Johnson & Johnson to pay $15 million to man who blamed baby powder for cancer

Connecticut. Johnson & Johnson (J&J) must pay $15 million to a Connecticut man who alleges that he developed mesothelioma, a rare form of cancer, as a result of using the company's talc powder for decades, a jury found on Tuesday.Plaintiff Evan Plotkin sued the company in 2021 soon after his diagnosis, saying he was sickened by inhaling J&J's baby powder. The jury in Fairfield County, Connecticut Superior Court also found that the company should pay additional punitive damages, which will be determined later by the judge overseeing the case. Evan Plotkin and his trial team are thrilled that a jury once again decided to hold Johnson & Johnson accountable for their marketing and sale of a baby powder product that they knew contained asbestos," Ben Braly, a lawyer for Plotkin, said in an email. Erik Haas, J&J's worldwide vice president of litigation, said in a statement that the company would appeal "erroneous" rulings by the trial judge that kept the jury from hearing critical facts about the case. "Those facts show that the verdict is irreconcilable with the decades of independent scientific evaluations confirming talc is safe, does not contain asbestos and does not cause cancer," Haas said. Tuesday's verdict comes as J&J seeks to resolve claims by more than 62,000 people who say that they got ovarian and other gynaecological cancers from talc through a nearly $9 billion settlement in bankruptcy. The bankruptcy deal, which faces legal challenges from some plaintiffs' lawyers, has put the lawsuits over gynaecological cancers on hold, but does not affect the much smaller number of mesothelioma claims like Plotkin's. The company has previously settled some of previously settled some of those claims but has not proposed a nationwide settlement. Plaintiffs in all of the lawsuits say that J&J's talc products, like its once iconic baby powder, were tainted with asbestos, a carcinogen known to cause mesothelioma and other cancers.

Reacting to the fresh development, DP Singh who lives in Mohali has sent his children to Canada he is apprehensive that this deteriorating relationship should not have a negative effect on the permanent residency and citizenship of the children. " After spending so much the children have gone to Canada for higher studies and once they complete their studies they look to settle down there, but this present diplomatic row should not become hindrance in their permanent residency and afterwards citizenship," he says.

Canada-Another parent Jaswant Singh whose son and daughter are studying in Canada, says that the day by day the Canadian Government is tightening the grip on intentional students as they have changed the rules and regulations and not only that the students will now face more difficulties in getting permanent residency (PR) and thus they fear they might be deported back and students will then be forced to apply for refugee status.

US warns Israel to boost humanitarian aid into Gaza or risk losing weapons funding

WASHINGTON. The Biden administration has warned Israel that it must increase the amount of humanitarian aid it is allowing into Gaza within the next 30 days or it could risk losing access to U.S. weapons funding.

Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin warned their Israeli counterparts in a letter dated Sunday that the changes must occur.

The letter, which restates U.S. policy toward humanitarian aid and arms transfers, was sent amid deteriorating conditions in northern Gaza and an Israeli airstrike on a hospital tent site in central Gaza that killed at least four people and burned others. A similar letter that Blinken sent to Israeli officials in April led to more humanitarian assistance getting to the Palestinian territory, State Department spokesman Matthew Miller said Tuesday. But that has not lasted."In fact, it's fallen by over 50% from where it was at its peak," Miller said at a briefing. Blinken and Austin "thought it was appropriate to make clear to the government of Israel that there are changes that they need to make again, to see that the level of assistance making it into Gaza comes back up from the very, very low levels that it is at today."For Israel to continue qualifying for foreign military financing, the level of aid getting into Gaza must increase to at least 350 trucks a day, Israel must institute additional humanitarian pauses and provide increased security for humanitarian sites, Austin and Blinken said in their letter. They said Israel had 30 days to respond to the requirements."The letter was not meant as a threat," White House national security spokesman John Kirby told reporters. "The letter was simply meant to reiterate the sense of urgency we feel and the seriousness with which we feel it, about the need for an increase, a dramatic increase in humanitarian assistance."An Israeli official confirmed a letter had been delivered but did not discuss the contents. That official, speaking on condition of anonymity to discuss a diplomatic matter, confirmed the U.S. had raised "humanitarian concerns" and was putting pressure on Israel to speed up the flow of aid

Imran Khan isolated in dark cell, no calls to sons, jail cook on leave: Ex-wife

World Jemima Goldsmith, the former wife of Pakistan's jailed ex-Prime Minister Imran Khan, has levelled some serious allegations against the Shehbaz Sharif-led government. She claimed that her former husband was being kept in solitary confinement with authorities cutting off the electricity supply in his jail cell and was no longer allowed to make weekly calls to his sons.

Goldsmith's allegations come as the Pakistan government is hosting the ongoing two-day SCO Summit in Islamabad, which has drawn top leaders from member states, including External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, and turned the capital city into a fortress. In the days leading to the summit, authorities also arrested hundreds of Imran Khan's supporters who attempted to march in Islamabad, demanding his release. In a social media post on Tuesday, Goldsmith, who was married to Imran Khan from 1995 to 2004, alleged that the Pakistani authorities have postponed all court hearings and also completely stopped visits by the former Prime Minister's friends and family. Khan is presently lodged at the Adilala Jail in Rawalpindi, following his arrest on August 5, 2023.

In addition to cutting off in-person visits, and in defiance of a court order, his weekly calls to his sons, Sulaiman and Kasim Khan, who are British and who live in London, were stopped on September 10," she said, while referring to the couple's two sons.

"We have received reports that the authorities have now turned off the lights and electricity in his cell and he is no longer allowed to leave his cell at any time. The jail cook has been sent on leave. He is now completely isolated, in solitary confinement, literally in the dark, with no contact with the outside world. His lawyers are concerned about his safety and well-being."

Goldsmith further alleged that the Pakistan government was not only mistreating Imran Khan, but also other members of his family in an "attempt to silence them and all political opposition"."Imran's nephew, Hassan Niazi, a civilian, has been detained in military custody since August 2023. More recently, Imran Khan's sisters, Uzma and Aleema Khan, who have continued to speak out on his behalf, have also been arrested as they made their way peacefully to a demonstration, and they are currently being held in jail, despite there being no proper or lawful basis for their imprisonment," she said, while calling for all of their release.Imran Khan, 72, served as Prime Minister from 2018 to 2022, when he was ousted in a parliamentary no-confidence vote after falling out with the powerful military establishment considered Pakistan's political kingmakers.

External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar addressed the 23rd Meeting of SCO Council of Heads of Government, in Islamabad, with a video surfacing online. He said, "If activities across borders are characterised by terrorism, extremism and separatism, they are hardly likely to encourage trade, energy flows, connectivity and peopleto-people exchanges."He also raised the issue of violation of Indian sovereignty because of the ChinaPakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) project."Cooperation must be based on mutual respect and sovereign equality. It should recognise territorial integrity and sovereignty. It must be built on genuine partnerships, not unilateral agendas. It cannot progress if we cherry-pick global practices, especially in trade and transit," he said. He reiterated the need to make the UN Security Council more "inclusive, representative, transparent, efficient, democratic and accountable". The session also featured the signing of several documents, after which Pakistan's Deputy Prime Minister Ishaq Dar and SCO Secretary General

Canadian Sikh MP wants sanctions on Indian diplomats, gets mocked by journalists

Singh, a former ally of Prime Minister Justin Trudeau, was ridiculed by journalists when he called for sanctions on Indian diplomats and walked out of the press conference as he faced a volley of tough questions from reporters amid an escalating diplomatic row between the two countries."We need to bring severe sanctions on Indian diplomats. We got the RCMP saying that Indian diplomats are hiring criminal elements to shoot at Canadians. I mean why would we do anything other than put in place severe sanctions on Indian diplomats," Jagmeet Singh, a known Khalistani sympathiser, and the leader of the New Democratic Party (NDP) said."The Modi government has to be held accountable and we all need to be unified as Canadian leaders. All of us have to be unified in denouncing (PM Narendra) Modi, making sure we protect Canadians by putting their safety first and foremost," he said before ending his press conference. As Jagmeet Singh was walking out of the room, some journalists tried to raise their questions to him, with one of them mocking the leader, saying, "That's not how it works," drawing laughter from the audience. The development came after the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) claimed that Indian agents present in Canada were working with the Lawrence Bishnoi gang to target pro-Khalistan elements. Jagmeet Singh had supported Trudeau's Liberal government for over two years before pulling the plug last month, accusing the Canadian Prime Minister of not fulfilling his promises. He has often been involved in rallies featuring Khalistani extremists, advocating for a separate Sikh state.

Earlier, Canadian Foreign Minister Melanie Joly had hinted that the Trudeau government may impose sanctions on Indian diplomats, saying "everything was on the table" amid the diplomatic rift.

The ongoing India-Canada diplomatic row took a sharp turn on Monday when New Delhi lashed out at Ottawa over its charge that the Indian High Commissioner and other diplomats are 'persons of interest' linked to an investigation into the murder of Nijjar. India dismissed them as "preposterous imputations" and downgraded its ties with Canada.

