathua and Doda, where a Special Operations Group (SOG) constable was injured during an encounter with terrorists, have heightened alarm about the deteriorating security situation.

In response to these incidents, PM Modi directed officials to deploy the "full spectrum of counter-terror capabilities" and stressed the importance of a coordinated approach to the security challenges in the region.

'Tanker mafia' at the centre of spat between AAP Minister Atishi and Delhi L-G

New Delhi: Amid reports of severe water shortage in several parts of the city, Water Minister Atishi and the office of the Lieutenant Governor, V K Saxena, on Wednesday traded barbs over the presence of a "tanker mafia" in the national capital. Atishi, writing to Saxena, urged that an enquiry be instituted against senior officials in the Delhi Jal Board (DJB), alleging that they may have illegal ties with the "tanker mafia". She said the reduction in the number of water tankers deployed in the city, despite her instructions, proved her allegations. According to sources, in June 2023, 1,323 tankers were available; this came down to 881 in March this year and finally to 1,211 in June. The Minister wrote on X on Wednesday, "The reduction in DJB tankers could have created scope for illegal private tankers."The office of the L-G, meanwhile, said that despite "knowing that a large-scale water mafia" was operating in Delhi, DJB (Delhi Jal Board) had never filed a complaint with the police; neither did officials

The L-G's secretariat also wrote to the Delhi Police Commissioner asking him to ensure strict vigil along the Munak Canal to prevent theft by the "water mafia" and to present a compliance report to the Lt Governor's secretariat within a week. His office also blamed Atishi for "lying" and issuing a "patently false statement, blaming Haryana for the scarcity of water in Delhi."

His office said that the Haryana government's affidavit had clearly stated that Delhi's share of water was being provided. The affidavit submitted in Supreme Court stated that "not even on a single day had Haryana released less than the mandated 1,050 cusecs to Delhi.On Wednesday evening, Atishi posted on X that the L-G's office had sent a press release where she had been abused. "Very bad things have been said about me... I know that you and the BJP people hate us a lot because the people of Delhi repeatedly make their son Arvind Kejriwal the Chief Minister with a huge majority... But do not stop the water supply of Delhiites because of your hatred towards us... If the BJP government of Haryana provides water to Delhi, then all the people of Delhi will get relief," she posted in Hindi.In response, the office of the Lt Governor posted: "L-G sahab did not abuse you. L-G's office has refuted the abuses and blatant lies you uttered yesterday, with evidence, and exposed your habit of misleading the people of Delhi. He still hopes that you will stop water theft and wastage in Delhi and provide water to the

Sharad Pawar Talks Of "Taking Control Of" Maharashtra", How He Aims To Do It

New Delhi: Pune: NCP (SP) chief Sharad Pawar today said it would be his endeavour to "take control of Maharashtra", for which his party must win the state assembly polls scheduled later this year. The Nationalist Congress Party (Sharadchandra Pawar) helmed by him put up an impressive show by winning eight out of ten Lok Sabha seats it contested in Maharashtra in the recently-concluded general elections.

Sharad Pawar's daughter and NCP (SP) candidate Supriya Sule won the high-stake family battle for the Baramati seat for the fourth straight term, defeating her cousin Ajit Pawar's wife Sunetra Pawar.

Following the Lok Sabha poll results, Sharad Pawar has been meeting people in Baramati and making preparations for the state assembly polls.Addressing people from Shirsuphal village in Baramati, the former Union minister said the people of Baramati constituency remained silent during the election period."Our party functionaries used to tell me that people are silent and they are not speaking openly. I asked them not to worry and said that even if they are not expressing themselves, they will press the right button (of EVMs). And the same thing happened. When the EVMs were opened, the magic was seen as you people voted in large numbers," he said. He appealed to people to stay united as the state assembly elections are just around the corner.

In the next three to four months, state elections are taking place. Come what may, it will be my endeavour to take control of Maharashtra. To achieve this, we must win the assembly polls," he said. Sharad Pawar recalled that he was the chief minister of the state for four terms, Union agriculture minister for a decade and defence minister for two years."All these things can happen when your collective power is there. The issues you have put forth before me, I will try and resolve them. However, I cannot give assurances now because a different government is in place. But after four months, we can certainly resolve these issues," he said.Sharad Pawar criticized Prime Minister Narendra Modi over his remarks made during the polls.

During the polls campaign, the prime minister spoke on the topics that should have been avoided," he said.

Congress' Jairam Ramesh Slams PM Over Failure Of Tackling Food Inflation; Says 'Modi Hai Toh...

Congress hit out at PM Modi over the increasing inflation figures for the month of May, saying "Modi hai toh mehengai hai'."

New Delhi: The Congress on Thursday hit out at Prime Minister Narendra Modi over the increasing inflation figures for the month of May, saying "If Modi is there then there is inflation! (Modi hai toh mehengai hai')." This comes a day after government released the data showing that retail inflation had fallen to a one-year low of 4.75 percent in May, attributed to a slight drop in food prices. Calling the newly elected Narendra Modi, a 'one-third' Prime Minister, Ramesh said that "The 'one-third' Pradhan Mantri has no solution to this crisis."

Inflation in the food basket was at 8.69% in May, marginally down from 8.70% in April, reported PTI citing the data released by the price inflation is over 8.5% for four months Pulses inflation has been consistently in double digits over the past year - more than 10%; prices rose by 17.14% in May."

According to Ramesh the Congress manifesto promised to increase the protein intake for the poor and promised to ensure a Minimum Support Price (MSP) for pulses, calculated as per the Swaminathan Commission's formula. He further added, "In the Congress manifesto we address the problem of inflation, particularly in the case of pulses: 1.

Legal guarantee of MSP for pulses with price determined by Swaminathan Commission formula. This will promote domestic cultivation of pulses - as farmers will get access to market as well as fair and assured price. 2. By including pulses in PDS, the amount of protein in the food of the poor will increase and they can also be saved from inflation."

Headline inflation has gradually decreased from January 2024, ranging between 5.1% in February to 4.8% in April 2024.

Data from the NSO also shows that retail inflation was higher in rural areas at 5.28% compared to 4.15% in urban areas.

had promised to take two measures to In May, vegetable prices rose compared to the previous month, while fruit prices were lower. The government has instructed the Reserve Bank to keep CPI inflation around 4%, with a tolerance range of 2% in either direction.

Let's make India a knowledge powerhouse by 2047

THE clarion call for Atmanirbharta is for India to become a knowledge hub, discard the colonial mindset and move from a 'labour arbitrage' economy to a 'knowledge arbitrage' economy. Our destination is a 'knowledge powerhouse'.

