Hong Kong's top court rules in favor of equal inheritance and housing benefits for same-sex couples

HONG KONG. Hong Kong's top court on Tuesday upheld earlier rulings that favored subsidized housing benefits and equal inheritance rights for same-sex married couples, in a landmark victory for the city's LGBTQ+ community.The Court of Final Appeal's dismissal of the government's appeals ended some yearslong legal battles over the differential treatment facing same-sex couples married overseas under Hong Kong's Housing Authority policies and two inheritance laws.

The unanimous decisions are expected to have a far-reaching impact on the lives of same-sex couples, who have traditionally had fewer rights compared to their heterosexual counterparts in the global financial hub.Chief Justice Andrew Cheung said in his judgement that exclusionary housing policies were argued to be beneficial to opposite-sex married couples because they increase the supply of subsidized housing for them and thereby support the institution of traditional families.But Cheung said authorities failed to provide evidence showing the potential impact on opposite-sex couples if those policies were relaxed."The challenged policies cannot be justified," he wrote.On the inheritance laws, judges Roberto Ribeiro and Joseph Fok ruled that the disputed provisions are "discriminatory and unconstitutional" in their written independent lang unconstitutional" in their written judgement. Hong Kong does not recognize same-sex marriage, prompting some couples to marry elsewhere.Currently, the city only recognizes samesex marriage for certain purposes such as taxation, civil service benefits and dependent visas. Many of civil service benefits and dependent visas. Many of the government's concessions were won through legal challenges, and the city has seen a growing social acceptance toward same-sex marriage.In September 2023, the top court ruled that the government should provide a framework for recognizing same-sex partnerships. This ruling, along with other successful legal challenges brought by members of the LGBTQ+ community, made Hong Kong the only place in China to grant such recognition for same-sex couples.

White Florida woman sentenced to 25 years in prison for shooting Black neighbour in lengthy dispute World. A white Florida woman who fatally shot a Black neighbour through her front door during an ongoing dispute over the neighbour's boisterous children was sentenced Monday to 25 years in prison for her manslaughter conviction.Susan Lorincz, 60, was convicted in August of killing Ajike "A.J." Owens, 35, by firing a single shot from her .380-caliber handgun in June 2023. She had faced a maximum of 30 years behind bars. Circuit Judge Robert Hodges opted for a slightly lesser term amid evidence that Lorincz had been abused as a child and had mental health problems."The shooting was completely unnecessary this case Hodges said during an atternoon hearing. "The shooting, I find, was based more in anger than in fear." The shooting was the culmination of a long-running argument between the two neighbors over Owens children playing in a grassy area near both of their houses in Ocala, abot 80 miles (130 kilometers) northwest of Orlando.Prosecutors said Owens had come to Lorincz's home after her children complained that she had thrown roller skates and an umbrella at them, which Lorincz denied. Trial testimony showed Owens, a mother of four young children, was pounding on Lorincz's door and yelling, leading Lorincz to claim self-defense in shooting her neighbor.Lorincz told detectives in a videotaped interview that she feared for her life. She also said she had been harassed for most of the three years she had lived in the neighborhood. Jurors who heard the trial evidence did not agree that the shooting was in self-

When Hamas attacked Israel on October 7, around 1,200 Israelis were killed. The war has lasted for more than a year now. After incessant rocket attacks from Hezbollah, the Israeli Defence Force (IDF) conducted a massive offensive in Lebanon in mid-September. This added another chapter to the Israel-Hamas war. Amid this came two drone and missile attacks from Iran. 5 killed in Pak as Imran Khan's supporters march to Islamabad, clash with police

World. Five security personnel were killed, and dozens, including police officers, were injured in Pakistan as supporters of jailed former Prime Minister Imran Khan marched toward the capital on Monday and continued their protest on Tuesday. Japanese Bank Employees Vow In Blood Against Embezzlement

- World. A bank in Japan has implemented an extraordinary policy where employees have signed a pledge in blood, promising to take their lives if found guilty of embezzling funds. A viral post compared the Shikoku Bank's rigorous stance against financial misconduct with the comparatively lenient consequences often observed in other countries. The pledge, deeply influenced by Japan's feudal samurai code, demands a guilty employee return the stolen funds and perform seppuku - a traditional form of ritual suicide.
- Outlined on Shikoku Bank's official website in Japanese, the pledge reads, "Anyone employed by this bank who has stolen money or caused others to steal from the bank will pay for it with his or her property and then commit suicide."This pledge dates back to the Thirty-seventh National Bank, which preceded Shikoku Bank.
- It adds, "This pledge is part of a document signed and stamped in blood by all 23 employees, including President Miura, of the Thirty-seventh National Bank, the predecessor of Shikoku Bank, to ensure strict handling of banknotes."The bank's website describes the oath as a symbol of ethical conduct and social responsibility, not just as an employee but as a member of society, preserving it as a cherished legacy of Shikoku Bank.On social media platform X, the policy sparked wide-ranging reactions. Now it's clear why they all have so much cash on their balance sheets," a user wroteAnother said that "the pact is some WW2 vibes."
- According to History.com, 'seppuku' commonly known as 'hara-kiri' in the West is a traditional form of ritual suicide that dates back to Japan's samurai warrior class. The act involved using a short sword to stab and cut open the abdomen, followed by an upward motion to ensure a fatal wound.

Kash Patel top choice to be Trump's FBI or Justice Department pick: Report

The interest in Patel, following the selection of John Ratcliffe as CIA director and Tulsi Gabbard as director of national intelligence, reflects the US President-elect's urge to appoint allies to key law enforcement and intelligence roles.

WORLD. Donald Trump is weighing to push for his controversial adviser Kash Patel, an Indian-origin former Republican House staffer, to head the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), as a clear indication of his vow to fire the incumbent Director Christopher Wray before his 10-year term with the agency completes and replace him with one of his MAGA (Make America Great Again) campaign loyalists, The Guardian reported, while citing two sources familiar with the matter.rump's transition team is conducting interviews for the role on Monday night at his Mar-a-Lago club in Florida. This came after US Vice President-elect JD Vance, in a now-deleted social media post, revealed that he and the Presidentelect had been interviewing candidates for the role of FBI Director.Simultaneously, Patel's name is also under consideration for a high-profile position at the US Justice Department, top transition sources told Axios.

The interest in Patel, following the selection of John Ratcliffe as CIA director and Tulsi Gabbard as director of national intelligence, reflects the US Presidentelect's urge to appoint allies to key roles in law enforcement and intelligence agencies. Trump's interest in the FBI has long been evident. In 2017, he fired James Comey as director, citing Comey's refusal to shut down an investigation into possible ties between Trump's campaign and Russia. Since then, Trump has frequently expressed frustration over what he sees as disloyalty within the bureau, including from its current director, Christopher Wray, Patel, a former aide to Representative Devin Nunes and a key figure in Trump's circle, has gained significant support among Trump's allies, strengthening his prospects for key roles.Known for his aggressive self-promotion and outspoken criticism of the so-called deep state, Patel has become a prominent candidate for highranking roles in law enforcement and national security.

While his name is being considered to lead the FBI, speculations were running high that Patel may get the role of CIA director in the past. However, the position went to John Ratcliffe, another Trump loyalist.

Patel's loyalty was on display during the criminal investigation into Trump's handling of classified documents. Initially, he refused to testify before a federal grand jury in Washington, invoking his Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination.He eventually testified only after then-Chief US District Judge Beryl Howell granted him limited immunity at the Justice Department's request.

President Murmu Commemorates 75th Constitution Day with Coin, Stamp, and Book Launch

RNS I New Delhi: President Droupadi Murmu marked the 75th Constitution Day of India by unveiling a commemorative coin and stamp, alongside releasing two books dedicated to the Constitution today.