India also said Trudeau's hostility to India has long been evident and cited his constant support for violent extremists and terrorists to harass, threaten and intimidate Indian diplomats in Canada, stressing that these were done in the name of freedom of speech.

Both India and Canada recalled six of their diplomats in a tit-for-tat move as New Delhi chided Ottawa for not sharing a "shred of evidence" of India's involvement in Nijjar's killing and not doing enough to tackle separatist elements on Canadian soil. Ties between India and Canada dived in September last year when Trudeau alleged Indian government agents' involvement in the killing of Nijjar on Canadian soil. New Delhi rejected those charges as "motivated and absurd".

'CANADIAN SIKHS STALKED BY FEAR'

Meanwhile, in a statement, Jagmeet Singh claimed that Canadian Sikhs were stalked by fear, threats and harassment from Indian diplomats and called for a ban on Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh Network (RSS) in Canada."We support today's

(RSS) in Canada."We support today's (Tuesday) decision to expel India's diplomats and we are calling on the Government of Canada yet again to put diplomat sanctions against India in place, ban the RSS in Canada, and commit to pursuing the most severe consequences for anyone found to have participated in organised criminal activity on Canadian soil," he said."New Democrats are extremely worried about the information released by the RCMP commissioner today. Canadians, particularly the Sikh community in Canada, have been stalked by fear, threats, harassment and violence-including extortion, violence and electoral interference all allegedly at the hands of Indian officials," he alleged.

Scholars of Kashi Clear Confusion: Diwali Will

Be Celebrated Nationwide on 31 Oct.

by Sanjay Saxena

Lucknow: A debate had recently emerged in North India about whether Diwali would be celebrated on October 31 or November 1. In this state of confusion, not only the general public but also scholars seemed divided. However, the confusion has now been resolved by the scholars of Kashi. Based on mathematical values, scriptural texts, visual evidence, and traditional opinions, a consensus has been reached that Diwali will be celebrated across the country on October 31.

On October 15, at the Astrology Department of Banaras Hindu University, a meeting was held involving the Kashi Vishwanath Temple Trust, Kashi Vidwat Parishad, and various scholars and astrologers. After extensive discussion, they unanimously decided in favor of celebrating Diwali on October 31. In a press conference held at BHU, Professor Vinay Kumar Pandey, coordinator of the World Panchang, stated that there is no discrepancy in the traditional calendars.

Astrologers explained that according to all calendars, the new moon (Amavasya) begins on October 31 before sunset and ends before sunset on November 1. This establishes, according to traditional principles and calendars, that Diwali will be celebrated on October 31 throughout the country. Professor Ramchandra Pandey, Senior Vice-President of the Kashi Vidwat Parishad, noted that according to visual mathematics, in many regions of the country, Amavasya starts on October 31 before sunset and concludes shortly after sunset on November 1. Thus, there is no discrepancy regarding Diwali in those areas, and it is firmly established

Karnataka HC Rules Chanting 'Jai Shri Ram Inside Mosque Does Not Hurt Religious Sentiments

Bengaluru: In a significant ruling, the Karnataka High Court has declared that chanting the slogan 'Jai Shri Ram' inside a mosque does not constitute an offense or hurt the religious feelings of any community. The court's judgment came as it quashed a criminal case filed against two individuals who had allegedly raised the slogan inside a mosque. The case stemmed from an incident on September 24, 2023, when the two accused were charged by the police for entering a mosque and chanting 'Jai Shri Ram'. They were booked under several sections, including one for outraging religious feelings.

A single bench of Justice M. Nagaprasanna, while reviewing the appeal petition filed by the accused, concluded that the charges were not substantiated. The court emphasized that the complainant in the case had acknowledged the harmonious coexistence of Hindus and Muslims in the area where the incident occurred.

The ruling has sparked mixed reactions but highlights the court's stance on maintaining communal harmony and ensuring that expressions of faith do not lead to unwarranted legal action when there is no clear intent to incite religious

by Suresh Pd Nikhar

Gaya: A key state executive meeting was convened by the Baranwal Seva Sadan Gaya Nagar Baranwal Seva Samiti on Wednesday, as part of preparations for the upcoming Maha Dharna demonstration on 20 October 2024, at Gardanibagh,

The meeting, held at Swarajpuri Road in Gaya, was chaired by Vicky Baranwal, General Secretary of the Samiti, and Rajkumar Prasad (Raju Baranwal), State President of the Baranwal Vaishya Mahasabha, Bihar.

The central issue discussed was the demand for the inclusion of the Baranwal community in the Other Backward Classes (OBC) list in both Bihar and at the national level. The community, which claims a population of over 12 lakh in Bihar, is seeking recognition and affirmative action through OBC status, which they believe has long been denied.

Raju Baranwal emphasized the need for unity within the Vaishya community, noting that while the Baranwal community is part of the larger Vaishya caste group, it has been divided into smaller subcastes, weakening its collective strength. "Out of the 122 castes within the Vaishya community, Baranwal is only recognized under 21 sub-castes, amounting to a population of 30 lakh, which is a gross injustice," Baranwal said.

He further criticized political parties for using the Baranwal community as a vote bank without addressing its core demands. "Every party seeks our votes, but our caste has yet to be granted OBC status, either in Bihar or at the national level," he added. Vicky Baranwal announced that he, along with thousands of Baranwal community members from Gaya, will participate in the Maha Dharna in Patna.

He also praised Raju Baranwal's efforts, noting his extensive travels across Bihar and Jharkhand to rally support for the cause.

The Baranwal community leaders also expressed concern over the government's policy of granting OBC status to smaller castes with minimal populations, while neglecting larger communities like Baranwal. "This policy is detrimental to the future of our children," Raju Baranwal argued.

The upcoming Maha Dharna in Patna is seen as a crucial moment to bring attention to the Baranwal community's demands. The leaders expressed confidence that the demonstration would garner significant support and ultimately lead to the inclusion of the Baranwal caste in the OBC list. Other prominent members of the Baranwal community, including Jitendra Kumar, Kanchan Kumar, Kundan Prakash, Subodh Kumar, Prem Prakash Pawan, Prashant Kumar, Mahendra Prasad, Rakesh Kumar, and Umashankar Prasad, were also present at the meeting. The Baranwal leaders are op timistic that the success of the Maha Dharna will draw the attention of both the Bihar Government and the Central Government, ultimately securing OBC status for their com-

Rainath Singh lays foundation stone for naval communication station in Telangana

New Delhi. The Defence Minister laid the foundation environments. of the Indian Navy on Tuesday. The station, located at the Damagundam Reserve Forest in Vikarabad, Telangana, will cover 2,900 acres and is expected to cost Rs 3,200 crore. The new facility is designed to enhance the Indian Navy's communication capabilities, allowing for reliable and secure transmission over long distances. The Defence Minister highlighted its importance, noting that it will serve as a strategic asset, crucial for effective command and control in challenging maritime stone for a new Very Low Frequency (VLF) Station "Effective coordination between men and machines is becoming extremely important in view of the evolving methods of warfare." he said while addressing the gathering. He stressed that real-time communication between ships, submarines, and command centres is a decisive factor in military operations. "Without real-time communication, we cannot gain an edge despite having adequate equipment or manpower," he added. The Minister also highlighted the importance of strong communication systems in complex military operations, stating that they are essential for timely decision-making and conveying orders to field units. He emphasised that clear communication boosts both morale and unity among soldiers in operational environments.He further noted the growing global interest in the Indian Ocean Region (IOR) and stressed the need to continuously empower the Indian Navy. "Our interest is spread across the Indo-Pacific region. If India is to secure its commercial and security interests, a strong communication system is

Amid Row Over Siddaramaiah Land Case, Key Official Quits Citing Health

Mysuru: Mysuru urban development body chief Mari Gowda resigned Wednesday - citing health concerns amid an ongoing state and federal investigation into land scam allegations against Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, his wife, and other members of his family.

Mr Gowda was a long-time associate of the Chief Minister and worked with him since 1983; he was made President of the Mysuru Taluk Panchayat in 1995, Vice President of the Zilla Panchayat in 2000, and promoted to the top post eight years later.Siddaramaiah has not reponded to the resignation so far. The Chief Minister faces cases filed by the Mysuru branch of the Lokayukta, or the state anticorruption body, and the Enforcement Directorate, a federal agency. He also faces charges of destroying evidence; a complaint to this effect was filed earlier this month with the ED.