For this, we have the potential, the size and the demographic dividend, and now the growing economic muscle. With the prospect of a sustained 8 per cent GDP growth and the newwave boost to 6G, chip design and chip manufacturing, new fuel, hydrogen and bio, wind and solar energy, a clutch of unicorns and startups—all have the potential to carve out a wave of environment-friendly and indigenous products. While 6G and chips will be strategic tools that would lead the digital revolution, it is also time to move away from just being a technology follower. It is time to rise to our potential and lead. We have to be a technology provider.

Corporates, both public and private, will need to invest with a mission-mode mindset. The greatest spinoff will be security, national and citizen; both add to make Comprehensive National Power.

Before that, a reality check. There are some critical sectors in the transition journey. As per the Global Knowledge Index report (2023) of the UNDP, our ranking among 133 countries in some critical areas is (the US's corresponding ranking is in brackets): Pre-university education, 96th (ninth); technical and vocational education and training, 110th (count), bisher adventing 106th (fourth). 119th (second); higher education, 106th (fourth); research & development and innovation, 54th (fifth); information and communication technology or ICT, 83rd (second).Innovation and development are the key. Innovation is a process of one idea building on another, resulting in a novel product, process or service, which is commercialised and put to practical use. Development is one step at a time in the realm of science and technology, striving to instil in future generations an innovative spirit. For this, there is a need to shed the 'rote' model to that of 'inquiry and innovation', which challenges the standard rote answer. Yes, 50+40 makes 90, but when a child says that the total is less than a hundred, he/she has given you an acceptable answer and more. Rote learning is the antithesis of innovation. The Garden City of Bengaluru is our Silicon Valley, nay Colony. We labour, others do a markup, aggregate our work, and we pay for the finished product. It was good for starters; it was good to showcase our skill to the world. It got a boost with Y2K; that era is well past its shelf life. Bengaluru is changing, but ever so slowly. It needs to hasten its pace and be one of a dozen knowledge hubs (Hyderabad, Pune, Chennai and many others) as we journey to 2047. Bengaluru needs to upgrade itself as the 'Chip Net Integration Capital' and lead the way to be the next-wave Silicon Hub. Constraints notwithstanding, we need to build a comprehensive and rewarding innovation system to harness the talent of our GenNext. We have it in abundance at every level. We need to find ways to tap it. Untapped genius is a national loss. GenNext awaits opportunities to be tapped. For when they get them, not just India, entire humanity will benefit. GenNext, wherever it may be, outside India or on MNC campuses within, has untiringly and repeatedly proven that its contribution is world-class. Don't rein it in; loosen the reins and empower it. Get rid of rote learning. How to think is more important than being told what to think. For the Knowledge Powerhouse Mission, five initiatives are essential. First, raise the quality of education. The National Education Policy (NEP) is a start, but its implementation is slow and it does not have the mechanism to learn and adapt. 'One size fits all' is not workable. NEP as a scaffolding is fine. That's it. It will enable pan-India student and labour mobility. Beyond that, states need to innovate to suit their needs and then execute plans. Second, reduce the bureaucratic control over science and technology to facilitate an environment of easy funding that challenges the status quo, encourages creativity and rewards innovation. Third, improve law enforcement to check IPR (intellectual property rights) pilferage and theft.

Our republic's future hinges on democratic education

The cultivation of the faculty of critical thinking is immensely important for democratic education.

AS a teacher/educator, I have always felt that there is something more to democracy than the ritualisation of periodic elections. Of course, these elections are important and we must reflect on the ever-changing nature of power equations, the formation of new political alliances and the questions relating to ideology, politics and governance. But then, amid this intense debate on whether Narendra Modi's popularity has somewhat eroded or whether Rahul Gandhi is emerging as a new icon in Indian politics, I experience the absence of what I would regard as the most important concern: Are our youngsters — the new generation that will shape the destiny of India — getting the kind of education that truly empowers them and makes them capable of sustaining, nurturing and living with the fundamental spirit of democracy?In order to find a meaningful answer to this important question, let me identify three fundamental features of democratic education, and then enquire whether the prevalent practice of education is in tune with this spirit. First, the capacity to engage in a meaningful dialogue is a distinctive feature of democratic education. After all, democracy is not the assertion of a monologue — even the monologue of our 'supreme leader'. Democracy is not the cult of majoritarianism, even if the mathematics of numbers tends to sanctify it. Instead, democracy means the acknowledgement of diverse, plural, subaltern and even conflicting perspectives. In other words, it requires the cultivated skill that sharpens the faculty of mindful observation, promotes the delicate art of listening, and encourages the elasticity of consciousness needed for expanding one's mental horizon, or becoming empathic to others. Although this sort of dialogue does not necessarily guarantee a consensus, it means humility, or the courage to change and amend one's position, if one is convinced by counter arguments. In fact, authoritarian masters all over the world demand 'certainty' or 'homogeneity'; they are afraid of differences, plurality and ambiguities. The subtlety of dialogic education, it has to be realised, is an antithesis of all sorts of authoritarianism. Second, the cultivation of the faculty of critical thinking is immensely important for democratic education. And critical thinking is not merely about solving a mathematics riddle or a physics numerical; it is essentially about the ability to pose new questions, see beyond the 'taken-for-granted' world, celebrate what Brazilian educationist Paulo Freire would have regarded as a 'problem-posing education', and interrogate, say, the normalisation of patriarchy, caste hierarchy, religious bigotry and heightened economic inequality. The question is whether we are really prepared to accept the spirit of critical pedagogy in our classrooms in order to create intellectually alert, active and awakened citizens not merely a set of 'toppers' or 'products' with fancy salary packages. Third, it is impossible to sow the seeds of active and participatory democracy without encouraging the kind of education that nurtures the ethic of care. As hyper-competitiveness is becoming the order of the day, we tend to worship aggressive, selfpossessive and narcissistic warriors compassionate citizens filled with the ethic of love, compassion and egalitarian/democratic living. It is sad that even the educational arena has begun to look like a battlefield — 'exam warriors' running neurotically after mythical 'success'! Can we learn a couple of lessons from the likes of Mahatma Gandhi, Martin Luther King Jr and American feminist pedagogue bell hooks, and initiate a movement to save education from the virus of the recklessly aggressive culture that keeps reproducing patriarchy, casteism and racism?

These three ideals indicate that a truly libertarian/democratic education ought to free itself from the discourses of neoliberal market fundamentalism as well as religious fundamentalism implicit in the ideology of hyper-nationalism. If we equate education solely with the acquisition of a set of technical skills the market demands; or, for that matter, if we think that the primary objective of education is to manufacture a brigade of hyper-masculine 'nationalists' intoxicated with the zeal to eradicate the cleverly constructed 'enemies' of the nation, we will end up negating the very purpose of a life-affirming and emancipatory education.