The ceremony, held at the Central Hall of the Old Parliament Building, was attended by promileaders, including nent President Jagdeep Vice Dhankhar, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, and BJP President Jagat Prakash Nadda, among others.

The event also saw the launch of two books: "Making of the Constitution of India: A Glimpse" and "Making of the Constitution of India and its Glorious Journey." The President addressed a joint session of Parliament, celebrating the historic adoption of the Indian Constitution in 1949.

While the occasion was marked by solemnity, it sparked controversy as opposition leaders raised concerns over being excluded from addressing the session. In a letter to Speaker Om Birla, they urged that the Leaders of Opposition in both Houses be allowed to speak at the event, emphasizing the importance of parliamentary democracy. The opposition argued that the tradition of including the Leaders of Opposition in such commemorations should be upheld.

Union Minister Kiren Rijiju responded on behalf of the government, dismissing the opposition's concerns. He stated that the Prime Minister would not be speaking at the event, and the Speaker, Vice President, and President were the scheduled speakers. Rijiju also pointed out that seating arrangements had been made for the Leaders of Opposition, calling their reaction unfounded and inappropriate for such a significant occasion. The event also served as a backdrop to ongoing political tensions, particularly between the Modi government and the Congress party. In recent months, the Constitution has been at the center of political discourse, with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi urging voters to oppose the BJP to "save the Constitution." The Congress party had also been embroiled in controversy following allegations from the BJP that it distributed "blank copies of the Constitution" during a campaign event in Maharashtra. The Congress swiftly dismissed these claims, accusing the BJP of spreading misinformation.

As the nation celebrated the 75th anniversary of its Constitution, the day served as a reminder of the document's enduring significance in India's democracy, while also highlighting the ongoing political divides surrounding its interpretation.

Maharashtra Suspense: E Shinde Resigns Amid BJP Push For Devendra Fadnavis

Mumbai. The suspense over who will become Maharashtra Chief Minister after the Mahayuti's mammoth victory in the state polls has entered its third day. The tenure of the 14th state Assembly ends today and incumbent Eknath Shinde has resigned as Chief Minister. But the BJP-led alliance is yet to take a final call on who will get the top post.

BJP leaders want former Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis to become the Chief Minister, while Shiv Sena MLAs are rooting for Mr Shinde to continue. The Ajit Pawarled NCP, it is learnt, has decided to back Mr Fadnavis. The BJP has 132

MLAs, the Sena has 57 and the NCP 41. This means that the BJP needs only one of its two allies to reach the magic figure of 145 in the 288-member Assembly. This leaves Mr Shinde with few bargaining chips for the Chief Minister post. As the BJP leadership Sena Leader Refers To 'Bihar Model' brainstorms on who will get the big post, a group of Sena leaders had planned to gather outside the Chief Minister's official bungalow, Varsha, apparently as a show of strength for Eknath Shinde. But the Sena chief intervened and asked them not to. "After the great victory of the Mahayuti alliance, our government will be formed once again in the state. As a grand alliance, we contested the election together and are still together today," he said on X.

"Out of love for me, some people have appealed to everyone to gather together and come to Mumbai. I am deeply grateful for your love. But I appeal that no one should come together in my support in such a manner."

Amid the suspense, Sena spokesperson Naresh Mhaske cited the 'Bihar model' to assert that Eknath Shinde should continue as chief minister even though BJP holds more seats in Assembly."We feel Shinde should be the chief minister, just like in Bihar where BJP did not look at the numbers but still made JD(U) leader Nitish Kumar the CM. Senior leaders of the Mahayuti (in Maharashtra) will ultimately take a decision," Mr Mhaske told reporters yesterday.Mr Mhaske also cited the Haryana example where the BJP stuck to incumbent Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini.BJP's Pravin Darekar, however, said the people had given a mandate to Devendra Fadnavis. "The people of Maharashtra stood behind Prime Minister Narendra Modi. In my opinion, Fadnavis should become the chief minister. Maharashtra needs an astute and academic leader. He kept the alliance united, gave our allies candidates, and even stepped back when required. He has always maintained coordination," the MLC said. According to sources, BJP leaders are pushing for Mr Fadnavis for the top post and any other decision would demoralise the party ranks. The BJP's ideological parent RSS, which played a key role in its Maharashtra victory, also favours Mr Fadnavis, MLA from Nagpur South-West. The RSS will be celebrating its centenary next year and wants a BJP Chief Minister, it is learnt.

A 2019 Repeat?

In the 2019 Maharashtra polls, long term allies BJP and the undivided Shiv Sena won 105 and 56 seats, respectively. But differences cropped up over the Chief Minister post. Soon after, Sena chief Uddhav Thackeray pulled the plug on the alliance and joined hands with NCP and Congress to form the government. This government was toppled.

Struggle To Defend India's Inherent Philosophy Must Be Reignited: M Kharge

New Delhi. Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge on Tuesday urged citizens to protect the ethos of the Constitution and said the struggle to defend India's inherent philosophy must be reinvigorated and reignited in the 75th year of its adoption.

Mr Kharge said the people of India should come together to protect each and every thought expressed in the Constitution."The 75th year of the adoption of the Constitution has begun today. I extend my warmest wishes to all Indians on this historic occasion," the Congress president said in a post on X.The Constitution of India, painstakingly and carefully drafted by our foremothers and forefathers is the lifeblood of our nation. It guarantees us social, economic and political rights. It constitutes India into a sovereign socialist democratic republic," he said.Justice, liberty, equality and fraternity are not just ideals or ideas, they are the way of life for 140 crore Indians, Mr Kharge asserted."Today, we recall the tremendous contribution of the Constituent Assembly and its prolific members. We are forever indebted to their vision and wisdom," he said.Mr Kharge said Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Babasaheb Dr BR Ambedkar, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, Dr Rajendra Prasad, KM Munshi, Sarojini Naidu, Alladi Krishnaswamy Ayyar, Rajkumari Amrit Kaur and several eminent personalities were not just revered national icons but inspiring personalities who became the torchbearers of hope for generations together.No mention of the Constituent Assembly should be complete without recalling the contribution of the 15 women members who provided equally important inputs for an inclusive India, the Congress president said.

We must also not forget that the Constituent Assembly received uncountable suggestions from ordinary citizens which are a matter of record," he said. The Objectives Resolution moved by Nehru and Ambedkar's momentous last speech to the Constituent Assembly form the Magna Carta in protecting the tenets of the Constitution, he said."We, the patriotic citizens of India, now have the onerous task of protecting the ethos of the Constitution," Mr Kharge said."We, the people of India, should, therefore, come together to protect each and every thought expressed in the Constitution," he said.

"We are a pro-poor government. There is no need for concern over the cancellation of BPL cards; we will ensure no one is inconvenienced," he said.

How Hemant Soren will ensure inclusivity with alliance partners in his cabinet

Jharkhand Cabinet: The Congress, which played a significant role in the alliance's victory, is expected to get four cabinet positions. The Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) is likely to receive one ministerial berth, while the left parties, with two MLAs, may get a single position.

Ranchi. The newly re-elected Hemant Soren government in Jharkhand is working on a blueprint for an inclusive cabinet. The INDIA bloc, which includes the JMM, Congress, Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD), and the CPI-ML, secured a decisive mandate in the recently held assembly elections, winning 56 of the 81 seats. With a maximum of 12 cabinet positions allowed under constitutional guidelines, the government faces the challenge of balancing regional and social representation.Of the 81 assembly seats, Santhal Pargana accounts for 18, Kolhan has 14, Palamu division has nine, while the remaining seats are spread across northern and southern Chotanagpur. 'Judiciary Not Here To Perform Opposition's Role': Ex Chief Justice DY Chandrachud

New Delhi: Reacting to a recent remark by Lok Sabha Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi that the Opposition has taken it upon themselves to "do the task of the judiciary," former Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud said that the judiciary is here to "scrutinise laws" and people should not presume that it will fulfil the role of opposition in Parliament or the state legislatures.

