Brazil's Bolsonaro hoping Trump will aid political comeback: Report

WASHINGTON. Brazil's ex-president Jair Bolsonaro is hoping that incoming US leader Donald Trump will support his political comeback in 2026 elections, according to an interview published Thursday, despite facing charges over an alleged coup plot.

The Wall Street Journal reported that Bolsonaro is banking on Trump pressuring Brazilian judges to delay enforcing a court ruling that bars him from office until 2030 for baselessly trashing Brazil's voting system ahead of the 2022 elections he lost.

"Trump is back, and it's a sign we'll be back too," said Bolsonaro, who the newspaper reported had been in close contact with the Republican since his US election victory in early November. A spokesperson for Trump's incoming administration did not respond to a request for comment, the Wall Street Journal said. Bolsonaro -- a hard-right populist widelydubbed the "Tropical Trump" during his 2019-2023 term -- has remained politically active since leaving office, recently campaigning for the right-wing Liberal Party ahead of October municipal elections. Like Trump, he has blamed his legal issues on apparent political persecution.Brazilian police have accused Bolsonaro of participating in a 2022 plot to prevent President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva from taking office, and of being aware of an alleged plan to assassinate the incumbent.He is accused alongside 36 other people named as co-conspirators in a police report made public this week. Brazil's attorney general is examining the allegations to see if the evidence supports the charges.

Taiwan Reports Surge In Chinese Military Activity, Detects 33 PLA Aircraft

World Taiwan's Ministry of National Defense (MND) on Friday reported an increase in Chinese military activity around the island, detecting over 30 PLA aircraft and 8 PLAN vessels around Taiwan.

The details were shared in a post on X.

'33 PLA aircraft and 8 PLAN vessels operating around Taiwan were detected up until 6 a.m. (UTC+8) today. 21 of the aircraft crossed the median line and entered Taiwan's northern, southwestern and eastern ADIZ. We have monitored the situation and responded accordingly."Chinese incursions around Taiwan have increased recently. In response, Taiwan has stepped up security along its maritime borders. Taiwan's armed forces conducted a comprehensive air defense drill on Thursday as China reportedly prepares for its third large-scale military exercise, Joint Sword-2024C, near Taiwan.The drill, which involved air, naval, and missile defense units, was conducted to strengthen readiness against potential aerial and missile threats, according to Taiwan News. The Air Force Command stated that the exercise took place from 5 am to 7 am, deploying fighter jets, naval vessels, and air defence missile systems. Aircraft such efence Fighter (IDF), Indigenou 2000, F-16, and C-130 transport planes were utilised, along with ground-based air defence missile units.Recently, Taiwanese President, Lai Ching-te attended the completion ceremony for the #ROCN Shuei-Sing Barracks. The base will serve as the new home for the Taiwanese Navy Underwater Operations Unit and enhance its training capabilities. Taiwan President Lai Ching-te convened a high-level national security conference in which he assured the public about the government's commitment to neutralising any threat to Taiwan's democracy and security after China staged a large-scale military drill around the island. He made his remarks in response to the Chinese People's Liberation Army's (PLA) announcement of military drills, named "Joint Sword-2024B," in the Taiwan Strait and surrounding areas, which were described as a "stern warning" to advocates of Taiwan independence, according to the Taipei Times

Saudi Arabia to host UN talks on drought, desertification

Saudi Arabia is aiming to restore 40 million hectares of degraded land.

RIYADH. Saudi Arabia will host the COP16 UN conference on land degradation and desertification next week as the top oil exporter pitches itself as an environmental defender despite criticism of its role at climate talks.UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres has called the meeting for the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD) a "moonshot moment" to protect and restore land and respond to drought.Activists accused Saudi Arabia, the world's biggest oil exporter, of trying to water down calls to phase out fossil fuels at last week's COP29 UN climate talks in Azerbaijan.