Well, these days, political pundits are continually debating and reflecting on the implications of the results of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections — the dialectic of the 'NDA vs INDIA' politics. But then, these debates miss what really matters — the realisation that unless the new generation evolves as truly alert and awakened citizens with the vibrancy of democratic education, the future of the republic will be in danger. In fact, if there is democratic education, the new generation will not remain content merely with the ritualistic act of casting their votes and choosing the 'lesser evil' every five years; nor will they transform their representatives into their 'masters' Instead, they will remain perpetually alert and active; and succeed in making their 'representatives' accountable. Yes, they will refuse to be just passive spectators of the dramaturgical performances of the political bosses; they will not be hypnotised by the propaganda machinery; they will come to the street and ask them many difficult questions — can India really become a vishwaguru, particularly when its rank on the Global Hunger Index is 111 out of 125 countries? Is the set of 'fundamental rights' our Constitution prescribes in tune with our lived experiences, and that too at a time when India's score on the World Press Freedom Index is far from satisfactory? Is there reason to be proud of the prevalent political culture when the latest report released by the Association for Democratic Reforms reveals that 251 of the 543 newly elected Lok Sabha MPs have criminal cases registered against them?

PM's team

Coalition considerations influence choices

Among the first-timers are three former chief ministers — Shivraj Singh Chouhan (Madhya Pradesh), Manohar Lal Khattar (Haryana) and

Kumaraswamy (Karnataka); Suresh Gopi, the BJP's first

Lok Sabha MP from Kerala, has also made the grade. Over 40 ministers are from Other Backward Classes (OBCs), Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes. This is significant in the light of the poll reversals suffered by the BJP in Uttar Pradesh. where the Samajwadi Party made major gains on the back of its outreach to the 'PDA' - Pichhra (backward), Dalit and Alpsankhyak (minorities). Maharashtra and Haryana, which go to the polls later this year, have a noticeable presence in the Council of Ministers. The induction of former Congress MP Ravneet Singh Bittu as a Minister of State shows that the BJP is keen on staging a revival in Punjab after its disastrous performance in the recent Lok Sabha polls. The party contested all 13 seats but drew a blank, with Bittu losing from Ludhiana. It is apparent that the BJP is looking to groom this relatively young leader with an eye on the 2027 Assembly elections. All in all, the BJP has performed a delicate balancing act.

How Modi 3.0 looks from South Asia

The region will hope the PM will move towards rapprochement with Pakistan and revival of SAARC

IN 2014, when Prime Minister Narendra Modi first took up office as the head of a National Democratic Alliance government in which the BJP had a majority of its own, South Asia saw promise in dealing with a strong leader in Delhi for the first time since 1989. Against the background of growing Chinese influence in the region, Modi's invitation to the SAARC leaders, including then Pakistan Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif, was hailed as a grand gesture of goodwill. South Asia saw in it a sign of new beginnings. Five years later, when Modi invited another group of leaders from the neighbourhood and beyond for the inauguration of his second innings, he had already stamped India and the region with his strongman style of leadership. He was at the peak of his political power, having achieved an even bigger victory on the nationalist wave following India's strike inside Pakistan after the Pulwama attack. And to the dismay of many smaller South Asian nations, Modi had dumped SAARC.On Sunday, as the leaders of five South Asian nations — Pakistan and Afghanistan were not invited – and two Indian Ocean countries, Mauritius and Seychelles, assembled at the Rashtrapati Bhavan forecourt at Modi's invitation to watch him being sworn in for a third term, they came fully aware that much had changed since he first took up office. In their own countries, China's influence has grown deeper roots, and their polities have undergone massive churns. And this time, it was almost as if a politically weak Modi needed their presence to bolster the signals being sent out from June 4 that nothing has changed in Delhi. They would, of course, have sized up the new arrangement for themselves, of what has changed and what remains.

But for the diverse people of a region that has seen — and seen off — its share of strongmen and who have held India's pluralism and its secular democracy in admiration, Modi's democratic downsizing is an inspiring moment. There was concern at the erosion of these values in India over the last 10 years and for the fallout on their own polities. They have greeted India's 2024 verdict with relief. Especially in countries struggling with the authoritarian creep of their own leaders, it has restored faith in India's democracy. Across South Asia, there is admiration for the Indian voter.

In Bangladesh, where five-time PM Sheikh Hasina won a fourth successive term in January in a controversial election marred by an Opposition boycott and a crackdown on dissent, Mahfuz Anam, the editor of The Daily Star, noted, somewhat wistfully, that in "Bangladesh... voters aspire for the same power".

In Sri Lanka, voters had used the ballot to send the authoritarian Mahinda Rajapaksa packing in 2015, only to bring him and his brother Gotabaya back in 2019. After helplessly watching them preside over the country's economic meltdown, Sri Lankans came out on the streets in 2022, and, in a dramatic show of people's power, unseated the Rajapaksa family. But they believe their efforts to bring about real change have been thwarted by the country's entrenched political elite, who have clawed back into positions of power after small rearrangements among themselves.

he Daily FT said the Sri Lankan people could "take heart from the election results in India, where voters have pushed back against powerful forces using the power of the ballot". It pointed to the communal malaise in its own polity and said, "the Mahinda/Gotabaya Rajapaksa brand of politics which brought Sinhala Buddhist supremacy to the fore and demonised ethnic and religious minorities is a replica of what the Modi government has been practising in India since taking power in 2014".In Pakistan, where the struggle for democracy is ranged not so much against politicians as the powerful army, Modi's seemingly unstoppable rise as a Hindu majoritarian leader was seen as mirroring Pakistan's own descent into the Mullah-military alliance. "Tum bilkul hum jaise nikley," a line from Pakistani poet Fahmida Riaz's eponymous poem, was often used to describe India's embrace of Hindutva in the last 10 years. In a country still smouldering from the twoyear-long internecine competition among political elites for the army's patronage and an election in February that resolved none of its problems, there is now surprise, if not admiration, that India's democracy is in the safe hands of its voters. Writing in Dawn, columnist Mahir Ali noted that "Indian voters have now indicated that they resent [the religious fundamentalism] formula in promised levels of employment and levelling up."

Sepal has had its own concerns about Hindutva, on aggressive display along its border in the states of Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand. Columnist Namrata Sharma, writing before the election in Rising Nepal, observed the 'unease' in the former Hindu kingdom at how a third-term BJP government in Delhi might impact Nepal's own hard-won secular republic with a Constitution that took several years to frame. She also flagged the presence of RSS leaders from India at protest demonstrations for a return to a Hindu monarchy.