India."When asked about intense scrutiny on

In an exclusive interview with ANI, former chief justice Chandrachud noted that there is separate space in a democracy for the political opposition.

"Well, I don't want to join issue with the leader of the Opposition because that's not the ambit of what we are here to speak. But what I want to say is this, people should not presume that the judiciary should be performing the role of the opposition in Parliament or the State legislatures. Too often, there's a misconception that the judiciary has to play the role of the Opposition in legislatures, which is not so. We are here to scrutinise laws" he said. We are entrusted with the duty to scrutinise executive action on whether it is consistent with the law, and whether it is consistent with the Constitution. There's a different space in a democracy for the political opposition. And what people try to do is to use the judiciary and to shoot from the shoulders of the judiciary and to try and convert the Court into a space for the political opposition," former chief justice Chandrachud said.Rahul Gandhi had earlier said, "We are alone working on the behalf of media, investigative agencies and judiciary also. This is the reality of social media on the duration of interactions with the Leader of the Opposition and the Prime Minister, the former chief justice said as "human beings," it is but natural to socialise during certain official meetings."Well, there are times when you interact with the leader of the Opposition as well. For instance, you know, in many of our statutes require that a selection committee for appointment to a particular post must consist of the Prime Minister, the Chief Justice of India, and the Leader of the Opposition. Now, you know, you discuss what you have to discuss, and you arrive at your conclusions. And after you're done with those conclusions, you are human beings, right? You're going to spend 10 minutes after that having a cup of tea, talking about everything under the sun from cricket to movies to something," the former Chief Justice said.Responding to the controversy that erupted after Prime Minister Narendra Modi attended a Ganpati Puja at his residence, he said, that this was not "unique," and that earlier too Prime Ministers had visited the homes of judges on social occasions.

representation for each region is expected to be a key focus while deciding the allocation of state cabinets. Alliance partners are also likely to demand ministerial positions based on their electoral performance. The Congress, which played a significant role in the alliance's victory, is expected to get four cabinet positions. The Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) is likely to receive one ministerial berth, while the left parties, with two MLAs, may get a single position. Congress will decide its ministerial nominees after consultations with its central leadership. Aspiring MLAs have already started lobbying in Delhi, where party leaders are expected to finalise names.Meanwhile, preparations for the swearing-in ceremony are underway. Chief Minister Hemant Soren has travelled to Delhi to invite senior Congress leaders, including Rahul Gandhi and Mallikarjun Kharge, to attend the event. Hemant Soren is slated to take the oath as Jharkhand's Chief Minister for the fourth time in a row on November 28.In the Jharkhand assembly elections, the JMM secured 34 seats, the Congress 16, the RJD 4, and the CPI-ML 2, paving the way for a second consecutive term for the INDIA bloc alliance in the state.

BJP leader's supporters begin month-long anti-Waqf protests amid internal rift

Despite BJP's internal divisions, supporters of BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal launched a month-long march against alleged misuse of Waqf laws.

Bengaluru. Despite an evident internal rift in Karnataka BJP, supporters of Vijayapura BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal launched a statewide march against the Waqf Board on Monday, despite Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's directive cancelling eviction notices issued to farmers and religious places. The month-long march began in Bidar, North Karnataka, and will culminate in Bengaluru on December 25. The march, supported by 12 senior BJP leaders, including MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi, MP G M Siddeshwara, former minister Arvind Limbavali, Kumar Bangarappa, is seen as a protest against alleged misuse of Waqf laws. JD(S) leader Bandeppa Kashempur also joined the march, donning a saffron scarf, signaling cross-party participation.Addressing the gathering, Yatnal accused the Waqf law of aiming to "convert India into Pakistan" and called for a robust fight against it. He said: "Wherever there are Muslim deputy commissioners, they have declared the land as property of the Waqf district and declared the entire town as Waqf. He is going to make it a mini Pakistan. Maharishi Valmiki land, houses, temples, and even the police station and quarters in Aland declared as Waqfs."

'Many departments are short of officers, but Waqf officers are taking all lands, including government land, through the tribunal. And all the people in the tribunal are Muslims. So, I ask, can they really give a fair verdict in this matter?" he questioned.He also took a veiled dig at his party, opposing dynastic politics and indirectly targeting senior BJP leader B S Yediyurappa.

Responding to this, Yediyurappa said, "Basangouda Patil Yatnal, along with others, has been requested by State BJP President Vijayendra to set aside their differences and work with us. However, continuing a separate well on him."He further appealed to Yatnal and others to come together and cooperate to strengthen the party. He said, "We have done our duty; the rest is up to him and the central leadership.All these matters are already known to the High Command, so let us wait and see what decision they make."The march follows the BJP state unit's fact-finding team's visit to Vijayapura, which sought to address to Waqf Board land. However, Yatnal and his camp distanced themselves from the exercise, claiming it lacked representation from local heavyweights like Ramesh Jigajinagi. Yatnal and his supporters organised a protest in Bidar on November 25 against the alleged Waqf Board land encroachments, allegedly without the prior approval of the state party leadership. The internal rift within the BJP became apparent as the banners announcing the protest prominently featured Prime Minister Narendra Modi, BJP President JP Nadda, and Union Home Minister Amit Shah, but were conspicuously missing the image of state president BY Vijayendra.

The party's Bidar district president filed a complaint against Yatnal's team, accusing them of unauthorised use of party symbols and leaders' images, asking the district police and municipality to remove the banners. Yet the

The weight of insecurity

- Today's human life has become quite complicated—thanks to the multifarious inventions of modern technology. Machines of different types and functions developed by scientific pursuits of contemporary times have made human living far more comfortable than hitherto, at least on the face of it. Gadgets and devices to aid our daily life activities have made our chores easier and, in many cases, effortless.
- Today, we don't have to physically exert much to perform most of our daily chores. By harnessing the enormous power of electricity, we have devised machines to perform all our tasks at the press of a button or the click of the computer 'mouse'. Even tasks like reading, cataloguing, extracting, filtering and interpreting are being outsourced to the latest tool called Artificial Intelligence or AI.Despite the wonderful gifts of technology, as mentioned above, human peace and happiness are at a great premium. The individual feels vacuous inside, and there is a wanton feeling of fulfilment.There is a grave sense of insecurity pervading all. Ideas and ideologies are many, and these have been embraced by sets of human beings dispersed all over the globe, but most of such ideologies are at variance with each other in a few or many ways.
- These ideologies determine fashion, lifestyles, customs, traditions and habits, leading to broad cultural differences. And some of these differences are so sharp that human communities holding them are living in conflict mode, riven by mutual suspicion, fear and insecurity.Hence, insecurity has afflicted humans at the individual level as well as the community level. Insecurity is the greatest bane of modern times. A businessman feels insecure about the uncertainties of the demand and supply situation, which can affect the market for his traded goods. A stock trader is ever in fear of the bulls or bears overwhelming the market depending upon which trading position he has taken.
- An old person is afraid of moving around freely lest he should fall and sustain injuries. An average employee working in the corporate sector is ever afraid to lose his job. The ruler of a country feels constantly insecure in the face of powerful enemy countries located across its borders.A farmer growing seasonal crops is insecure about his crops because of the vagaries of monsoon rains. A tiny toddler or small child feels insecure when it loses sight of its mother. Youngsters are insecure about their conjugal relationships. Life is uncertain, and you can never be sure what problem or pitfall you may have to face in the immediate or near future and this future is actually unpredictable. The whole insurance industry thrives on this sense of human insecurity about the future. Insecurity is a universal reality, and we need to keep provisioning for material resources. But insecurity should not grip us, leading to disruption of mental peace and pesky worry or tension. It will then play havoc with our personality and mar our productivity. We have to develop a more rational and pragmatic perspective on fear and insecurity. Truly speaking, nagging insecurity is due to factors more internal to us than external. Actually, the nagging sense of insecurity of people in modern times springs from ignorance, illusion and lack of perseverance. The first and foremost issue of importance in this regard is that we should try to develop a logical, rational approach toward things. Being overly emotional and succumbing to anger, pride, passion, and greed dilutes our sense of objectivity and drags us away from the truth of things.We should try to find out the truth and grasp it in all situations and circumstances. For this, we need to shed our positive and negative biases towards things and persons and acquire a level-headed approach. Truth is not to be found on the extreme left side or the extreme right side of the emotion spectrum. It is located somewhere near the centre.When insecurity comes from factors external to us which are largely not in our control, we must understand that peace-disrupting forces are generated by running faulty paradigms of living which are not