Specifically, Siddaramaiah faces claims that his wife was allotted 14 plots of land - which he has said was a gift from her brother - in the upmarket Mysuru area of Vijayanagar as compensation for land elsewhere - holding a far lower value taken for infrastructure projects.Anticorruption activists alleged this caused a loss of ? 45 crore to the state. Earlier this month the Mysuru Urban Development Authority agreed to take back those 14 plots from the Chief Minister's wife, BN Parvathi, but said this would have no bearing on the investigation into the allotments and against the veteran Congress leader. BN Parvathi had written to MUDA saying she had planned to give up the land earlier but was advised against it as the allegations against her husband are "politically motivated". Shortly after her letter, Siddaramaiah said his wife was a "victim of the politics of hatred against me" and had been subject to "psychological torture". "I respect her decision," he said. The MUDA land scam allegations were spotlit after the Karnataka High Court cleared Governor Thawar Chand Gehlot's order sanctioning prosecution of the Congress leader.A trial court framed charges the next day, with the Lokayukta beginning

Ahead of the Haryana BJP legislature party meeting on Wednesday, a government advertisement in newspapers featuring photos of Nayab Singh Saini and Prime Minister Narendra Modi has almost confirmed that the Ladwa MLA would return as Chief Minister for a second term. The advertisement, released by the government's public relations department, also lists details of the swearing-in event, scheduled for 11 am on October 17. Following the BJP's record third consecutive win in Haryana, the legislature party is scheduled to hold a meeting to elect their leader on Wednesday. The BJP has appointed Union Home Minister Amit Shah and Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav as central observers fo the meeting. Traditionally, the BJP legislature party meeting, overseen by central observers, finalises the leader's name after deliberation and consensus.

However, with Saini's image and swearing-in details already made public, the announcement seems to be a mere formality.

The ad features a congratulatory message from Prime Minister Narendra Modi, stating, "I am confident that Haryana's role is going to become more important in the resolve of developed India." PM Modi is also likely to attend the swearing-in event. The ad also lists details of the ceremony, which will be held at Dussehra Ground, Sector 5, Panchkula. The ad concludes with the message, "Once again, double engine government". The BJP had contested the Assembly elections projecting Saini as the chief ministerial face. Saini, who was made the Chief Minister in March 2024 before the Lok Sabha elections, won the Ladwa seat in Kurukshetra district in the recently concluded Assembly elections. His leadership during the poll campaign was seen as one of the major factors in the BJP securing 48 of the 90 seats and returning to power, defying exit poll predictions. Three independent MLAs have pledged their support to the BJP, strengthening its its investigation almost.

A Mumbai court on Tuesday remanded Harish Kumar Balakram Nisad, a 26-year-old resident of Uttar Pradesh, to crime branch custody until October 21. Nisad is a suspect in the murder of former Maharashtra Minister Baba Siddiqui. While giving the orders, the court noted the seriousness of the case and the need for custodial interrogation. Nisad was arrested on October 14 in Uttar Pradesh and brought to Mumbai on Tuesday. Police alleged that Nisad provided financial and logistical support to the other accused in the case, including the third shooter, Shivkumar Gautam, who remains on the run. He is the fourth individual to be arrested after Gurmail Baljit Singh (23), a resident of Haryana, Dharmaraj Kashyap (19) from Uttar Pradesh - both accused shooters - and Pravin Lonkar, a Pune-based co-conspirator. The crime branch informed the court that Nisad might have information on Gautam's whereabouts and the procurement of firearms used in the murder of NCP MLA Baba Siddiqui. Police have also claimed that Nisad's financial transactions are linked to the crime, stating that he played a role in disbursing funds to the accused.

Nisad's lawyer opposed the prosecution's claims, arguing that his client was being framed. The court had earlier remanded two other accused, Gurmail Baljit Singh and Dharmaraj Rajesh Kashyap, to crime branch custody until October 21. Both are accused of gunning down Siddiqui. A third suspect, Pravin Lonkar, was also sent to cusody for his alleged involvement with the Lawrence Bishnoi gang. Baba Siddiqui, who had recently joined the Nationalist Congress Party, was shot dead on October 12 near his son's office in Nirmal Nagar. Police said that the suspects had been conducting surveillance on Siddiqui for weeks before the killing.

Young IPS Officers Have To Adopt Ruthless Approach To End Anti-National Acts: Amit Shah

New Delhi: Union Home Minister Amit Shah said on Tuesday that all young Indian Police Service officers will have to work with a ruthless approach to eliminate anti-national activities.nteracting with the probationers of the 2023 batch of the Indian Police Service (IPS) here, Shah said the time has come that the police make its best efforts to protect the fundamental rights of the country's citizens.He said the police system should be alert to minimise crimes happening within the borders of the country and deliver justice to citizens in the shortest possible time.

"Now is the time to protect the rights of citizens and make efforts to prevent atrocities against them," he said. The home minister said that protecting the rights of the poor, children and women are of prime importance. He said the security of the nation does not mean only the security of the border. The nation is made of its citizens. The security of the citizen is the basis of the security of the nation," he said. Shah said when he talks about security, it is not limited to the security of life and property, but the security of the rights given to the citizens by the Constitution too."The Constitution has given equal rights to the poorest of the poor as are enjoyed even by the prime minister of the country, and police officers have a lot of responsibility to protect their rights," he said.

He told the IPS probationers that there is no work that cannot be improved and there is no work that is less important. The biggest medal for any police officer posted as SP in his youth will be that he is remembered by the people of his district for his good work for many years to come, he said."All young officers will have to work with a ruthless approach to eliminate anti-national activities," he

While doing police work, he said, the security of the nation should always be in the officers' mind and their eyes should always be open to ensure the security of the nation. Shah said as the home minister of the country, he can definitely say that now no one has the courage to insult India's borders and the army."We have done a lot to provide tight security to our borders and it is being done," he said. The home minister said earlier Jammu and Kashmir, Northeast and Left Wing Extremism-affected areas were the three sore areas, but now security forces have achieved success in reducing violence by 70 per cent in these three places.

No financial hurdle to Amaravati capital project says Andhra Pradesh minister Amaravati capital project is back on track despite cost escalation, with work in full swing, said Andhra Pradesh urban development minister Ponguru Narayana in an interview.

Bengaluru. Amaravati, the much-anticipated greenfield capital of Andhra Pradesh, is back on track after a five-year hiatus. The state's Minister for Municipal Administration and Urban Development Ponguru Narayana provided insights into the revival of the capital project in a recent interview. Narayana revealed the state's key financial strategies to build a world-class city in Amaravati, and the road ahead for urban development across Andhra Pradesh in an interview he gave to a newspaper. Initially pegged to cost about Rs 48,000 crore, the Amaravati Capital Project now faces cost escalation of Rs 5,000-10,000 crore. The price escalation was caused due to the five-year delay caused by the previous government's halt in construction. Narayana highlighted that out of the initial budget, Rs 5,000 crore has already been spent.

However, Narayana is upbeat about finances and said there was no "financial hurdle" for the development of the capital city. According to Narayana, the World Bank has shown interest in providing funding, with a formal announcement expected within the month. Narayana revealed in the interview that discussions with other global agencies, such as the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), were also underway. Narayana said that the central government was also willing to assist to fund the capital's construction.He emphasised that financing would not be a significant hurdle, as "Amaravati is envisioned to be a self-sustaining project that will also generate wealth," he said. According to him, despite the time lost, the quality of the work completed during the first Telugu Desam Party government in the 2014-19 period was highly praised. He said that the half-completed structures which were abandoned by the previous regime, remained intact even after enduring neglect and vandalism, as certified by an expert committee. Narayana emphasises that the government, by resuming the construction work, is focusing on key infrastructure. Among the top priorities are a "360-km trunk road network within the capital region, five iconic towers of about 50 floors each to house administrative offices, the Assembly, the High Court, and a four-lane river-bund road," he said. Narayana stated that the first set of administrative buildings is expected to be ready by 2027. He was also confident that despite concerns regarding the recent cases of severe flooding in Krishna district, where Amaravati is situated, the city will be flood resilient. The minister assured that the original master plan remains robust. He revealed that the capital was being designed to handle floodwaters of up to 25 lakh cusecs, with three critical canals—Kondaviti Vagu, Palavagu, and a gravitation canal—planned to ensure proper drainage and flood water discharge. While no major changes were planned for the capital's layout, the canals will enhance Amaravati's ability to withstand extreme weather events, aligning with the government's vision of a well-researched and disaster-resilient city. With renewed momentum behind the Amaravati project and a strong focus on urban development, the state government is optimistic about meeting the financial and infrastructural challenges ahead. By securing support from multilateral agencies and ensuring sustainable growth in Amaravati, Andhra Pradesh hopes to create a model capital city that will drive long-term economic and urban development.