After the Mohamed Muizzu government came to power in the Maldives against a background of resentment against New Delhi and 'India Out' protests, it has been hard for Indians to understand how a small country can stand up to the region's biggest country, that too, a generous one. But even Muizzu's openly Delhi-friendly predecessor, Ibrahim Solih, struggled to explain to voters in this Islamic republic the bigoted shenanigans of a hatemongering functionary of India's ruling party or the commandeering of locals by the Indian Embassy in Male for a yoga day event.

At a time when India is trying to push back on China's large footprint in these countries and in countries such as Seychelles and Mauritius in the wider Indian Ocean region, the BJP's willingness to throw under the bus its 'Neighbourhood First' diplomacy for its electoral gains has not helped. The blockading of Nepal just before the Bihar election of 2016, Amit Shah's description of Bangladeshi migrants as 'termites' in 2018, the PM's 'bheekh ka katora' jibes at Pakistan's economic woes and the gratuitous raking up of India's Katchatheevu agreement in this poll campaign speak of a reckless disregard in the top BJP leadership for how India is perceived by the people of the neighbourhood. Why has Shehbaz Sharif not congratulated Modi yet, some Indians ask, in response to why Modi left out the Pakistan Prime Minister for his inauguration. After taunts, Sharif would be risking the little credibility he has left from his tainted election victory to risk any outreach to the new government. India will need to make the first public move, but can a weak Modi do what a strong Modi could not, after singed hands in 2015?Still, South Asia will hope that Modi 3.0 will move towards a rapprochement with Pakistan and a revival of SAARC. After all, it was an NDA coalition government that made the big peace move in 1998 and 2003, which was taken forward by another coalition, this time the UPA, in 2004. South Asia will also hope that Modi 3.0 finds it less easy to denigrate neighbours, or use his social media clout to boss over them, or swing secret deals with their unpopular leaders for Delhi's favourite businessmen. It will hope for an Indian foreign policy that understands the people of the neighbourhood and their aspirations better.

इंटअमेरिकी अर्थशास्त्री की बड़ी चेतावनी, फूट सकता है शेयर बाजार का बुलबुला

92 प्रतिशत तक टूट सकता है नैस्डेक, एसएंडपी में 86 प्रतिशत गिरावट की आशंका

दिल्ली। अमेरिकी अर्थशास्त्री हैरी डेंट ने शेयर बाजार की स्थिति को लेकर बड़ी चेतावनी दी है। हैरी डेंट का कहना है कि शेयर बाजार आने वाले दिनों में भारी गिरावट का शिकार हो सकता है। उनके मुताबिक ये गिरावट 2008 की मंदी में आई गिरावट से भी अधिक भयानक हो सकती है। हालांकि ये चेतावनी अमेरिकी शेयर बाजार को लेकर दी गई है लेकिन अगर अमेरिकी बाजार में बड़ी गिरावट आती है तो भारतीय शेयर बाजार भी इससे काफी हद तक प्रभावित हो सकता है। अपनी एक रिपोर्ट में हैरी डेंट ने कहा है कि वैश्विक स्तर पर शेयर बाजार काफी ऊंचाई पर पहुंच गया है। ऐसी स्थिति में जल्दी ही शेयर बाजार के बुलबुले के फूटने की आशंका बन गई है।

उनके अनुसार किसी भी बाजार में तेजी का बुलबुला आमतौर पर 5 से

6 साल तक बना रहता है। उसके

बाद बाजार कंसोलिडेटेड करके वापस अपने सही स्थान पर पहुंच जाता है। लेकिन शेयर बाजार में पिछले 14 साल से तेजी का बुलबुला लगातार बना हुआ है, नैस्डेक में 92 प्रतिशत तक की

जिसके कारण जब भी मार्केट में कंसोलिडेशन शुरू होगा, तो इससे दुनिया भर के निवेशकों को भारी नुकसान का सामना करना पड़ेगा।

हैरी डेंट का दावा है कि शेयर बाजार में लगातार 14 साल से तेजी कायम रहने की सबसे बड़ी वजह अमेरिकी सरकार द्वारा कृत्रिम तरीके से आर्टिफिशियल इकोनॉमी को मजबूत करने के लिए की गई कोशिश नजर आ रही है।

ऐसी स्थिति में आर्टिफिशियल इकोनॉमी के बुलबुले का फटना लगभग तय है। अपनी रिपोर्ट में हैरी डेंट ने कहा है कि शेयर बाजार का बुलबुला फूटने पर 2007-08 के दौर से भी ज्यादा तेज गिरावट आ सकती है। उनके मुताबिक एसएंडपी 500 इंडेक्स अपने टॉप लेवल से 86 प्रतिशत तक गिर सकता है।

गिरावट आ सकती है। हैरी डेंट का कहना है कि अगले साल की शुरुआत में उस वक्त शेयर बाजार में इस गिरावट की शुरुआत हो सकती है, जब महंगाई को परी तरह से काब में लाने के लिए अमेरिकी फेडरल रिजर्व अपनी मॉनेटरी पॉलिसी को सख्त करेगा। शेयर बाजार की इस गिरावट में हाउसिंग सेक्टर की सबसे बड़ी भिमका होने की आशंका भी हैरी डेंट ने जताई है।

दरअसल, दुनिया भर के ज्यादातर शेयर बाजार अमेरिकी शेयर बाजार के ट्रेंड को फॉलो करते हैं। ऐसी स्थिति में अगर अमेरिकी शेयर बाजार में गिरावट आती है तो भारतीय शेयर बाजार भी काफी हद तक इससे प्रभावित हो सकता है। हालांकि अभी तत्काल भारतीय बाजार में किसी बडी गिरावट की आशंका नजर नहीं आ रही है।

उतार चढ़ाव के बीच मजबूती के साथ बंद हुआ बाजार,

निफ्टी ने बनाया मजबूती का नया रिकॉर्ड

एप्पल ने माइक्रोसॉफ्ट से छीना दुनिया की सबसे मूल्यवान कंपनी का तमगा, 2फीसदी से अधिक बढ़े शेयर

नई दिल्ली। एपल ने माइक्रोसॉफ्ट को पीछे छोड़ते हुए दुनिया की सबसे मूल्यवान कंपनी का स्थान फिर से हासिल कर लिया। एपल के शेयर दो फीसदी से अधिक बढ़कर 211.75 डॉलर हो गए। जिससे इसका बाजार

मुल्यांकन 3.25 ट्रिलियन डॉलर हो गया। इसकी तुलना में माइक्रोसॉफ्ट का बाजार पूंजीकरण 3.24 ट्रिलियन डॉलर तक गिर गया, जिससे यह पांच महीने में पहली बार एपल से पीछे हो गई। एपल के स्टॉक में उछाल तब आया है, जब नैस्डैक ने