Balancing the interests of State & Justice seekers

In some contexts, the court under CJI Chandrachud's leadership fell short of expectations. There is no point in creating physical spaces and amenities without upholding the essence of justice.

The soul of justice cannot be enclosed in worldclass brick and mortar structures just as the cause of liberty is not served by sermons in structured judgements. The constitutional protection to the right of privacy is not ensured by declaring it as a fundamental right but by holding 'unconstitutional' intrusive acts of the state through its enforcement agents. Upholding constitutional values is in the nature of a sacrament; any willful infraction or apparent insouciance in protecting those values makes the justice delivery system suspect in the eyes of the public.Over a billion people in our country are watching how our courts attempt to balance the interests of the state with the interests of those seeking justice. For a polity as divisive as one prevailing since 2014, the constant vigil of the court is the only way to ensure our constitutional values are safe.Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud's tenure was high on optics and somewhat low on delivery. The court under his stewardship often compromised even on liberty, of which he was ostensibly a champion. His majoritarian tilt, reflected in some of his judgements, was worrisome. At the heart of the justice delivery system is the ability of the court to stand up to the excesses of the executive; to speak truth to power. The court's record in that endeavour has been rather weak.Despite this, Chief Justice Chandrachud, who became a judge of the Supreme Court on May 13, 2016, has many landmarks to his credit. The frenetic energy he demonstrated over the years, especially during his tenure as the CJI since November 2022, in creating inclusive infrastructural facilities for the court and lawyers has won him accolades. Sensing the inadequacy of the existing infrastructure, he single-handedly facilitated the proposed construction of a new building within the Supreme Court premises, which will have world-class facilities both in terms of court rooms as well as space for practising lawyers and litigants seeking justice. He endeared himself to members of the Bar, in particular the younger members, by his exemplary conduct in court and the patience he demonstrated when hearing matters. His initiatives were transformational in many respects. For example, moving away from physical filing to digital record-keeping has transformed access to justice, live-streaming of court proceedings in constitutional matters has brought it closer to people, and simultaneous translation of court proceedings has allowed for accuracy and contemporaneous recording, which facilitates lawyers to make their submissions with greater clarity.

The cafeteria facilities for lawyers, modernisation of facilities for the Bar, conceptualising a new building for resolution of disputes through arbitration are certainly initiatives for which he will be fondly remembered. The chief justice wondered about his own legacy. But what he should have wondered more about is the legacy of the court he left behind. In this context, the court under his leadership fell short of expectations.Part of the problem is the diktat of the Master of the Roster in assigning cases that concern our fundamental freedoms, the future not only of the polity but of the nation as well. Each one of us at the Bar is aware of the likely outcome of a case when assigned to a particular judge. Eyebrows were raised when certain cases dealing with fundamental freedoms were assigned to particular benches. That is one area where, I believe, the court requires to evolve a procedure that does not evoke suspicion or controversy. While the then chief justice must be given credit for deciding longpending constitutional matters, one felt that matters of political significance requiring urgent attention were not listed. The Shiv Sena matter was pending for over a year, giving legitimacy to a government that was constitutionally suspect. Eknath Shinde, Ajit Pawar and their lot should, I believe, have been disqualified long ago. The future of our democracy depends on the quick disposal of such matters. Had those matters been heard, the outcome of Saturday's election results in Maharashtra would have been entirely different.

Despite the fact that the PMLA judgement was under review, the matter has been kept pending for years. The Enforcement Directorate has been merrily misusing its powers by continuing to destabilise many opposition-ruled state governments. Had the law been settled in time, the future of the polity of our nation might well have been different.Amendments to existing laws were carried out by including them in the Finance Bill, thereby terming them as 'money bills'. That matter too has not been heard for years. Not deciding matters relating to the polity of our country indirectly benefited the government in power. That indeed is a matter of great concern. We have also seen, on many past occasions, that matters relating to defection were not heard for years till the term of the assembly was over.

Oppressive statutory provisions relating to bail being upheld by court required to be revisited. That too did not happen. Rampant bulldozer justice, including open threats to the minorities, did not evoke a suo motu proceeding, nor did the open threat of violence by those at the forefront of the dharma sansads. The court, I believe, is an institution that can set right the course if events in the polity go astray. The real challenge India faces relates to the slow but steady diminishing of our syncretic culture. That's what needs protection. The onslaught of majoritarianism, induction of those committed to an ideology into the judicial system, destroys the very fabric of our country. The judge needs to be independent of a political ideology when administering justice.

The induction of such judges and transfer of judges who attempted to stand up to the executive at the same time does not bode well for our judiciary. The CJI who allowed this to happen must take the blame. He was the author of a judgement that held that no further intrusion into religious places of worship was to be allowed. However, disregarding his own judgement, he allowedintrusion in the Gyanvapi case.When it mattered, he fell short. There is no point in creating physical spaces and amenities without upholding the very essence of justice, which is its soul.

Humour has long served as a means to connect people, break barriers and lighten the burdens of daily life. However, when humour perpetuates stereotypes, particularly about communities, it crosses the line into insensitivity. The ongoing plea in the SC to ban jokes targeting the Sikh community highlights the need to reassess this boundary. For decades, 'Sardar jokes' have been a staple of Indian humour, often portraying Sikhs as intellectually inferior. While such jokes might seem harmless banter to many, their societal impact is far from trivial. The normalisation of these jokes has contributed to bullying in schools and professional spaces, pushing individuals — stereotyped. Many Sikhs wear their cultural and religious identity with pride, yet they often face ridicule for doing so. This situation reveals a societal paradox where diversity is celebrated superficially but ridiculed in practice. The petitioner, Harvinder Chowdhury, has rightly called attention to the fundamental right to dignity enshrined in the Constitution. The SC's emphasis on sensitising children and encouraging steps to curb such stereotyping reflects an essential shift in addressing societal issues through education. However, the problem extends beyond classrooms. Social media, rife with unchecked content, demands stronger regulation and accountability from various platforms. Humour must reflect a society that values respect alongside free speech. Creative expression does not necessitate the demeaning of a community. Sensitisation campaigns, digital content filters and penalties for offensive material could pave the way for a more inclusive environment.

We should refer to these divinely ordained scriptures to align our institutional systems with eternal, core truths expounded therein. especially children — to question their identity and heritage. The tragic account of a Sikh boy who took his life after relentless racist bullying in the UK underscores the real-world consequences on mental health of what some dismiss as humour.

The gory tale of A Varanasi Prince

The cannibal king was said to be an earlier birth of Angulimala, the dreaded bandit who cut off a finger from each person he murdered and wore them around his neck in a gristly garland. But the Bodhisattva converted him into a gentle, enlightened person.