Not criminalising marital rape smacks of patriarchy

IN an affidavit before the Supreme Court, the Union government has taken a stand against the criminalisation of marital rape. In the affidavit before the apex court, the Home Ministry mentioned that a man has no fundamental right to force sex on his wife as there are enough laws to protect women against sexual violence and that criminalisation of marital rape would be an extremely "harsh measure." The Supreme Court is hearing a number of petitions seeking to amend the British-era law that a man cannot be prosecuted for rape within marriage, even though violence within marriage is rampant in India. According to a recent government survey, one in every 25 women has faced sexual violence from their husbands. In January 2023, the Supreme Court appointed two advocates as nodal counsels to streamline the proceedings by compiling a common document of relevant materials from all parties. Currently, marital rape is outlawed in more than a hundred countries around the world. It was outlawed in the Great Britain in 1991. India is one of the few countries, along with Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Saudi Arabia, where the marital rape law remains in force. The Indian Government, in its affidavit, highlighted the fact that Parliament, in its wisdom, has deliberately chosen to retain the marital rape exception and urges the court to defer to legislative judgment in such sensitive matters. Parliament is directly elected by the people and is aware of the understanding of the people in such delicate, sensitive issues. In the affidavit, the government urged the court to exercise judicial restraint and leave the regulation of marital relations to the wisdom of Parliament. A number of petitions have been filed by different women's rights groups to strike down Section 375 of the IPC, which mentions several situations in which having sex is not considered rape, one of them being sex by a man with his wife, if she is not a minor. According to the campaigners, this kind of argument is medieval and unacceptable in modern times. The United Nations, Human Rights Watch and Amnesty International have raised concerns about India's refusal to criminalise marital rape. The Delhi High Court has given a split verdict, which remains pending for the Supreme Court's final judgment, in which one judge has held that marital rape is "morally repugnant" while the other expressed the view that the exception to Section 375 of the IPC is valid and should continue to exist.

It has to be borne in mind that the marital exception in the IPC and the definition of marital rape were drafted on the basis of Victorian norms that did not recognise men and women as equal and merged the identity of husband and wife under the "Doctrine of coverture." Further, marital rape violates the right to equality enshrined in Article 14 of the Indian Constitution. Hence, it creates two classes of women based on their marital status and immunises action perpetrated by men against their wives. There is no other reason for the victimisation of women other than their married status. Moreover, it becomes difficult for married women to avoid abusive conditions because of their financial dependence on their husbands. The exemption is also violative of Article 21 of the Constitution, which includes the right to life and encompasses the right to health, privacy, and dignity. The Supreme Court has recognised the right to abstain from sexual activity for all women, irrespective of their marital status, as a fundamental right guaranteed by the Constitution.In 2013, the United Nations Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW) strongly recommended that the Government of India criminalise marital rape. The forthcoming judicial review by the Supreme Court will provide an opportunity to eliminate a discriminatory legal relic that violates the fundamental rights enshrined in the Constitution and will help to transform women's lives and

India's western flank is on fire

Why US is acting in tandem with Israel to carry out missile attacks against Iran

ON October 11, Iran launched its third missile strike on several targets in Israel, including on the capital city of Tel Aviv. According to an Israeli Defense Forces statement, nearly 300 ballistic missiles were involved in the attack but most were reportedly intercepted and neutralised by Israel and US forces based in Qatar, working together. The first missile strike took place on April 13, in retaliation for the targeted killing of Iranian diplomats in an Israeli bombing attack on an Iranian consulate in Syria. However, Iran gave advance warning of the attack and avoided causing major damage. It also announced that it did not want to escalate the conflict beyond this retaliatory attack. Nevertheless, this missile attack was the very first direct attack from Iranian soil on Israel and therefore a significant departure from the past.

The proxy war against Israel conducted hitherto through Iranian proxies such as Hamas in Gaza, Hezbollah in Lebanon and Houthis in Yemen, had now graduated to a direct clash of arms between the two major adversaries in West Asia and the Gulf.

Israel did not respond directly to the Iranian attack, but it chose to inflict damage on Iran by targeting both the Hamas and Hezbollah leadership in Lebanon. It carried out the brazen assassination of the Hamas chief, Ismail Haniyeh, in the Iranian capital, Tehran, just hours after he had attended the inauguration of the new Iranian President Masoud Pezeshkian on July 31. This was a humiliating blow to Iran, demonstrating Israel's ability to strike at will at targets within Iran, leveraging its superior intelligence capabilities. More importantly, Iran's attempt at deterrence by launching its April missile attack on Israel had failed. Israel then upped the ante with the bold assassination of the Hezbollah chief, Hassan Nasrallah, on September 27 in a suburb of the Lebanese capital, Beirut. Not just Nasrallah but several other senior leaders of this Shia militia were also killed in the targeted bombing of their headquarters. This was a prelude to the start of a major Israeli ground offensive into southern Lebanon with the objective of flushing out Hezbollah forces spread across southern Lebanon.

Iran's second missile barrage against Israel came soon thereafter on October 1. Like the April attack, this, too, reportedly caused little damage. Assisted by the US, Israel was able to intercept and shoot down most of the missiles. Unlike the April attack, however, Iran gave no advance warning about the attack. Nor did it declare its intent to avoid further escalation.

As anticipated, Israel declared its intention to retaliate against Iran and promised that it would be "painful." While in April, US President Biden had urged restraint on Israel, this time there was no such advice from Washington. On the contrary, US National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan, promised severe consequences for Iran and said the U.S. would "work with Israel to make that the case."

This change in US stand has not been fully appreciated. This is no longer just an Iran-Israel conflict. It is now a US-Iran conflict and that changes the nature of the confrontation unfolding in the region with serious consequences.

It is against this backdrop that Iran chose to launch yet another missile barrage against Israel on October 10, reportedly using hypersonic missiles which it may have developed itself or may have obtained from Russia. There may have been greater damage inflicted on Israel than in the earlier attacks but it is difficult to assess the scale of such damage. The US announced that it had worked together with Israel to shoot down most of the missiles. This time President Biden declared that the US was "fully, fully, fully supportive of Israel."One should now jettison the view of the US acting as a restraint on Israel, in favour of avoiding escalation and a wider regional war. We will now increasingly see the US acting in tandem with Israel to carry out devastating aerial and missile attacks against Iran. Three categories of targets are being mentioned: Iran's nuclear facilities, its oil and gas facilities and terminals and military targets, including the command-and-control centres of the Iranian Revolutionary Guards.

The longstanding effort of Benyamin Netanyahu, the Israeli leader, to drag the US into a war against Iran, has finally succeeded. It may be noted that a wider war in the region will have relatively less impact on the US since it is no longer dependent on energy supplies from the region. It would be less worried about an Iran lashing out by attacking oil and gas facilities of the Gulf countries or blockading the Hormuz Straits, through which most of oil and gas supplies are exported to markets both in Europe and Asia. It would be prudent to plan for another era of very high oil prices. India will be seriously impacted.

Iran may be seriously weakened and face a debilitating economic crisis. Its proxies may also be weakened even if they are not neutralised. They will respond as such groups always do — by engaging in asymmetrical warfare. There will likely be an uptick in international terrorism. Even a weakened Iran may finally cross the nuclear threshold and acquire a nuclear arsenal despite the immense sacrifices this may entail. It will be convinced that it is only as a nuclear weapon state that it could ensure its survival. This could have a cascading effect in the region, with Saudi Arabia and Egypt choosing to embrace the nuclear option. None of the countries of the region can escape a negative fallout from a war against Iran. They have tried to shield themselves by pretending that they do not have skin in the game, but they always did. If they had intervened early in the day to impose some penalty on Israel to stop its brutal war against Gaza and now in Lebanon, the trajectory of events may have been different. But their silence meant that Israel saw no downside to its aggressive policies. We may be on the threshold of another major war and one on our western flank where nine or more million Indians live and work. Our energy supplies may be significantly disrupted. That India has so few levers to influence events in its strategically critical neighbourhood is a sobering thought.

Unsafe in Bangladesh

Yunus cannot abdicate responsibility

Certainly, these are testing times for India-Bangladesh ties. New Delhi's reticence over the demand to deport

Hasina to face trial is possibly raising hackles in Dhaka. For some in the new regime, riling India is the perfect way with which Bangladesh can look its powerful neighbour in the eye — however misconceived the notion. Still, both sides must be fully aware of the grave consequences of any delay in bridging the growing distrust. Diplomatic channels need to be activated soonest at full throttle. First and foremost, though, Dhaka must crack the whip. To act — or not to act — cannot constitute leverage. Especially not when the reins of power are with Muhammad Yunus, the West's poster boy of all that is noble.

There's a lesson in what's taking place in Bangladesh, for India as well. Side-stepping the elephant in the room would be as deplorable as not calling out Dhaka. Let's not be in denial about minority-bashing at home. This vile absurdity must end. It's a disservice to India and Indians.

Holding your breath on an India-Pak encounter

India and Pakistan are now at a point where even if they want to sit across a table and talk to each other publicly, they cannot do so for fear of enraging domestic constituencies.

THE visit of External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar to Pakistan to participate in the October 15-16 meeting of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) is unlikely to have a thawing effect on the 10-year freeze in bilateral relations. This much the minister has made clear, ruling out any bilateral agenda. "The visit will be for a multilateral event. I'm not going there to discuss India-Pakistan relations. I'm going there to be a good member of the SCO," he said. Jaishankar's statement is almost identical to that of then foreign minister Bilawal Bhutto Zardari in May 2023, before he arrived in Goa for the SCO Council of Foreign Ministers meeting: "My decision to attend this meeting illustrates Pakistan's strong commitment to the charter of the SCO...during my visit, which is focused exclusively on the SCO, I look forward to constructive discussions with my counterparts from friendly countries.