मुद्रास्फीति कम होने के ताजा संकेतों के कारण रिकॉर्ड ऊंचाई को छ लिया। अपने उपकरणों के लिए एआई-इनेबल्ड सुविधाओं की एख सीरीज का अनावरण करने के एक दिन बाद एपल के शेयरों में पिछले सत्र में सात फीसदी की वृद्धि हुई थी। कई विश्लेषकों का मानना है कि इससे आईफोन की बिक्री को बढ़ावा मिलेगा।

दूरसंचार उद्योग के मुद्दों पर नई सरकार के लिए सीओएआई की सिफारिशें

एजेंसी नईअदिल्ली । इंटरनेट. टेक्नोलॉजी और डिजिटल सेवा क्षेत्र की कंपनियों का प्रतिनिधित्व करने वाले शीर्ष उद्योग संगठन सेलुलर ऑपरेटर्स एसोसिएशन ऑफ इंडिया (सीओएआई) ने आज कहा कि प्रधानमंत्री नरेंद्र मोदी के नेतृत्व में नई सरकार के साथ भारत एक और महत्वपूर्ण युग में प्रवेश कर रहा है, हम अगले पाँच वर्षों में दूरसंचार उद्योग के लिए नए विकास और नीतिगत विचारों को लेकर उत्पाहित हैं। सीओएआई के महानिदेशक लेफ्टिनेंट जनरल डॉ. एस.पी. कोचर ने यहां जारी बयान में नयी सरकार के लिए अपनी सिफारिशें रखते हुये कहा पिछले दशक में, हमने देखा कि कैसे भारत 2027 तक एक संपन्न डिजिटल अर्थव्यवस्था बनने के लिए कदम बढ़ा रहा है। चल रही और आने वाली 5जी प्रगति के साथ-साथ आशाजनक 6जी नवाचारों के साथ, भारत में दूरसंचार उद्योग इस परिवर्तन को आगे बढाने के लिए तैयार है। जैसे-जैसे भारत के लिए नया अध्याय सामने आ रहा है, यहाँ उन सर्वोच्च प्राथमिकताओं की एक झलक दी गई है, जिन्हें हम चाहते हैं कि सरकार उद्योग को अपने लक्ष्यों को प्राप्त करने में मदद करने के लिए संबोधित करे।

उन्होंने कहा कि भारत में 5जी नेटवर्क, विशेष रूप से मोबिलिटी सेवाओं (आईएमटी) का विस्तार करने के लिए 6 गिगाहर्ट्ज मिड-बैंड स्पेक्ट्रम की उपलब्धता महत्वपूर्ण है। दुर्भाग्य से पिछली स्पेक्ट्रम नीलामी में

हमें केवल 800 मेगाहर्ट्ज ही मिल पाए थे. इसलिए आवश्यकता को परा करने के लिए हमें 6 गीगाहर्ट्ज रेंज से 1200 मेगाहर्ट्ज प्राप्त[े]करने की

आवश्यकता है। जीएसएमए की एक हालिया रिपोर्ट में कहा गया है कि भारत 6 गीगाहर्ट्ज स्पेक्ट्रम के उपयोग के माध्यम से 5जी नेटवर्क परिनियोजन में सालाना 10 अरब डॉलर तक की बचत कर सकता है। पिछले कुछ वर्षों में, भारत ने भारत 6जी एलायंस और भारत 6जी विजन जैसी पहलों के माध्यम से 6जी नवाचारों में बड़ी छलांग लगाई है, जो भारत को 6जी नवाचारों और परियोजन में अग्रणी बनाने की परिकल्पना करते हैं। इस मिशन को प्राप्त करने के लिए, उद्योग को बड़े पैमाने पर स्पेक्ट्रम संसाधनों की आवश्यकता है जो 6जी द्वारा आवश्यक उच्च क्षमता प्रदान कर सकें। उन्होंने इसके मद्देनजर सरकार से 6जी के लिए 6 गीगाहर्ट्ज संसाधनों की रणनीतिक योजना बनाने का आग्रह करते हये कहा कि जून के अंत तक 5जी के लिए प्रत्याशित स्पेक्ट्रम नीलामी के साथ, हम सरकार से स्पेक्ट्रम मूल्य निर्धारण और संबंधित राजस्व चिंताओं के बारे में उद्योग के लंबे

समय से चल रहे मुद्दों को संबोधित

करने का अनुरोध करते हैं। 4जी/5जी रोलआउट के लिए भारी निवेश करने के बावजूद, भारत में टेलीकॉम सेवा प्रदाता अभी भी दुनिया में सबसे कम कीमत पर अपनी सेवायें दे रहे हैं। उन्होंने भारत में टीएसपी नियामक प्राधिकरणों से एक फेयर शेयर डेटा नेटवर्क उपयोग नीति लाग् करने का अनुरोध किया है जिसमें बड़े ट्रैफ़िक जेनरेटर (एलटीजी) अपने राजस्व का एक हिस्सा टीएसपी को देते हैं जो उनकी डेटा आवश्यकताओं के लिए संपूर्ण बुनियादी ढांचा प्रदान करते हैं। दुरसंचार नेटवर्क पर डेटा में तेजी से वृद्धि ने दूरसंचार नेटवर्क पर जबरदस्त दबाव डाला है, जिससे गंभीर क्यूओएस मुद्दे सामने आए हैं, जिससे टीएसपी के ग्राहक अनुभव पर भारी असर पडा है।

हनुमान चालीसा की इन 5 चौपाइयों में है दिव्य शक्ति

हनुमानजी की स्तुति हनुमान चालीसा से हम सभी परिचित हैं। हनुमान चालीसा की रचना गोस्वामी तुलसीदास जी ने की थी। हिंदू धर्म ग्रंथों में उन्नेखित है कि बाल्यकाल में जब हनुमानजी ने सूर्य को मुंह में रख लिया तब सूर्य को मुक्त कराने के लिए देवराज इंद्र ने हनुमानजी पर शरूत्र से प्रहार किया। इसके बाद हनुमान जी मूर्छित हो गए। हनुमानजी के मूर्छित हो ने की बात जब वायु देव को पता चली तो काफी नाराज हुए। लेकिन जब सभी देवताओं को पता चला कि हनुमानजी भगवान शिव के रुद्र अवतार हैं, तब सभी देवताओं ने हनुमानजी को कई शक्तियां दीं। देवताओं ने जिन मंत्रों और हनुमानजी की विशेषताओं को बताते हुए उन्हें शक्ति प्रदान की थी, उन्हीं मंत्रों के सार को गोस्वामी तुलसीदास ने हनुमान चालीसा में विशित किया है।