I had occasion to revisit the Jatakas recently and was much struck by the ferocity of the Maha Sutasoma Jataka, which is Number 537 in the Pali canon. Why were such stark stories told, I wondered. But the answer was apparent at once. The Jatakas were cautionary tales meant to teach the dreadful consequences of vice and why destructive habits should be shunned. This story goes that the Buddha, in a previous birth as a Bodhisattva, was a prince and sent to study at Taxila university. His best friend there was the prince of Varanasi. The Bodhisattva was the topper and tutored his friend. Eventually, they both went home and became kings. The prince of Varanasi never ate a meal without meat and continued doing so as king.One day, some dogs got into the royal kitchen and ate up all the meat. The terrified cook didn't know what to do. He rushed to a cemetery, cut off a part of a freshly-buried corpse, and cooked that.

The king found it so delicious that he questioned the cook closely and the cook confessed. But instead of being properly revolted, the depraved king told him to serve human flesh every day. The Jataka says this unnatural desire was because the king had been a goblin in his previous birth who frequently ate human flesh. The cook was ordered to source flesh from the prisoners in the city jail. This went on until the prison was empty. Then the cannibal king told his cook to drop a bag with one thousand coins in the street and take anyone who picked it up to be cooked. But soon, people learned it was a trap and avoided all unclaimed bags—which sadly reminds us of warnings against terrorist bombs in unclaimed bags today.So, the king told his cook to hide by a road and kill people at random to obtain their flesh. The city fell into utter panic.A crowd of agitated citizens stormed into the palace courtyard and begged their king to find the killer. When he flatly refused to do anything, to their great dismay and puzzlement—was he not their king and protector?—they turned in despair to the senapati, the commander-in-chief of the army.The senapati himself had been waiting impatiently for royal orders to catch the killer and was on the brink of taking it up with the king. He was shocked by the king's response and being a good man with a strong sense of public duty, he ordered his soldiers to hide throughout the city. They soon discovered and captured the cook. He was beaten up and confessed. When the cook was taken to face the king, the king had nowhere to hide.

He owned up to the disgusting and frightening fact that the cook was merely acting on his orders. But he declared defiantly that he would never give up eating human flesh.The horrified commander-in-chief told the cannibal king that he would be driven out of the city if he did not stop, and would come to a sorry end like what happened to a young man who would not give up alcohol.This young man was the only son of a wealthy family, and thoroughly virtuous. But one day, his friends tricked him into drinking alcohol for the first time by pouring some fiery liquor into cups made of lotus leaves and telling the young man it was lotus nectar. He drank it down and got drunk, which he unfortunately enjoyed very much.

So, he and his friends kept drinking, and when they ran out of liquor, the young man pawned his gold signet ring to buy more. He went home in total disarray and passed out. His father reasoned gently with him at first. He told him to never drink again because they were a respected family and if their reputation was destroyed, so would their business. But, the son refused and was duly kicked out of home. He died a wretched death as a beggar on the streets.However, the cannibal king was unmoved by this story. As a final attempt, the commander-in-chief brought out the cannibal king's wife and children and asked him to choose between them and eating human flesh. But, the king refused and had to be driven out of Varanasi with the cook.

He camped under a banyan tree by the highway and killed wayfarers for food. One day, when no victim appeared, he killed and ate the cook.

The Bodhisattva was then urgently sent for to do something about his friend, and went boldly to him. The Bodhisattva prayed that his friend should live a healthy, happy life for a hundred years. This pleased the cannibal king so much that he granted the Bodhisattva a wish.

At once, the Bodhisattva asked the cannibal king to stop eating people. But he laughed uproariously and refused, and told the Bodhisattva to make some other wish. But the Bodhisattva wouldn't give up, and managed, through several moral stories, to fill the cannibal king with a great fear of hell and a strong desire for heaven. Finally, the cannibal king's hard heart cracked itself free of his terrible addiction. He broke into tears and promised to stop. He threw himself at the Bodhisattva's feet and prayed for redemption. The cannibal king, says the Jataka, was an earlier birth of Angulimala, the dreaded bandit who cut off a finger from each person he murdered and wore them around his neck in a gristly garland. But the Buddha converted him into a gentle, enlightened person. A terrifying story against harmful addictions, is it not?

বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটেছে, ঝাড্খণ্ড থেকে বেঙ্গলে যানবাহনের প্রবেশ শুরু

প্রায় ২৪ ঘন্টা পর, বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটেছে এবং ঝাড়খণ্ড থেকে বেঙ্গলে যাওয়া সমস্ত পণ্যবাহী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ শুরু হয়েছে। গত সন্ধ্যা ৭টার পর বেঙ্গল সরকারের আদেশে ঝাড়খণ্ড-বেঙ্গল মথন সীমান্তে পণ্যবাহী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ নিষিদ্ধ করা হয়েছিল।

এর ফলে রাত থেকে দুপুর পর্যন্ত প্রায় ২০ কিমি দীর্ঘ যানজট সৃষ্টি হয়। চালকদের সমস্যার কথা বিবেচনা করে, MASS বেঙ্গল সরকারকে চাপ দেয় ঝাড়খণ্ড সীমান্ত থেকে বেঙ্গলে প্রবেশ করা সমস্ত যানবাহন বন্ধ করার জন্য। এর ফলে, বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটতে বাধ্য হয় এবং অবশেষে ভারী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ আবার স্বাভাবিক হয়।

বেঙ্গল সরকারের এই অনুমতির পর, ট্রাক চালকরা স্বস্তির নিঃশ্বাস ফেলেন। প্রাক্তন নিরসা বিধায়ক অরূপ চ্যাটার্জি ঝাড়খণ্ডের মুখ্যমন্ত্রী হেমন্ত সোরেনের এই উদ্যোগের প্রশংসা করেন। তিনি বলেন, মুখ্যমন্ত্রী হেমন্ত সোরেন এই বিষয়ে ক্রমাগত গুরুত্ব দিয়েছেন। বেঙ্গল সরকারের সাথে ইতিবাচক আলোচনা করার পর বেঙ্গল সরকার নিষেধাজ্ঞা তুলে নেয়। এর পর, সারিতে দাঁড়িয়ে থাকা সমস্ত পণ্যবাহী যানবাহন ধীরে ধীরে বেঙ্গলে প্রবেশ করতে শুরু করেছে। NH-এ দীর্ঘ যানজট এখন সীমিত হচ্ছে এবং যানজটও ভাঙতে

कहा कि उनकी सरकार ने हमेशा ही गन्ना किसानों को सबसे अधिक कीमत दी है और अब भी इसी दिशा में यह फैसला लिया गया है। उन्होंने बताया कि राज्य सरकार गन्ने की अग्रणी किस्मों के लिए किसानों को 401 रुपए प्रति क्रिंटल और गन्ने की मध्यम-पिछडी किस्मों के लिए 391 रुपए प्रति क्विंटल मूल्य देगी। उन्होंने कहा कि गन्ने का (एसएपी.) देश में सबसे अधिक है, जिससे किसानों को आर्थिक रूप से बड़ा लाभ होगा।

कॉरपोरेट प्रशासन में खामियों कारण एडटेक फर्म बायजू के खिलाफ नई जांच, रिपोर्ट्स में किया गया दावा

एजेंसी नई दिल्ली। सरकार ने संकटग्रस्त एडटेक कंपनी बायजू की वित्तीय और लेखा प्रथाओं की नई जांच शुरू की है। ब्लुमबर्ग की रिपोर्ट के अनुसार, मामले से परिचित सूत्रों ने बताया है कि नई जांच कॉरपोरेट मामलों के मंत्रालय की ओर से पिछली समीक्षा के बाद की गई, जिसमें कंपनी में कॉरपोरेट प्रशासन में खामियों से जुड़ी जानकारी सामने आई। हैदराबाँद में रजिस्टार