Nonetheless, bilateral drama is written into the script of every India-Pakistan encounter, or even a nonencounter. That was how it was in Goa, where Zardari and Jaishankar managed to have a showdown without exchanging a single bilateral word. It may be the same in Islamabad. Jaishankar claimed the other day that he is a "civil and courteous person, and will behave accordingly." That was possibly self-deprecatory humour.He is no Diljit Dosanjh who won Pakistani hearts the other day by calling up Pakistani singer Hania Aamir on stage during his Europe tour. The galleries back home would be terribly put out if Jaishankar returns without his signature-style tough talk against Pakistan, this time on Pakistani soil. After all, this is what India-Pakistan diplomacy has been reduced to, not just now, but over several years — a performance for domestic audiences defined by the need to demonstrate toughness toward the other, even in body language.

So, Jaishankar's "namaste" to the Pakistan minister in Goa last year got approving media coverage, as "Jaishankar gives the cold shoulder to Zardari."

India and Pakistan are now at a point where even if they want to sit across a table and talk to each other publicly, they cannot do so for fear of enraging domestic constituencies. This is a logjam that can be broken only with statesmanship and political will. A back-channel process between the two NSAs in 2016-2017, and another the UAE claimed it had mediated in 2020-21 shows a willingness to speak.

When the process makes progress, as in February 2021 when the two armies reaffirmed their commitment to the two-decade-old ceasefire on the Line of Control, things freeze up again, because then the process must be made public. The lessons of the past are not helpful. Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee's visit in 2004 came after several years of back-channel contacts and a massive shift in relations between the US and Pakistan after 9/11.

Prime Minister Manmohan Singh continued the engagement that began then, but India-Pakistan ties have never recovered from the 2008 Mumbai attacks. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's outreach lasted only a week, from his Christmas Day stopover in Lahore on his way back to Delhi, to the Jaish e-Mohammed (JeM) attack on Pathankot. Today, the dynamic has changed from what it was even 10 years ago. Jaishankar will arrive in Islamabad after the successful holding of an election in the post-August 5, 2019 truncated Jammu & Kashmir. In Kashmir, the victory of the National Conference (NC) is viewed as a verdict against Delhi and the changes the Modi government wrought on August 5, 2019. But the NC knows, and has said as much, that in running the government, a confrontation with the Centre is not the way forward.From Delhi's point of view, Pakistan's internal turmoil is a further disincentive for engagement. Who to talk to in Pakistan — the civilian government or the army — was a question even in normal times. But now, General Asim Munir, the embattled army chief, is in the midst of a self-inflicted do-or-die battle with not just the untameable and ever-growing popularity of the jailed Imran Khan, but also sections within his own force.Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and his brother, Prime Minister Emeritus Nawaz Sharif, once thought of as the most likely of the Pakistani political class to make a paradigm shift in relations with India, are now beholden to Munir for their survival.

The Beijing-Islamabad relationship, the increasingly communal lens in India on ties with Pakistan plus Delhi's demand for a review of the Indus Waters Treaty further complicate the relationship.

For his part, Munir has not spoken his mind on India.
What Delhi can see and feel is that the Pakistan army's preoccupations, including with the Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan and its Afghan Taliban patrons, the resurgence in Baloch militancy — with Chinese nationals in their crosshairs — have not led to the quietening of groups like the JeM and Lashkar-e-Toiba. A shadowy group, the so-called 'People's Force Against Fascism', has owned the regular attacks in Jammu since 2021, but Indian security agencies link it to the LeT and JeM.Delhi believes it can handle the costs of cross-border terrorism and leave ties in deep freeze. But flip the script for a moment. Imagine that Jaishankar is taking with him the message, like Vajpayee in 2004, that Modi has accepted Pakistan's invitation to attend the SAARC summit it has been waiting to host since India's unquiet quitting of SAARC due to tensions with Pakistan is one reason why it faces so much resentment from smaller countries in the neighbourhood. When India laments the growing influence of China in the region, it needs to recognise its own role in letting the region go.

A revival of SAARC would put the energy back into India's neighbourhood policy and earn it the goodwill of neighbours. It would certainly put some pressure on Pakistan to conduct itself responsibly. The revival of SAARC may or may not resolve the differences between India and Pakistan, but it will provide bilateral engagement opportunities, normalise interactions in multilateral fora and make them less of a circus than they are now.

Bonus: An India engaged with Pakistan may help Prime Minister Modi to be taken more seriously by the world in his efforts to stop the war between Ukraine and Russia — and give that peace initiative greater heft.

यूएस से 31 प्रीडेटर ड्रोन खरीदेगा भारत, 32 हजार करोड़ की डील पर हुए हस्ताक्षर

नई दिल्ली। भारत और अमेरिका ने 31 प्रीडेटर ड्रोन खरीदने के लिए 32 हजार करोड़ रुपये के सौदे पर हस्ताक्षर किए। प्रधानमंत्री नरेन्द्र मोदी की अध्यक्षता वाली सरक्षा मामलों की मंत्रिमंडलीय समिति (सीसीएस) ने पिछले सप्ताह अमेरिका से 31 प्रीडेटर ड्रोन खरीदने के सौदों को मंजूरी दी थी। खरीदे जाने वाले ड्रोन के रखरखाव, मरम्मत और ओवरहाल के लिए देश में ही एमआरओ स्थापित किया जाएगा। भारतीय नौसेना को 31 में से 15 ड्रोन, जबकि सेना और वायु सेना को आठ-आठ ड्रोन मिलेंगे, जिनके शांतिकालीन निगरानी में गेम चेंजर साबित होने की उम्मीद है। दरअसल, चीन के साथ वास्तविक नियंत्रण रेखा (एलएसी) के संवेदनशील क्षेत्रों में अपनी उपस्थिति मजबत करने और निगरानी को बढ़ावा देने के लिए सेना, नौसेना और वायु सेना ने

नौसेना के लिए खरीदे जाने थे, लेकिन बाद में इसे तीनों सेनाओं के लिए 31 डोन खरीदने का फैसला लिया गया। भारतीय नौसेना इस सौदे के लिए प्रमुख एजेंसी है, जिसमें 15 ड्रोन अपनी जिम्मेदारी के क्षेत्र में निगरानी संचालन के लिए समुद्री बल को दिए जाएंगे। इसके अलावा सेना और वाय पहले चरण में छह ड्रोन तत्काल एकमुश्त नगद भुगतान करके खरीदे जाएंगे। मौजूदा जरूरतों को देखते हुए फिलहाल दो-दो ड्रोन तीनों सेनाओं को दिए जाएंगे। बाकी 24 डोन अगले तीन वर्षों में हासिल कर लिए जाएंगे। तीनों सेनाओं के लिए खरीदे जाने वाले ड्रोन के लिए दोनों पक्षों ने वरिष्ठ अधिकारियों की मौजूदगी में इस सौदे पर हस्ताक्षर किए गए। एमक्यू-9 रीपर ड्रोन की खासियतएमक्यू-9 रीपर ड्रोन को सैन डिएगो स्थित जनरल एटॉमिक्स ने बनाया है, जो लगातार 48 घंटे उड़ सकता है। यह 6,000 समुद्री मील से अधिक दूरी तक लगभग 1,700 किलोग्राम (3,700 पाउंड) का पेलोड ले जा सकता है। यह नौ हार्ड-पॉइंट्स के साथ आता है, जो हवा से जमीन पर मार करने वाली मिसाइलों के अलावा सेंसर और लेजर-निर्देशित बम ले जाने में सक्षम है, जिसमें अधिकतम दो टन का पेलोड है।

बिकवाली के दबाव में गिरावट के साथ बंद हुआ शेयर बाजार

नई दिल्ली। घरेलू शेयर बाजार आज शुरुआती मजबूती के बाद गिरावट का शिकार हो गया। आज के कारोबार की मजबूत शुरुआत हुई थी। बाजार खुलने के बाद खरीदारी के सपोर्ट से सेंसेक्स और निफ्टी की चाल में तेजी भी आई. लेकिन पहले घंटे के कारोबार में ही मुनाफा वसूली शुरू हो जाने के कारण शेयर बाजार ने लाल निशान में गोता लगा दिया। हालांकि खरीदारों ने कई बार लिवाली का जोर बनाने की कोशिश भी की, लेकिन बिकवाली के दबाव की वजह से पूरे दिन शेयर बाजार गिरावट के साथ कारोबार करता रहा। दिनभर हुई खरीद-बिक्री के बाद सेंसेक्स 0.19 प्रतिशत और निफ्टी 0.28 प्रतिशत की गिरावट के साथ बंद हुए।

एफएमसीजी, मीडिया, टेक, कंज्यूमर ड्यूरेबल और कैपिटल गुड्स इंडेक्स खरीदारी के सपोर्ट से हरे निशान में बंद हुए। छोटे और मंझोले शेयरों में भी आज लगातार खरीदारी होती रही, जिसके कारण बीएसई का मिडकैप इंडेक्स 0.25 प्रतिशत की मजबूती के साथ बंद हुआ। इसी तरह स्मॉलकैप इंडेक्स ने 1.05 प्रतिशत की तेजी के साथ आज के कारोबार का अंत किया।