हनुमान चालीसा में मंत्र नहीं हैं लेकिन हनुमानजी की पराऋम की विशेषताएं बताई गईं हैं। हनुमान चालीसा में ही ऐसी 5 चौपाईयां हैं, जिनका यदि नियमित सच्चे मन से वाचन किया जाए तो यह परम फलदायी सिद्ध होती हैं। हनुमान चालीसा का वाचन मंगलवार या शनिवार करना शुभ होता है। ध्यान रखें हनुमान चालीसा की इन चौपाइयों को पढ़ते समय उच्चारण की त्रदि न करें।

मालवा की वैष्णो देवी नीमच की भादवा माता

आज हम आपको एक ऐसे शक्तिपीट के बारे में बताने जा रहे हैं, जिनके बारे में कहा जाता है कि उनकी कपा से शहर में कोई भखा नहीं सोता। किसी के पास पैसे की तंगी नहीं रहती है। लोक कथाओं के अनुसार, हरसिद्धि मंदिर में उज्जैन के राजा रहे विक्रमादित्य की आराध्य देवी का वास है । शिवपुराण के अनुसार दक्ष प्रजापति के हवन कुंड में माता के सती हो जाने के बाद भगवान भोलेनाथ सती को उठाकर ब्रह्मांड में ले गए थे। इस दौरान माता सती के अंग जिन स्थानों पर गिरे, वहां शक्तिपीठ स्थापित हो गए। कहा जाता है इस स्थान पर माता के दाहिने हाथ की कोहनी गिरी थी और इसी कारण से यह स्थान भी एक शक्तिपीठ बन गया है। स्कंद पुराण के अनुसार, देवी को चंड एवं मुंड नामक राक्षस के वध के लिए भगवान शिव से सिद्धि मिली थी, इसीलिए वह हरसिद्धि कहलाई । गर्भगृह में एक शिला पर श्रीयंत्र उत्कीर्ण है, जो शक्ति का प्रतीक है। यहां माता लक्ष्मी, महासर स्वती के साथ ही अन्नपूर्णा माता विराजमान हैं । यह स्थान

उज्जैन के प्राचीन देवी स्थानों में अपना विशेष महत्व रखता है। वर्तमान में मंदिर के पुनर्निर्माण का श्रेय मराठों को जाता है। मंदिर के सामने मराठा वास्तुकला के अनुसार दीप स्तंभ स्थापित किए गए हैं, जिनमें 1001 दिये बने हुए हैं। दक्षिण में बनी एक बावड़ी पर 1447 संवत का एक शिलालेख भी उत्कीर्ण है। मंदिर के मुख्य पुजारी पंडित शेषनारायण गोस्वामी ने बताया कि गर्भगृह में सबसे ऊपर विराजमान हैं मां अन्नपूर्णा, जिनकी वजह से उज्जैनी में हमेशा भंडारे चलते रहते हैं। कहा जाता है कि उनकी कृपा से उज्जैन में कोई भूखा नहीं सोता है। बीच में मां लक्ष्मी के स्वरूप में है, जिनकी वजह से किसी को भी लक्ष्मी की कमी नहीं आती। सबसे नीचे विराजित हैं महाकाली।

दुनिया के बड़े धर्मों की नजर में क्या है शुभ-अशुभ

शुभ और अशुभ व पुण्य और पाप की समस्या कर्म – फल–सिध्दांत पर आधारित हैं। जीव यदि अशुभ कर्मों की ओर प्रेरित होता है तो इसके पीछे उसकी अल्पज्ञता, अज्ञान होता है। संसार का हर धर्म शुभ–अशुभ और पाप–पुण्य के इर्द–गिर्द घूमता रहता है। ईसाई धर्म में ईश – चिंतन के संदर्भ में उक्त विचारधारा प्राप्त होती है। ईश्वर परम शुभ है। अत: उस पर पाप या अशुभ का आरोपण नहीं किया जा सकता। बाइबिल में काम – वासना को पाप या अशुभ की संज्ञा दी गई है और उसका शैतान कहा गया है। ईसाई नीतिशास्त्र में पाप या अशुभ पर विचार करते हुए कितपय महत्वपूर्ण प्रश्न उठाए गए हैं। इस संसार का निर्माण परमेश्वर ने किया, किन्तु संसार में सर्वत्र पाप ही पाप है। यदि ईश्वर ने सृष्टि की रचना की और ईश्वर शुभ और सर्वशक्तिमान है तो सृष्टि में शुभ ही शुभ होना चाहिए। ईसाई धर्म के अनुसार ईश्वर ने मनुष्य को कर्म की स्वतंत्रता प्रदान की है। अत- अच्छे-बुरे या पाप-कर्म और पुण्य कर्म का चयन मनुष्य स्वयं करता है। यदि हम हिन्दू धर्म की मान्यताओं के अनुसार विचार करें तो सगुण ईश्वर का अवतार अशुभ के विनाश के लिए ही होता है। जैसा कि गीता में श्रीकृष्ण कहते हैं जब-जम अधर्म का विस्तार होता है मैं धर्म की स्थापना के लिए अवतार ग्रहण करता हूं। बाइबिल में ईसा मसीह को पुत्रेश्वर कहा गया है। परमेश्वर के पुत्र के रूप में ईसा मसीह संसार के पापों को दूर करने के लिये-ही धरती

विघ्नहर्ता विनायक भगवान गणेश की पूजा यदि सच्चे मन से की जाए तो हर समस्या का समाधान संभव है। बुधवार भगवान गणेश का दिन होता है। बुधवार को गणेश की पूजा करें तो संतान, शिक्षा और भाग्य समृद्ध होता है। गणपति की उपासना से कुंडली के अशुभ योग भी खत्म हो जाते हैं। इसीलिए कलयुग में उन्हें विघ्नविनाशक के रूप में पूजा जाता है। श्रीगणेश जी की बुधवार को पूजा करने का विधान हमारे धर्मगुंथों में मौजुद है।

जैन मुनि को यह कार्य करवाना है अनिवार्य

हाल ही में गुजरात 12वीं बोर्ड में 99.99 प्रतिशत हासिल करने वाले वर्शिल शाह जैन, जैन संत बन गए हैं। वर्शिल महज 17 साल के हैं और गुजरात के ही पालड़ी के रहने वाले हैं। दर्शिल अब जैन मुनि सुवीर्य रब विजयजी महाराज के नाम से जाने जाएंगे। पिछले वर्षों में गौर किया जाए तो युवाओं द्वारा संन्यास लेने की सिलसिला काफी बड़ा है। जैन धर्म के अनुयायियों के लिए भले ही यह पूरा घटनाऋम सकारात्मक हो, लेकिन जैन धर्म के इतिहास पर नजर डालें तो पाएंगे कि जैन धर्म में संन्यास लेने वाले अनुयायी को मुनि की उपाधि दी जाती है। संन्यास लेने के बाद जैन मुनि को निर्ग्रन्थ भी कहा जाता है। मुनि शब्द पुरुषों के लिए तो आर्यिका शब्द स्त्री संन्यासियों को संबोधित किया जाता है। प्रत्येक जैन मुनि को केश—लोच करना अनिवार्य होता है।