को बायजु के वित्तीय रिकॉर्ड की जांच करने के लिए कहा गया है। जांच का उद्देश्य यह पता लगाना है कि क्या कंपनी ने अपने वित्तीय विवरण गलत तरीके से प्रस्तुत किए हैं या फिर फंड का गलत तरीके से इस्तेमाल किया गया है।

यह ताजा जांच कॉरपोरेट मामलों के मंत्रालय द्वारा एक साल पहले किए गए निरीक्षण के बाद की गई है। हालांकि उस समीक्षा में

ऑफ कंपनीज के क्षेत्रीय कार्यालय 🛛 बायजू में कॉरपोरेट गवर्नेंस संबंधी समस्याएं पाई गईं, लेकिन वित्तीय गड़बड़ियों का कोई निर्णायक सबूत सामने नहीं आया।

कभी 22 बिलियन डॉलर के मूल्यांकन के साथ भारत का सबसे मल्यवान स्टार्टअप रहा बायजू अब वित्तीय उथल-पुथल और कानूनी चुनौतियों से जूंझ रहा है। कंपनी भारत और संयुक्त राज्य अमेरिका दोनों में दिवालियापन की कार्यवाही में उलझी हुई है। अक्तूर में, भारत

एजेंसी

सर्वोच्च न्यायालय ने दिवालियापन न्यायाधिकरण के उस फैसले को पलट दिया, जिसने बायजू को एक प्रमुख लेनदार के साथ अपने ऋगों का निपटान करने की अनुमति दी थी। इस फैसले ने कंपना को दिवालियापन प्रक्रिया में वापस ला दिया है, और इसके संचालन का नियंत्रण एक दिवालियापन समाधान पेशेवर को सौंप दिया गया है। बायजू के शेयरों में हुई

गिरावट ने इसके निवेशकों को बरी तरह प्रभावित किया है। प्रोसस एनवी सहित प्रमुख निवेशकों ने अपने निवेश को राइट ऑफ कर दिया है।

कंपनी के संस्थापक बायजू रवींद्रन ने हाल ही में कंपनी के पतन को स्वीकार करते हुए कहा कि इसका मूल्यांकन शून्य हो गया है। भारत के कॉरपोरेट मामलों के मंत्रालय और बायजू की देखरेख करने वाले दिवालियापन समाधान पेशेवर की ओर से कोई टिप्पणी नहीं की गई है। कंपनी ने खुद नई जांच के बारे में कोई सार्वजनिक बयान जारी नहीं किया है। एक समय था जब बायजु को भारत के तेजी से बढ़ते एडटेक सेक्टर में सफलता की कहानी के रूप में मनाया जाता था। हालांकि, कंपनी को कर्ज चुकाने के मुद्दों से लेकर कुप्रबंधन के आरोपों तक, बढ़ती चुनौतियों का सामना करना पड़ा है।

रेलप डिरक ऑपरेशन टेबल पर ही दर्द से राहत

आधुनिक काल में जहां हर क्षेत्र में मानव ने विकास किया है और सफलता के झंडे गाड़े हैं वहीं बीमारियों का शिकार होने में भी शत प्रतिशत सहयोगी बना है। अगर आज के समय में बीमारियों या शरीर के विकारों की बात की जाए तो गिनती शायद कम पड़ जाएगी मगर शरीर के विकार खत्म नहीं हो पाएंगे और इस भागती दौड़ती जिंदगी में हमारा शरीर न जाने किन-किन विकारों की चपेट में आ जाता है। आज लगभग हर आदमी को अपने जीवन काल में कमर दर्द का अनुभव होता है। अब लोगों के लिए कमर दर्द भी एक बहुत बड़ी कष्टदायक समस्या बनी हुई है और अब ये दुनिया में एक महामारी का रूप लेता जा रहा है। आज हर उम्र के लोग इससे परेशान हैं और दुनिया भर में इसके सरल व सहज इलाज की खोज जारी है।

मनुष्य के शरीर में कमर को सबसे मजबूत भाग माना जाता है 🛛 दर्द से जुड़ी बीमारियों के प्राय-लक्षण हैं-पैरों का सुन्न व हमारी कमर की बनावट में हड्डियां, कार्टिलेज(डिस्क), जोड़, मांसपेशियां, लिगामेंट व नसें आदि सभी शामिल हैं। इनमें से किसी के भी विकारग्रस्त होने पर कमर दर्द उत्पन्न हो सकता है। मैकेनिकल कारणों के साथ टीबी से लेकर कैंसर तक कोई भी कारण दर्द पैदा कर सकता है। कमरदर्द का शिकार पुरूषों से अधिक महिलाएं होती हैं जिसका मुख्य कारण होता है कमर की मांसपेशियों की कमजोरी।

होना, भारी या कमजोरी का एहसास होना,पेशाब में परेशानी, चलने पर पैरों के दर्द का बढना, झुकने या खांसने पर परे पैर में करंट जैसा लगना आदि। कई बार रोगियों की चाल शराबियों जैसे लडखडाती चाल हो जाती है। कमर दर्द के कई मुख्य कारण है। ये सभी कारण कई रीढ़ संबंधी बीमारियों को जन्म देती है जैसे-स्पोंडिलाइटिस, सर्वाइकल, टी.बी, कमर में टयमर, समस्या बन गई है।

दरअसल स्लिप डिस्क ऐसी बीमारी है जिसे समझने के लिए रीढ़ के बनावट के बारे में जानना जरूरी है। हमारी रीढ़ की हड़ी प्राय- 33 हड्डियों के जोड़ से बनती है और प्रत्येक दो हड्डियां आगे की तरफ एक जोड़ों के द्वारा जुड़ी रहती है। यह डिस्क प्राय-रबड़ की तरह होती है जो इन हड्डियों को जोडने के साथ-साथ तो इन्हीं डिस्क में उत्पन्न हुए विकारों

कमर से पैर तक असहनीय दर्द होता रहता है। स्लिप डिस्क का रोग कमर के अलावा गर्दन में भी हो सकता है। अभी तक पुराने स्लिप डिस्क के ऑपरेशन से लोग काफी भयभीत थे, क्यों कि इसमें नसों के कट जाने व अपाहिज हो जाने का डर रहता था। इस बीमारी से इसका दूसरा कारण है कमर की हड्डियों के जोडों में विकार है। कमर स्पिलड डिस्क आदि। स्लिप डिस्क इसमें से एक बहुत ही गंभीर निजात पाने के लिए कई शोध किए जा रहे हैं तथा नई-नई आधुनिकताओं ने व कई प्रयोगों ने बहुत सी नवीन तकनीकों को जन्म दियाँ है मिनिमली इंवेसिव स्पाइन सर्जरी को %की होल सर्जरी' के नाम से भी जाना जाता है जिस में एक पतली दूरबीन जैसे एक यंत्र जिसे %एंडोस्कोप' कहा जाता है इस्तेमाल की जाती है जो कि एक छोटे से चीरे के द्वारा अंदर डाली जाती है। एंडोस्कोप एक छोटे वीडियो कैमरे से जुड़ा होता है जो कि मरीज के शरीर के अंदर की सभी गतिविधियों को ऑपरेशन के कमरे में रखे टीवी की स्क्रीन पर डिस्क के द्वारा और पीछे की तरफ दो प्रदर्शित क रता है। एक या अधिक अतिरिक्त आधा इंच के चीरे के द्वारा फिर से एक छोटी शल्यक्रिया यंत्र डाला जाता है। कुछ महीनों बाद इस के निशान स्वयं दूर हो जाते है। स्लिप डिस्क के मरीज जिन्हें चाहे गर्दन से दर्द से या कमर में अब इस आसान व सुरक्षित उनको लचीलापन प्रदान करती है। विधि से निजात पा सकते है। यह सर्जरी केवल एक छोटे से छिद्र के द्वारा संभव हो जाती है और इसमें मरीज को बेहोश करने की भी को कहते हैं स्लिप डिस्क और कमर आवश्यकता नहीं पड़ती। इस ऑपरेशन में टीवी पर देखते हुए एक दर्द से जुड़ी बीमारियों की पहचान है। चार मिलीमीटर का इंडोस्कोप सुन्न करके डिस्क में डाला जाता है और कमर से लेकर पैरों में जाता हुआ दर्द सी आर्म व टेलीविजन मॉनिटर पर 20 गुणा बड़ी तस्वीर को देखते जिसके साथ ही साथ पैरों का सुन्न या हुए सूक्ष्म व सफल तरीके से निकाला भी जा सकता है। इस भारी होना या चीटियां चलने जैसा ऑपरेशन में आधे से एक घंटे का समय लगता है और मरीज को दर्द एहसास भी हो सकता है। आगे का आभास न हो इस लिए पूरे ऑपरेशन के दौरान चिकित्सक मरीज चलकर दर्द के मारे चलने में से बातचीत करता रहता है तथा स्लिप डिस्क के हटते ही मरीज को असमर्थ और कई बार लेटे-लेटे भी ऑपरेशन टेबल पर ही दर्द से राहत मिलने लगती है।