आज शेयर बाजार में आई कमजोरी के बावजूद छोटे और मंझोले शेयरों में हुई खरीदारी के कारण स्टॉक मार्केट के निवेशकों की संपत्ति में करीब 25 हजार करोड़ रुपये की बढ़ोतरी हो गई। बीएसई में लिस्टेड कंपनियों का मार्केट कैपिटलाइजेशन आज के कारोबार के बाद बढ़ कर 463.87 लाख करोड़ रुपये (अस्थाई) हो गया। जबकि पिछले कारोबारी दिन यानी इनका मार्केट कैपिटलाइजेशन 463.62 लाख करोड़ रुपये था। इस तरह निवेशकों को आज के कारोबार से करीब 25 हजार करोड़ रुपये का मुनाफा हो

अडाणी ग्रुप ने यूएस बॉन्ड मार्केट में की वापसी, ग्रीन नोट्स के जरिए जुटाएगी डॉलर

मुंबई/नई दिल्ली। अडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी लिमिटेड के जरिए अडाणी ग्रुप ने एक बार फिर अमेरिका के डॉलर बेस्ड बॉन्ड मार्केट में वापसी कर ली है। अडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी लिमिटेड 20 साल की अवधि वाले ग्रीन नोट्स (बॉन्ड्स) की बिक्री कर रही है। इन बॉन्ड्स की बिक्री से मिले पैसे का इस्तेमाल पहले से लिए गए उन कर्जों के निपटारे में किया जाएगा. जिनका भुगतान डॉलर में करने की शर्त है। यानी अंडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी ने पहले से विदेशी मुद्रा में जो कर्ज लिए हैं, उनका निपटारा बॉन्ड से मिली राशि के जरिए किया जाएगा। बता दें कि अडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी लिमिटेड के ग्रीन नोट्स को ऐसे समय में बिक्री के लिए लॉन्च किया गया है, जब अडाणी ग्रुप की फ्लैगशिप कंपनी अडाणी एंटरप्राइजेंज भी 50 करोड़ डॉलर

बताया जा रहा है कि अडाणी ग्रुप फरवरी डॉलर के बॉन्ड अमेरिका के बॉन्ड बाजार काफी झटका लगा था। इस रिपोर्ट के

2025 के अंत तक लगभग 1.5 अरब रिपोर्ट से 2023 में अडाणी ग्रुप को

अडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी के अलावा अडाणी एनर्जी सॉल्यूशंस लिमिटेड की ओर से बॉन्ड्स पेश किए जाएंगे। माना जा रहा है कि अमेरिकी शॉर्ट सेलर फर्म हिंडनबर्ग रिसर्च की रिपोर्ट से लगे झटके के बाद अडाणी ग्रुप की कंपनी अडाणी ग्रीन एनर्जी लिमिटेड ने ग्रीन नोट्स को लॉन्च

जीएसटी दरों को तर्कसंगत बनाने के लिए जीओएम की बैठक 20 अक्टूबर को

पर ट्रेंड कर रहा है।

नई दिल्ली।फूड, फुटवियर्स और टेक्सटाइल आइटम्स से जुड़ी जीएसटी दरों को तर्कसंगत बनाने के लिए आए प्रस्तावों पर ग्रुप ऑफ मिनिस्टर्स (जीओएम) की अगली र्बैठक 20 अक्टूबर को होगी। माना जा रहा है कि फूड, फुटवियर्स और टेक्सटाइल आइटम्स की जीएसटी दर को कम करके 5 प्रतिशत के टैक्स स्लैब में लाने का प्रस्ताव जीओएम की बैठक में तैयार किया जा सकता है। जीएसटी दरों को तर्कसंगत बनाने और जीएसटी के ढांचे को सरल बनाने के लिए

गठित जीओएम की अध्यक्षता बिहार के उपमुख्यमंत्री सम्राट चौधरी करेंगे।

पहले फूड, फुटवियर्स और टेक्सटाइल आइटम्स पर चर्चा की जाएगी, क्योंकि ये लोगों के दैनिक जीवन में काम आने वाली वस्तुएं हैं बताया जा रहा है कि 20 अक्टूबर को होने वाली बैठक में जिन वस्तुओं की जीएसटी दरों की समीक्षा की जाएगी वे फिलहाल 12 प्रतिशत के टैक्स स्लैब में हैं। चर्चा के बाद जीओएम अपनी ओर से एक सुझाव पत्र तैयार करेगा, जिसे नवंबर के महीने में होने वाली जीएसटी परिषद की अगली बैठक में पेश किया जाएगा। जीएसटी ढांचे को सरल बनाने और जीएसटी दरों को

तर्कसंगत करने के लिए 1 नवंबर 2023 को ग्रुप ऑफ मिनिस्टर्स (जीओएम) का गठन किया गया था। जीओएम में सम्राट चौधरी के अलावा पश्चिम बंगाल की वित्त मंत्री चंद्रिमा भट्टाचार्य, उत्तर प्रदेश के वित्त मंत्री सुरेश कुमार खन्ना, केरल के वित्त मंत्री केएन बालगोपाल, राजस्थान के स्वास्थ्य मंत्री गजेंद्र सिंह और कर्नाटक के राजस्व मंत्री केबी गौड़ा भी शामिल हैं। ग्रुप ऑफ मिनिस्टर्स ने पहले हुई अपनी बैठक में जीएसटी में सिर्फ तीन स्लैब 5 प्रतिशत, 18 प्रतिशत और 28 प्रतिशत रखने की बात कही

थी। ऐसी स्थिति में 12 प्रतिशत वाले स्लैब को चरणबद्ध रूप से खत्म करने पर की बात पर भी 20 अक्टूबर को होने वाली बैठक में चर्चा हो सकती है। हालांकि, 12 प्रतिशत वाले स्लैब को पूरी तरह से खत्म करने में समय लगने की बात भी कही जा रही है, क्योंकि इससे राज्यों को मिलने वाले रेवेन्य पर भी असर पड़ेगा। ऐसी स्थिति में इस प्रस्ताव पर सहमति देने के पहले तमाम राज्य अपनी आर्थिक स्थिति और राजस्व पर पड़ने वाले असर की समीक्षा जरूर करेंगे, जिसमें समय लग सकता है।

फर करने के बारे में सबसे मजेदार बात है, हर कदम पर किसी नई खोज का रोमांच। फिर चाहे वह

किसी बच्चे द्वारा ट्रेन की खिड़की से पहली बार खुले में ऊँटों को चरते देखने का रोमांच हो या फिर पहली-पहली बार किसी अजनबी देश में कदम रखने पर नजर आने वाली एक अलग दुनिया का रोमांच।

यूँ इंसान अपने घर, अपने जाने-पहचाने माहौल के सुरक्षा कवच में सबसे सहज महसूस करता है, लेकिन नएपन की लालसा भी उसका पीछा नहीं छोड़ती। कुछ नया देखने की लालसा ही उसे दुनिया घुमा लाती है।

कभी आदिमानव कुछ नया तलाशने के लिए एक जंगल से दूसरे जंगल जाता था। आज उसका वंशज

महासागर की गहराइयों में गोता लगा चुका है और अंतरिक्ष के निर्वात अंधकार में चहल-कदमी कर चुका है। इन दो विपरीत छोरों के बीच आम मानव रोज कई प्रकार के छोटे-बड़े सफर करता रहता है।

जरूरी नहीं कि यात्रा कहीं दूर की हो, बोरिया-बिस्तर बाँधकर रेल, बस, जहाज या विमान से की जाए। अपने ही शहर में, कभी उन रास्तों-गिलयों से निकलिए, जहाँ से आपका अब तक गुजरना नहीं हुआ है। कुछ नया दिखेगा, कोई नई खोज होगी। सोचने के नए आयाम खुलेंगे। कोई कह गया है कि सफर का उद्देश्य मंजिल पर पहुँचना नहीं, बिल्क मंजिल तक पहुँचने की प्रिक्रिया का पूरा आनंद लेना होना चाहिए। जब हमारी निगाहें महज मंजिल पर टिकी होती हैं, तब रास्ते अक्सर अनदेखे रह जाते हैं... और कायनात का सारा कोलाहल, संसार का सारा स्पंदन, जिंदगी की तमाम रेलमपेल इन रास्तों पर ही तो बिखरी पड़ी है। इन्हें नहीं देखा तो सफर महज एक ठिकाना छोड़ दूसरे टिकाने पर अपनी उपस्थित दर्ज कराना भर हुआ, जबिक सफर मौका देता है कदम-कदम पर नए झरोखे से नया संसार देखने का, नए मित्र, नए गुरु पाने का, अनसोचे अनुभवों से गुजरकर नई जानकारी, नए ज्ञान के सागर में नहाने का। खैर, सच यह है कि लोग कई कारणों से सफर करते हैं।