तो क्या इतना प्राचीन है जैन धर्म

जैन धर्म ग्रंथों के अनुसार यह धर्म अनादि और सनातन है। यदि आर्यों के भारत आने के बाद से भी देखा जाये तो ऋभदेव और अरिष्टनेमि को लेकर जैन धर्म की परंपरा वेदों तक पहुंचती है। पुराणों में वर्णित है महाभारत के युद्ध के समय इस संप्रदाय के प्रमुख नेमिनाथ थे, जो जैन धर्म में मान्य तीर्थंकर हैं। आठवीं सदी में 23वें तीर्थंकर पार्श्वनाथ हुए, जिनका जन्म काशी में हुआ था। काशी के पास ही 11वें तीर्थंकर श्रेयांसनाथ का जन्म हुआ था। इन्हीं के नाम पर सारनाथ का नाम प्रचलित है। जैन धर्म में श्रमण संप्रदाय का पहला संगठन पार्श्वनाथ ने किया था। ये श्रमण वैदिक परंपरा के विरुद्ध थे। महावीर तथा बुद्ध के काल में ये श्रमण कुछ बौद्ध तथा कुछ जैन हो गए थे। इन दोनों ने अलग–अलग अपनी शाखाएं बना लीं। भगवान महावीर जैन धर्म के 24वें तीर्थंकर थे, जिनका जन्म लगभग ई.पू. 599 में हुआ और जिन्होंने 72 वर्ष की आयु में देहत्यागी। महावीर स्वामी ने शरीर त्यागने से पहले जैन धर्म की नींव काफी मजबूत कर दी थी। अहिंसा को उन्होंने जैन धर्म में अच्छी तरह स्थापित कर दिया था। सांसारिकता पर विजयी होने के कारण वे जिन (जयी) कहलाए। उन्हीं के समय से इस संप्रदाय का नाम जैन हो गया।

आपभी भगवान को फूल चढ़ाते हैं, जानें पाप कमा रहे हैं या पुण्य

राजा राम मोहन राय के बगीचे में बड़े ही सुंदर फूलों के पेड़ लगे थे। एक व्यक्ति था जो हर रोज वहां आता और उनसे पूछे बिना ही पूजा के लिए फूल तोड़ कर ले जाता। यह सिलसिला लगातार कई दिनों तक चलता रहा। रोज की तरह ही एक दिन उस व्यक्ति ने फूल तोड़ने के लिए अपनी चादर उतारी और पेड़ पर लटका कर फूल तोड़ने लगा। उसी समय राजा राम मोहन राय के आदेशानुसार एक सेवक ने उस व्यक्ति की वह चादर उठा ली और राजा राम मोहन राय को दे टी।

फूल तोड़ने के बाद जब वह व्यक्ति अपनी चादर लेने के लिए उस पेड़ के पास गया, जहां उसने उसे लटकाई थी, तो वहां चादर न देख वह हैरान रह गया और सोचने लगा कि आखिर उसकी चादर गई कहां ? वह गुस्से से आग–बबूला हो गया। कुछ देर बाद राजा राम मोहन राय आए और उन्होंने उस व्यक्ति को उसकी चादर लौटाते हुए कहा, 'अब तो खुश हैं आप, आपको आपकी चादर वापस मिल

उस व्यक्ति ने गुस्से में ही जवाब दिया, खुश? इसमें खुश होने वाली कौन– सी बात है, मुझे अपनी ही वस्तु मिली है।''

राजा राम मोहन राय ने उस व्यक्ति से पूछा, आप रोज फूल तोड़कर कहां ले

उस व्यक्ति ने जवाब दिया, मैं ये फूल तोड़कर मंदिर में ले जाता हूं । भगवान को खुश करने के लिए उनको ये फूल अर्पित करता हूं ।

राजा राम मोहन राय ने उस व्यक्ति का यह जवाब सुनकर कहा, पहली बात तो यह कि आप बिना पूछे ही फूल तोड़कर ले जाते हैं। चलो कोई बात नहीं, लेकिन आप भगवान की दी हुई वस्तु भगवान को अर्पित करते हैं, तो इससे

उस व्यक्ति ने कहा, क्यों नहीं, भगवान को फूल ही तो पसंद हैं, भगवान को फुलों से खुशी मिलती है।

भगवान खुश होते हैं क्या?

राजा राम मोहन राय ने उस व्यक्ति से कहा, तो आपको चादर मिलने पर खुशी क्यों नहीं हुई?

राजा राम मोहन राय की यह बात सुनकर वह व्यक्ति सोच में पड़ गया और राजा राम मोहन राय बिना कुछ और कहे लौट गए।

T20 World Cup: Dismantling of New York venue starts after India-USA clash

New Delhi. The dismantling of the Nassau County International Cricket Stadium in New York has started after Wednesday's clash between India and the United States (USA). It served as a temporary venue only for the Men's T20 World Cup 2024. Back in September 2023, the International Cricket Council (ICC) finalised the venue for the mega event. Given the short timespan, the apex cricket board opted for drop-in pitches that were prepared by Adelaide Turf International in Adelaide. In December 2023, the trays were taken to Florida due to the warmer conditions compared to New York. At the end of April, the pitches were moved to New York for being used.

New York giving batters nightmares

On June 12, after India beat the USA by 7 wickets, the purpose of the venue in New York ended and hence, the dismantling began. The pitch in New York was not batting-friendly by any means due to indifferent bounce that helped bowlers to a

India recorded the highest-successful runchase at the venue after chasing down 111 with 10 balls left in their innings. The venue came under scrutiny when Sri Lanka were bowled out for 77, after which the South African batters also found the going extremely tough.Pakistan failed to chase down a target of 120 after Jasprit Bumrah rattled them. The other day, Najmul Hossain Shanto's Bangladesh could not chase down 114 in New York. After India's win over the USA, Rohit Sharma admitted that batters found it extremely tough to get going in New York. "Being in the Super Eight is a big relief playing cricket here wasn't easy (as) it could have been anyone's game. We had to stick through till the end in all three games. We will take a lot of confidence from these wins," Rohit said.