सर्दियों में तन की दुर्गध से निजात पाने के घरेलु नुस्खे

कई बार ऐसा होता है कि सामने वाले से ऐसी दुर्गंध आती है कि उसके पास बैठना मुश्किल हो जाता है। ऐसा नहीं है कि जो लोग नहीं नहाते, उन्हीं के शरीर से दुर्गंध आती हो। कई बार नियमित तौर पर नहाने के बाद भी शरीर से दुर्गंध आती है, जिसका एक कारण तो यह भी है कि आजकल ज्यादातर लोग फील्ड वर्क करते हैं।

साधारण या ब्रांडेड डियोडोरैंट कुछ समय से ज्यादा शरीर की दुर्गंध को दूर नहीं भगा सकता, परंतु आप अपनी रूटीन में कुछ तरीकों को शामिल कर आसानी से इस समस्या को दूर भगा सकती हैं।

खाने-पीने की आदतों पर ध्यान दें

अपने खाने में प्याज एवं लहसून का सेवन कम कर दें। यही नहीं, मेथी भी कम ही खाएं, क्योंकि इन खाद्य पदार्थों से शरीर के सुक्ष्म छिद्रों द्वारा उनकी गंध बाहर आने लगती है, जो दूसरों को दुर्गंध लगती है। ज्यादा मसालेदार खाने से भी परहेज करें।

प्रतिदिन स्नान करें – यदि आप हर रोज स्नान नहीं करते, तो शरीर से दुर्गंध आना स्वाभाविक है। हर दिन बढिया क्वालिटी के साबुन से स्नान करें। गर्मियों के दिनों में तो कम से कम दो बार स्नान अवश्य करें। सर्दियों में गुनगुने पानी से स्रान करें।

Marnus Labuschagne can turn it around: Australia coach backs batter to hit form

- NEW DELHI. Australian coach Andrew McDonald has offered a strong vote of confidence in Marnus Labuschagne, despite the struggling batter's alarming slump in form in a crushing 295-run defeat to India in the opening Test of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Perth. While McDonald didn't guarantee the same XI would feature in the second Test in Adelaide, the decline in Labuschagne's performances remains a primary concern.Labuschagne, once a cornerstone of Australia's batting lineup, has been in a significant rut, scoring just 123 runs in his last 10 Test innings at a poor average of 13.66. His latest performances in Perth were particularly troubling, with the Queenslander dismissed for just 2 and 3 in the two innings as India dominated the Australian top order.
- Despite the struggles, McDonald is resolute in his belief that Labuschagne can rediscover his best form. "When he's at his best, he's shown great intent at the crease," McDonald said. "It's an ongoing discussion, and that ebbs and flows within players' careers. At the moment, he's in one of those patches, but we're really confident that at his best, he's the player that we need."Labuschagne's woes are not limited to his numbers; his technique and footwork have been under the microscope. The batter's troubles at the crease were evident in Perth, where his fragile form saw him fall victim to Indian captain Jasprit Bumrah for a second time in the match. Despite the harsh critiques, McDonald remains confident that Labuschagne will be given every opportunity to turn his fortunes around."The mindset and technical aspects are always a combination of factors," McDonald explained. "We're confident that he can turn that around."The coach also addressed the prospect of changes to the squad, particularly if Labuschagne's slump continues. While McDonald acknowledged the impressive depth in domestic cricket, with players like Brendan Doggett making a mark in the Australia A series, he maintained that the squad is built on the confidence that Labuschagne can

New Delhi. Australia retained their 13-member squad for their second Test against India, confirmed selector and coach Andrew McDonald. It was also the first time Australia lost at the Optus Stadium after winning four matches on the trot since 2018.McDonald, however, showed faith in their squad to make a turnaround in the Pink-Ball Test, starting December 6 at the Adelaide Oval."The same people in that changeroom are the same people that will be in Adelaide. Seven all out! Ivory Coast record lowest ever men's T20 international score

New Delhi. Nigeria routed Ivory Coast by a staggering 264 runs in a T20 World Cup Sub-Regional Africa Qualifier Group C match on Sunday. The Ivory Coast's total of just seven runs shattered the record for the lowest-ever score in men's T20 international cricket, surpassing the previous mark of 10 runs, jointly held by Mongolia and the Isle of Man.Playing at Lagos' Tafawa Balewa Square Cricket Oval, Nigeria's Selim Salau lit up the stage with a blistering knock of 112 off just 53 balls, studded with 13 fours and two sixes. Supported by half-centuries from Sulaimon Runsewe (50 off 29 balls) and Isaac Okpe (an unbeaten 65 off 23 balls), Nigeria posted an imposing 271 for 4 the highest score of the tournament so far.In response, Ivory Coast's batting unravelled spectacularly. Opener Ouattara Mohamed was the only batter to manage a meaningful contribution, scoring four runs. The rest of the lineup folded in just 7.3 overs, with six batters falling for ducks. Left-arm spinner Isaac Danladi and pacer Prosper Useni claimed three wickets apiece, with Peter Aho and Sylvester Okpe chipping in to complete the rout. This historic capitulation marked the first singledigit total in men's T20Is. The 264-run defeat is now the third-largest margin in the format, trailing Zimbabwe's 290-run win over Gambia in October and Nepal's 273-run triumph over Mongolia at the 2023 Asian Games.