कोई घर या दफ्तर के किसी कार्य विशेष के सिलिसले में एक स्थान से दूसरे स्थान जाता है, कोई छुट्टियों में घूमने जाने की औपचारिकता निभाने तो कोई तीर्थ करने। बहुत कम लोग सफर करने के लिए सफर पर निकलते हैं। ऐसे लोगों को न मंजिल

पर पहुँचने की जल्दी होती है, न घर लौट आने की चिंता।

आप यह तय करके घर तो नहीं बैठ सकते कि कोई अच्छा अनुभव हो तो ही बाहर निकलूँ। जीवन के प्रवाह में छलाँग लगाने पर ही पता चलता है कि कब कौन–सा अनुभव अच्छा रहा और कब कौन–सा बुरा। छोटी–मोटी परेशानियाँ सफर का हिस्सा ही होती हैं। जब दुनिया को देखने, जानने निकले हैं तो इसके दोनों रूप देखने में ही तो यात्रा की परिपर्णता होगी।

बर्फ का मजा उठाने के लिए पहला नाम जो हमारे जेहन में आता है वह जम्मू-कश्मीर का है। इसके अलावा हिमाचल प्रदेश, उत्तराखंड और सुदूर उत्तर-पूर्व का तवांग भी सर्दियों में बर्फ का मजा लेने का अच्छा ठिकाना है। बर्फ में मौज-मस्ती का मजा ही अलग है। इससे ऊर्जा भी भरपूर मिलती है और रिश्तों में गर्माहट भी आती है।

अंग्रेजों के बसाए शहर नैनीताल और मसूरी तो के नजदीक होने तथा रेल स्टेशनों के बिलकुल पास होने के कारण पर्यटकों की पहली पसंद हैं। इन दोनों ही शहरों तक दिल्ली से सड़क से 7 से 10 घंटे में पहुँचा जा सकता है। मसूरी तथा नैनीताल में बर्फबारी की खबर लगते ही दिल्ली, गुड़गाँव, गाजियाबाद तथा उत्तर भारत के शहरों के पर्यटक इन पर्वतीय पर्यटक स्थलों की ओर भाग पड़ते हैं। नैनीताल में बर्फ के साथ खेलने के लिए पर्यटकों की पसंदीदा जगह तो ऐतिहासिक माल रोड़ ही है पर यदि माल रोड़ में पड़ी ऊपर स्नो व्यू, टिफिन टॉप से लेकर किलवरी मार्ग पर दूर हिमालय दर्शन तक जा सकते हैं। हिमालय दर्शन से हिमालय की चोटियों का विहंगम दृश्य दिखता है। किसमस के आस-पास यदि बर्फबारी हो जाए तो पर्यटक नैनीताल में त्योहार और छुट्टियों का दोगुना आनंद लेते हैं।

राजधानी देहरादून के पास मसूरी में भी साल में 3-4 बार बर्फबारी हो जाती है। बर्फबारी के होते ही पर्यटकों का हुजूम मसूरी आ जाता है। इस भीड़ से मसूरी के नीचे किंगररेग तक के रास्ते जाम हो जाते हैं। मसूरी तथा नैनीताल और उसके आस-पास सभी बजट श्रेणी में पर्याप्त होटल उपलब्ध हैं। बर्फबारी का मजा लेने के लिए पर्यटक मसूरी के लाल टिब्बा, किनोग हिल, जॉर्ज एवरेस्ट, गन हिल तथा क्लाउड ऐंड स्थानों पर जाते हैं।

मसूरी से 32 किमी दूर स्थित नव पर्यटक स्थल धनौल्टी तक बर्फबारी के बीच सड़क के दोनों ओर बर्फ जम जाती है। इस मार्ग पर तब गाड़ी चलाने का आनंद दोगुना हो जाता है। चमोली जिले के जोशीमठ से 15 किमी दूर औली तो अब विश्व प्रसिद्ध स्कीइंग केंद्र तथा शीतकालीन रिजॉर्ट का रूप ले चुका है।

यहाँ 2010 के जनवरी-फरवरी में शीतकालीन सैफ खेलों का आयोजन होना है। औली में स्कीइंग के 7 दिवसीय, 14 दिवसीय प्रशिक्षण के लिए तथा पर्यटकों

क लिए एक-दा दिवसीय स्काइग करन की सुविधा गढ़वाल मंडल विकास निगम उपलब्ध कराता है। विद्यार्थियों के लिए तो रहने, खाने की सुविधा, उपकरणों, स्की लिफ्ट की उपलब्धता मय शिक्षक 5,500 रुपए में उपलब्ध है। पर्यटकों को बेशक एक या दो दिन स्की करने के लिए तथा हर सुविधा के लिए अलग भुगतान करना पड़ता है। रोप वे द्वारा औली पहुँच कर पर्यटक नई दुविधा में होता है।

सामने नंदा देवी सिहत कई हिमाच्छादित चौटियों का दृश्य दिखता है। औली में 1,300 मीटर लंबा स्कीइंग ट्रैक उपलब्ध है, जो अंतर्राष्ट्रीय मानकों पर खरा उतरता है। पर्यटकों की सुविधा के लिए 800 मीटर लंबी चियर लिफ्ट के अलावा स्कीयरों को ऊपर पहुँचाने के लिए दो स्की लिफ्ट उपलब्ध है।

कुल मिलाकर औली में कम दामों में अंतर्राष्ट्रीय स्तर के स्की रिजॉर्ट का मजा लिया जा सकता है इसलिए विदेशी पर्यटक भी अपने देशों में महाँगे स्की रिजॉर्टों में जाने के बजाय औली आकर स्कीइंग करके पैसा बचाते हैं। उत्तराखंड के पर्यटन सचिव उत्पल कुमार सिंह बताते हैं कि शीतकालीन सैफ खेलों के आयोजन की तैयारियों के पूरा होने के साथ औली शीतकालीन खेलों के अंतर्राष्ट्रीय मानचित्र पर स्थापित हो जाएगा।

औली के अलावा उत्तराखंड में उत्तराकाशी जिले का दयारा बुग्याल, देहरादून में चकराता के पास मुंडाली, रूद्रप्रयाग जिले का चोफता तथा पिथौरगढ़ मुंस्यारी के पास खिलया टॉप स्कीइंग के शौकीनों के लिए पसंदीदा पर्यटक स्थल है। अंग्रेजों के समय के स्थापित पर्यटक स्थलों के अलावा उत्तराखंड में बर्फबारी का आनंद लेने के लिए अनिगनत स्थल है। इनमें से कई स्थल तो अभी पर्यटक मानचित्र पर आ भी नहीं पाए है। स्थली मुखवा में भी जाड़ों में अच्छी-

Lionel Messi remains coy on Argentina future: These can be my last games

New Delhi. Lionel Messi has remained coy on his Argentina future after scoring a hattrick against Bolivia in the South American World Cup qualifiers on October 15, Tuesday. Messi was in scintillating form as he put the Bolivian side to the sword, bagging his 10th international hat-trick. With this, Messi went level with Cristiano Ronaldo for the most international hattricks in history. Messi was asked after the win over Bolivia if he would be there in time for the 2026 World Cup, where Argentina will be defending their crown. The 37-yearold would give an honest answer saying, as quoted by ESPN, he hasn't set a deadline for his future and is focussed on enjoying the love he is getting from the fans at the

"I didn't set any date or deadline about my future," Messi said. "I'm just enjoying all this. I am more emotional than ever and taking all the love from the people because I know these can be my last games."Plan to be with Argentina as long as I can contribute Messi went on to say that he feels great playing at home as he can lap up the affection from the Argentina fans. The Argentine maestro said that the team enjoys the connection with the fans at the moment."It is very nice to play here feeling the affection of the Argentina fans," Messi said after the game. "It makes me emotional to listen how they shout my name. We all enjoy this connection with the fans and we love playing at home."

Messi said that he feels like a kid once again being surrounded by younger teammates and would continue playing for the Argentina team if he can maintain that feeling and contribute to the side.

"It's a joy to be present and appreciate this moment. Being surrounded by younger teammates, given my age, makes me feel like a kid again," Messi said. "I find myself doing silly things because I feel so comfortable. As long as I maintain that feeling and can continue contributing to the team, I plan to be here enjoying [the national team].

Shubman Gill should not open in Rohit Sharma's absence in Australia: Anil Kumble

New Delhi. Shubman Gill has the experience of playing in Australia and he is capable of shining at No. 3, former India captain Anil Kumble said. The legendary leg-spinner urged India to resist the temptation to open the batting with Gill if and when Rohit Sharma is unavailable for a Test match in the much-anticipated Border-Gavaskar Trophy. Shubman Gill began his career as an opener, making is debut in Melbourne in 2020. He opened the batting for India in as many as 17

Tests before opting to move to No. 3 in 2023. When India looked beyond Cheteshwar Pujara, Gill volunteered to drop in the batting order and allow Yashasvi Jaiswal to open the innings with Rohit Sharma in Test cricket.