Arshdeep Singh is like Jasprit Bumrah: Sunil Gavaskar backs pacer to play Tests soon

New Delhi. India pacer Arshdep Singh won the Player of the Match award vs USA in the T20 World Cup 2024. Playing the third match of the tournament, Arshdeep, who had played second fiddle to Jasprit Bumrah till this time, took matters into his own hands and produced a superb spell of 4/9 on Wednesday, 12 June. Former India batter Sunil Gavaskar heaped praise on Arshdeep and backed the seamer to play in the Test format soon. Speaking on Star Sports after USA vs India, Gavaskar said that Arshdeep's ability to swing the ball both ways was similar to Jasprit Bumrah and that the seamer should be considered for Test cricket soon.

"He looked to bowl at hard lengths, looking to get the ball into the right-hander, and a little away for the left-handers. That's been his strength, to be able to get both those deliveries on the spot and he wasn't looking to bowl too many yorkers today, he was looking to bowl the hard lengths. And his temperament is fantastic," Gavaskar said on Star Sports after the match on Wednesday. Arshdeep picked two wickets in his first spell and two wickets in his second spell at the Nassau County Stadium in New York and helped India restrict the co-hosts to just 110 runs. Arshdeep's economical spell turned out to be crucial for Rohit Sharma's team as batting became extremely difficult during the chase.

Arshdeep can be very good bowler in red-ball cricket: Gavaskar "I do believe that he, like, Bumrah can be a very, very good bowler in red-ball cricket as well. Because if he can move the white ball so well, just imagine what he can do with the red ball. So I think the selection committee would do very well to look at him as an option for the red-ball game as well," concluded Gavaskar. India pacers have done well in the New York leg of the tournament. In the first two matches for India, Jasprit Bumrah earned the POTM, and now it was the turn of Arshdeep Singh to shine.

New Delhi. Arshdeep Singh said that facing the Pakistan bowlers helped him gain confidence as far as his batting skills are concerned. The youngster played a critical role in the T20 World Cup 2024 game after he scored 9 runs off 13 balls with a four, helping India post a challenging target of 120 on a difficult pitch to bat on at the Nassau County International Cricket Stadium in New York.

Arshdeep had a stupendous day with the ball against the USA after he won the Player of the Match award. He finished with figures of 4-0-9-4 as India restricted their opponents to 110 for 8. The Black Caps, on the other hand, kept languishing at the bottom of the table and are on the verge of getting knocked out. For them to stay alive, Uganda have to beat Afghanistan on June 15.

After being asked to bat first, West Indies found themselves in dire straits. With their score at 23 for 4 in the powerplay, the co-hosts looked hapless, to say the least. Nicholas Pooran threw his bat around to score 17 runs off 12 balls and was the only batter to pose a threat to the Kiwi bowlers in the first 6 overs. Pooran also went past Chris Gayle to become the leading runscorer for the Caribbean in T20Is.

T20 World Cup 2024: New York leg over, batters breathe a sigh of relief

New Delhi. The New York leg of the T20 World Cup 2024 concluded with India's comprehensive seven-wicket victory over the USA, much to the relief of batters who struggled on the challenging pitch at Nassau County International Cricket Stadium. The last group match began with an "lbw" for a 'golden duck," worsened before improving slightly, and ended as expected for the United States cricket team, losing to India after another low-scoring match. The Americans entered Wednesday's match riding high after defeating Pakistan in their previous game.

However, India demonstrated its depth and ensured it did not become another upset victim and chased down the highest total at Nassau County International Cricket Stadium to reach the Super 8 stage. After the match, India captain Rohit Sharma admitted that playing in New York was not the easiest of tasks. "It is a big relief, playing cricket here wasn't easy. We had to stick through till the end in all 3 games. Will take a lot of confidence from these wins," Rohit Sharma said. The drop-in surfaces at Nassau County Stadium played inconsistently across the eight games held there, with balls from the same length either rearing up or skidding through to the keeper unpredictably. Nassau County's pitch was notorious for its unpredictable behaviour, which kept batsmen and bowlers guessing. Leading up to the match, pundits and players speculated on how the pitch would perform, with past encounters offering little clarity on its temperament. As the tournament went on, the Nassau County pitch developed a reputation for lowscoring encounters filled with dramatic twists and turns. Previous matches at the venue saw teams grappling with erratic bounce, uneven surfaces, and challenging conditions that tested their resilience and adaptability. PACKED SCHEDULEOver 10 days, from June 3 to June 12, New York hosted eight out of the 16 matches allotted to the USA leg of the World Cup. The schedule was particularly gruelling towards the end, with six matches, including the highly anticipated India-Pakistan clash on June 9, played on consecutive days. Such a packed schedule is unprecedented in ICC event history. The pitch at Nassau County International Cricket Stadium, criticised for its difficulty, consistently produced lowscoring matches. The surface favoured pace bowlers significantly, offering considerable seam movement. Additionally, the stadium's expansive boundaries further compounded the challenges for batters, turning the venue into a pacer's paradise.

How Hit Man Stars Glen Powell And Adria Arjona Planned Their Steamy Sex Scenes

Thile it may look very creative, sensual and beautifully done on the screen to us, sex scenes in films aren't always easy to shoot. Though one may assume that it might have been shot like any other scene with a set of instructions given to the actors, the reality is slightly different. In fact, the sex scenes require a lot more coordination, creativity and planning for their seamless execution. Actors Glen Powell and Adria Arjona recently shared some interesting behind-the-scenes details of their work, especially regarding their physically intimate scenes, for the film Hit Man. While preparing for these scenes can be a complex process for most actors, Powell and Arjona took a unique approach to it.ccording to Variety, the duo and their director used Pinterest to help plan the steamy bits of the film. To execute their intimate scenes, Arjona proposed the idea of creating a Pinterest board for Powell and the film's director. On this board, they could share images from their favourite movies and art to get a sense of each other's tastes."Everyone finds different things sensual," Arjona explained. "It was interesting to see both of our perspectives, hone in and start molding it from that sense. It sparked conversations that you wouldn't normally have, because we were in the process of creating it."Even Glen Powell found this approach beneficial too. "So often, sex scenes feel almost divorced from the movie, like a marketing play or it feels icky. In this movie, those scenes are crucial in the changing and seizing of identity. You have to see a guy who sees the world in such a binary, stale place checking logic at the door and becoming a whole new person. This romantic relationship is really expediting it. It's the catalyst for everything," he told Variety."It was beautiful and intentional. It didn't feel like we were just doing sex scenes just to do sex scenes; it came from a creative place," added Adria got very, very, very thin for that show because my character is a Jewish woman passing as an Aryan woman. But at the beginning of the war, they're living off rations. And then the access to food is so limited... We're not actually going through the Holocaust; we're portraying a family that is. At the end of the day, we should feel uncomfortable when doing these scenes that require such heavy emotion..." she explained.