Ivory Coast's latest struggles followed a similarly lopsided loss to Sierra Leone, where they were bowled out for 21. The back-to-back defeats have left them anchored to the bottom of the six-team standings. Nigeria, on the other hand, remain unbeaten and sit atop the table, buoyed by their strong performances. For Nigeria, the win further underscores their growing stature in African cricket. For Ivory Coast, this record-breaking defeat will demand serious introspection as they seek to recover from a nightmare start to their

RR can provide a good environment for Suryavanshi to grow: Rahul Dravid

NEW DELHI. Rajasthan Royals head coach Rahul Dravid believes the franchise can offer 13-year-old Vaibhay Suryavanshi the ideal environment to develop his talent during his upcoming stint in the Indian Premier League (IPL). The eighth-grade student from Samastipur, Bihar, made history by securing a Rs 1.10 crore contract with achievements, Suryavanshi is still finding his footing in first-class cricket. Having debuted at just 12 years and 284 days in the Ranji Trophy last season, he averaged 10 across five matches, with a top score of 41. However, his stellar performance in the Vinoo Mankad Trophy, where he strengthened their pace department with additions like Jofra Archer, Akash Madhwal, Tushar Deshpande, Fazalhaq Farooqi, Ashok Sharma, and Kwena Maphaka. For spin options, they secured Kumar Kartikeya Singh and Maheesh Theekshana, alongside all-rounders Wanindu Hasaranga and

Fearless' Yashasvi Jaiswal will inherit mantle of Kohli, Tendulkar: Greg Chappell

NEW DELHI. Former India coach Greg Chappell says Yashasvi Jaiswal appears to be in a good position to carry on the wonderful heritage of batting excellence created by Sachin Tendulkar and Virat Kohli. The Australian batting legend lauded Jaiswal's fearless approach and technical brilliance, which were on full display during his scintillating 161-run knock against Australia in Perth, contributing to India's commanding 295-run victory."The young opener is fearless and appears poised to inherit the mantle of Indian batting excellence, following the likes of Virat Kohli and Sachin Tendulkar," Chappell wrote for the Sydney Morning Herald. Chappell credited India's robust cricketing infrastructure and strategic planning for nurturing talents like Jaiswal. Highlighting Jaiswal's inspiring journey from a 10-year-old dreamer in Mumbai to a mainstay in India's batting lineup, Chappell said, "Jaiswal's journey encapsulates why India's planning and infrastructure give them a clear edge in world cricket."The contrast between India and Australia's approach to youth cricket development was a key focus of Chappell's column. He emphasized that India's extensive domestic structure and emphasis on long-form cricket at junior levels have cultivated a pipeline of highly skilled players. "A comparison with Australia's Nathan McSweeney is illuminating," Chappell observed. "At 22, Jaiswal has already played 14 Tests, 30 first-class matches, 32 List A games, and 53 IPL matches. In contrast, McSweeney, 25, has just debuted in Tests, with fewer domestic appearances across formats."Chappell praised the role of Rahul Dravid, who has been instrumental in shaping India's junior cricket programs. Under Dravid's leadership, India's focus on red-ball cricket at the grassroots level has paid dividends. "India's system prioritises longform cricket at the youth level. This ensures players are well-versed in the nuances of the game. When India's U-19 team plays other countries, it often feels like men playing against boys in terms of game awareness," Chappell noted. Chappell, a stalwart of Australian cricket, also warned Cricket Australia about the potential long-term consequences of their current development pathways. He criticised the limited competitive opportunities available to young Australian cricketers, which he believes stunts their growth.

the Royals, becoming the youngest cricketer ever to earn an IPL deal. "I think he's (Suryavanshi) got some really good skills, so we thought it might be a good environment for him to grow in. Vaibhav just came to our trials and we were really happy with what he saw," said Dravid in an IPL video.

Suryavanshi's meteoric rise has already made waves in Indian cricket. The eighth-standard student from Samastipur, Bihar, recently became the youngest batter to score an international century, smashing a 62-ball 104 in a Youth Test for India U-19 against Australia U-19 in Chennai. He also debuted in the Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy last Saturday, scoring 13 off six balls for Bihar.Despite these scored nearly 400 runs in five matches. has cemented his reputation as a rising star on the junior circuit.While the acquisition of Suryavanshi has captured headlines, Dravid shed light on the team's broader strategy during the auction. "A big target for us in this auction really was bowlers," he revealed. Rajasthan Royals auction having retained a lot of our core Indian batsmen. We wanted a strong bowling attack, and I think we achieved that," Dravid explained. "With players like Jofra and the unique skills he brings, backed by left-arm options like Farooqi and Maphaka, we've got the versatility we were looking for."Dravid also highlighted the challenges and excitement of navigating the auction dynamics. "There are nine other teams, all well-prepared and planned. You have to think on your feet and have plans A, B, C, and D. It was challenging but incredibly rewarding." With a mix of promising young talent like Suryavanshi and seasoned bowlers, the Royals appear ready to make a mark in the upcoming IPL season.

batter Josh Inglis and fast bowler Scott Boland.

McDonald also backed the out-of-form Marnus Labuschage to find his feet after failing in the opening Test. In the first innings, Marnus scored 2 off 52 balls before Mohammed Siraj ended his painful vigil. In the second innings, Jasprit Bumrah trapped him plumb in front.

"That's an ongoing discussion and that ebbs and flows in players' careers, so at the moment he's in one of those patches and no doubt he'll be getting critiqued externally. But internally we're really confident that, at his best, he's the player that we need," McDonald added.In the Perth Test, Australia would have fancied their chances after bowling India out for 150 in the first innings. But India made a comeback through Jasprit Bumrah's five-wicket haul, after which Yashasvi Jaiswal and Virat Kohli scored hundreds.

From Brett Lee to Spencer Johnson: KKR's love for explosive Australian pacers in IPL

KKR bought Spencer Johnson for INR 2.80 crore in the

releasing Mitchell Starc

NEW DELHI. After letting go off Mitchell Starc, who terrorised the Sunrisers Hyderabad in the Qualifier 1 and Final of the last season of the Indian Premier League (IPL), Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) lacked a genuine pacer in their ranks. From Shoaib Akhtar, Umar Gul, Shane Bond, Trent Boult to Charl Langedveldt, a number of marquee fast bowlers have donned the KKR jersey over the years since the inception of the tournament back in 2008.

But the Knights have always had an inclination towards quality Australian fast bowlers. Who could forget the lethal delivery, the opening ball of IPL 2013 that Unmukt Chand had no clue about? Unmukt Chand had no clue about? Interestingly, Lee, who made a move from Punjab Kings, was the first out-and-out fast bowler that played for the Knights. Lee played only three games that season, but it marked the beginning of KKR's love-affair with Australian speedsters.After Lee, the Knights had as many as six Aussie pagers in their team many as six Aussie pacers in their team, including Pat Cummins, John Hastings, Nathan Courter-Nile, Mitchell Johnson, Starc and now Spencer Johnson. In the auction that took place in Jeddah on Auction that took place in Jeduan on November 24 and 25, the Knight Riders engaged in a mini-bidding-war for Spencer with the Kings before bagging the seamer for INR 2.80 crore from a base price of INR 2 crore.As far as the upcoming IPL is concerned, the Knights will be looking to make use of Johnson, who has come up the ranks. Now let's have a look at Johnson's short career. Impressive Spencer Johnson

Johnson has had a short career for Australia, having played only eight T20Is since his debut last year against South Africa at the Kingsmead in Durban. But it was only recently that Johnson made a mark. The left-armer holds the record for the best figures by an Australian pacer in Men's T20Is.Johnson broke James Faulkner's record set back in 2016 against Pakistan during the T20 World Cup. His figures of 4-0-26-5 rattled the Pakistani batting lineup at the Sydney Cricket Ground. It wasn't a surprise that Johnson won the Player of the Match award after the Aussies won by 13 runs.Earlier this year, Johnson bagged the POTM award in the final as the Brisbane Heat won the Big Bash League (BBL) after beating multiple champions Sydney Sixers at the SCG. He finished with figures of 4-0-26-4, helping the Heat bowl the Sixers out for 112 in 17.3 overs while defending 166.Johnson also bagged the limelight after bowling 19 dot balls out of 20 on debut in the Hundred Men's competition. Playing for Oval Invincibles against Manchester Originals, Johnson had figures of 20-19-1-3.Given his past records in tournaments around the world, KKR will be keen to unleash the fast bowler. Being a left-arm pacer, Johnson can also be their 'X' factor in the championship.