Rohit, according to sources, is likely to miss the first Test of the upcoming five-match series against Australia in Perth due to personal reasons, leaving a spot at the top up for the taking. Kumble said India should look at opening with Yashasvi and KL Rahul and allow Shubman to continue batting at No. 3."You know he (Shubman) is exceptionally talented, skilful and he's done that. He's been to Australia before. Like you mentioned, in Brisbane, he got a wonderful fifty there and he knows the conditions," Kumble told the broadcasters during a rain delay on Day 1 of the Test between India and New Zealand in Bengaluru on October 16."I don't want to change that. I know there's a temptation to push Shubman Gill because Rohit is not available in the first Test. But, there's always KL Rahulâ€æ that name is synonymous with change and adapting to whatever the team wants. Whether you want to open the batting or keep wickets, Rahul Dravid did that, now KL Rahul is doing that," he said. Gill hit a match-winning 91 in India's iconic victory in the Brisbane Test in 2021 while opening the batting. The young batting star has slowly, but surely, found his footing at the No. 3 spot for India.

Pro Kabaddi League: Tamil Thalaivas bank on Sachin, retained core for season 11

- Thalaivas bought Sachin for 2.15 crores
- ✓ Sachin will have a chance to cement himself as one of the best in the league
- Thalaivas retained their core players before the auction

New Delhi. After a disappointing campaign last time around, Tamil Thalaivas are eager to make a strong comeback as Season 11 of the Pro Kabaddi League kicks off on October 18. Despite reaching the semi-finals in Season 9, the Thalaivas faltered last season, failing to progress beyond the league stage. Now, with a revamped coaching setup and key player retentions, they are determined to secure a place in the PKL 11 Playoffs. For this season, the Thalaivas have adopted a dual-coach system, appointing Udaya Kumar as head coach and former PKL champion Dharmaraj Cheralathan as the strategy coach. This collaborative approach is expected to bring fresh ideas and guidance to the team. Although Tamil Thalaivas weren't amongst the busiest teams during the Season 11 Player Auction, they made headlines by signing star raider Sachin for a record INR 2.15 crores. With their core squad intact, here's a breakdown of the Thalaivas' strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats heading into the new season.

Strengths

One of Tamil Thalaivas' key strengths is their ability to retain most of their core players from last season. Star raider Narender, who has accumulated 429 raid points in two seasons, will once again be the focal point of their attack. Adding to this is the acquisition of Sachin, who boasts 952 raid points in his PKL career and holds the record for the most do-or-die raid points (233) in league history. Together, Narender and Sachin form a formidable raiding duo, providing the team with a powerful offensive unit. The Thalaivas' depth in raiding is further strengthened by backup options like Vishal Chahal, who made an impressive debut last season with 34 raid points, and the experienced Chandran Ranjit, who has tallied 534 raid points in his PKL career. In defence, the team has maintained continuity by retaining key players such as Sagar, M.

Abishek, Sahil Gulia, Himanshu, Mohit, and Amirhossein Bastami. Sahil Gulia and Sagar were among the top 10 defenders last season, with 69 and 66 tackle points respectively, ensuring the Thalaivas have a solid defensive lineup.

Weaknesses

Despite their strong roster, the Thalaivas' depth in defence could be a concern if key defenders like Sahil Gulia or Sagar suffer injuries or experience a dip in form. Sagar's absence for several matches last season significantly affected the team's defensive balance, and a similar situation this season could expose their backup defenders, such as M. Abishek, Himanshu, Mohit, and Bastami, who will need to step up under pressure. Opportunities

For Sachin, this season presents an opportunity to further cement his status as one of the league's premier raiders. Just 48 raid points away from reaching 1000 in his PKL career, he will aim to surpass the 200 raid points mark in a season for the first time. With the support of Narender, who will share the raiding responsibilities, Sachin finds himself in an ideal setup to achieve his personal and team goals.

Threats

One potential threat for the Thalaivas is the lack of an experienced all-rounder in their squad. All-rounders are crucial for providing balance, contributing on both offense and defense. Iranian Moein Safaghi is the team's only designated all-rounder, but he has yet to make his PKL debut. Relying solely on him to fill this vital role could be risky, especially if key players are sidelined due to injuries. Without a proven all-rounder, the Thalaivas may struggle to maintain balance if they face personnel challenges throughout the season.

As Season 11 approaches, Tamil Thalaivas will look to build on their strengths while addressing these potential weaknesses and threats, as they aim to make a deep playoff run.

Mumbai Indians confirmed that Lasith Malinga will continue to have the responsibility of working with the bowlers and Mhambrey will work alongside him in IPL 2025. The announcement came a week after MI welcomed Mahela Jayawardene back as

Yusuf Dikec Exclusive: Viral Turkish shooter reflects on meteoric rise to stardom

New Delhi. The Dr. Karni Singh Shooting Range in New Delhi was buzzing with excitement during the ISSF World Cup 2024, and much of that energy centred around one man -- Yusuf Dikec. The Turkish marksman, famous for his unconventional style and relaxed demeanour, was a major draw for fans and fellow athletes alike. Dikec failed to qualify for the final in the 10m air pistol event on October 15, but his performance mattered little for those who queued up to catch a glimpse of him.Dikec's rise to global fame started during the 2024 Paris Olympics, where his unorthodox stance and minimalistic gear turned heads. Competing in the mixed team 10m air pistol event, he secured a historic silver medal for Turkey—the country's firstever Olympic medal in shooting. But it wasn't just his performance that stole the spotlight; it was his casual approach. While most elite shooters are decked out in high-tech gear with custom lenses, visors, and elaborate ear protection, Dikec stood out for keeping things simple. He wore standard glasses, and yellow earplugs, and, in a style that has since gone viral, often kept one hand casually tucked in his pocket—looking more like a relaxed spectator than an Olympic marksman. When asked about his now-iconic shooting pose, Dikec's response was as cool as his demeanour. "I started shooting and continued to shoot in this position only," he told India Today, almost shrugging off the fame that's come with it."But after the medal in the Olympics, I have gained popularity. But I have been shooting in this position."For Dikec, his minimal gear and style aren't just for show—they're part of his strategy to stay relaxed under pressure. "The idea is to be relaxed," he emphasised. It's that effortless style that has turned Dikec into a viral sensation, with athletes from football to basketball imitating his stance in their own celebrations."Football, basketball, several athletes have done it very good," he said when asked who had nailed the best imitation of his pose post-Olympics. This move—often likened to that of a hitman or a casual observer—has now become more than just a quirky shooting technique. It has morphed into a symbol of confidence and coolness, widely adopted across the sports world. Dikec's journey to the top wasn't an overnight sensation, though. Born in 1973 in Turkey, his love for shooting developed early. He made his Olympic debut back in 2008 and has spent years honing his craft to become one of the most respected shooters in the sport. Despite his years of experience, it was only recently that his laid-back style catapulted him into the

In the story, she called it her "#WorstExperience" and shared how her flight was delayed by 24 hours without prior intimation. In her Instagram story, Taapsee slammed Turkish Airlines and accused them of having the "most 'non-caring' customer service." She shared that passengers on her flight were left to fend for themselves because the airline offered no support. According to her, there wasn't even a customer care service to help with the long delays, forcing travelers to figure things out on their own.

Taking to her Instagram story, Taapsee wrote, "#WorstExperience @turkishairlines u have the most "non caring" customer care service. Or wait, u don't have a customer "care" service itself especially for passengers who suffer coz of your delay. Left to ditya Seal, known for his versatility and dynamic range as an actor, has taken on one of the most challenging roles of his career in the groundbreaking film Amar Prem Ki Prem Kahani, where he portrays a queer character. This bold move not only pushes the boundaries of his own artistic capabilities but also shines a light on the nuances of love and identity. In an exclusive interview with News18, Aditya shared the intense preparation he undertook to bring authenticity to such a deeply emotional role. He revealed the creative challenges he faced, the intricate process of embodying the character, and the powerful connection he built with his co-stars to bring this complex story to life.Reflecting on his journey, Aditya spoke candidly about how playing diverse characters has profoundly shaped his career, allowing him to explore new depths in his craft. Here's an in-depth look at his thoughtful reflections and the impact of this groundbreaking role on his artistic journey.

Portraying a Queer Character: Breaking Stereotypes

Aditya Seal's role in Amar Prem Ki Prem Kahani marks a significant step for LGBTQ representation in mainstream Indian cinema. Unlike many stereotypical portrayals, Aditya's approach was to normalize the character and treat the love story with the same authenticity as any heterosexual relationship.Reflecting on his preparation for the role, he explained, "The preparation was just trying to normalize the entire thing. Many might think it required meeting several people from the community for research, but that wasn't necessary for me. I already knew people from the LGBTQ community, and I wanted to approach this like any other love story—just two individuals in His portrayal has been praised for its authenticity and avoidance of clichés. "We weren't trying to make anyone laugh or present caricatures. There was no attempt to dress up in a particular way that could reinforce preconceived notions about the community," he said. "It was important to keep it real and show that, at the end of the day, these are two people experiencing genuine emotions and love, just