However, the subject of desertification is close to home for the Gulf kingdom, which has one of the biggest deserts on the planet."We are a desert country. We are exposed to the harshest mode of l and d e gradation which is desertification," deputy environment minister Osama Faqeeha told AFP."Our land is arid. Our rainfall is very little. And this is the reality. And we have been dealing with this for centuries."Land degradation disrupts ecosystems and makes land less productive for agriculture, leading to food shortages and spurring migration.Land is considered degraded when its productivity has been harmed by human activities like pollution or deforestation. Desertification is an extreme form of degradation. The last gathering of parties to the convention, in Ivory Coast in 2022, produced a commitment to "accelerating the restoration of one billion hectares of degraded land by 2030".But the UNCCD, which brings together 196 countries and the European Union, now says 1.5 billion hectares (3.7 billion acres) must be restored by decade's end to combat crises including escalating droughts.Saudi Arabia is aiming to restore 40 million hectares of degraded land, Faqeeha told

AFP, without specifying a timeline. He said Riyadh anticipated restoring "several million hectares of land" by 2030.So far 240,000 hectares have been recovered using measures including banning illegal logging and expanding the number of national parks from 19 in 2016 to more than 500, Faqeeha said.Other ways to restore land include planting trees, crop rotation, managing grazing and restoring wetlands.The COP29 climate talks yielded a hard won $300 billion climate finance deal that poorer nations most at risk of worsening disasters dismissed as insultingly low.UNCCD executive secretary Ibrahim Thiaw told AFP he hoped COP16 would result in an agreement to accelerate land restoration and develop a "proactive" approach to droughts."We have already lost 40 percent of our land and our soils," Thiaw said."Global security is really at stake, and you see it all over the world. Not only in Africa, not only in the Middle East."Faqeeha said he hoped the talks would bring more global awareness to the threat posed by degradation and desertification."If we continue to allow land to degrade, we will have huge losses," he said."Land degradation now is a major phenomenon that is really happening under the radar."Saudi Arabia's high oil production, resulting in eyewatering profits for oil giant Aramco, routinely draws the ire of climate activists.But its exposure to desertification could give it more credibility during the Riyadh talks."With the desertification fight, (Saudi Arabia is) not necessarily directly contributing to the problem, whereas with climate change, it obviously is," said Patrick Galey, senior fossil fuels investigator for Global Witness.

Saudi Arabia can, with some legitimacy, claim to be standing up for the little guy when it comes to desertification, because it is directly affected."

No Minority Feels Safe In Bangladesh': Former USCIRF Donald Tr Commissioner Says Muhammad Yunus Is 'Failing'

Washington DC. Johnnie Moore, former Commissioner of the United States Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF), has slammed the Bangladesh interim government over the situation of Hindus and other minorities in Bangladesh, saying "there isn't a minority in the country that doesn't feel under threat right now" and that "Muhammad Yunus is failing."

In an interview with ANI, Moore said it is the government's first responsibility to protect those under threat. He also said that this is a moment of "existential threat not only for the minorities of Bangladesh but for the entire country". Moore criticised the arrest of priest Chinmoy Krishna Das by Bangladesh Police and said perception among minorities is "if they'll go after him, they'll go after any of us". The former USCIRF Commissioner said the global Christian community stands with the Hindu community in Bangladesh.

Bangladesh isn't just a Muslim country. It's a Muslim-majority country that has many, many minorities. There isn't a minority in the country that doesn't feel under threat right now. That's been globally evident in recent days as this high-profile arrest has taken place of net under deader of the Hindu Bangladeshi community, but really a very serious religious figure. I think the perception is if they'll go after him, they'll go after any of us. I want to be crystal clear, that the global Christian community stands with the Hindu community in Bangladesh. It is the first responsibility of a government to protect those under threat. The religious minorities of Bangladesh are really feeling it now and they deserve our support," he said. We're not sure who's really doing this, but let me just say, the way I see it, Muhammad Yunus is failing. That's what's happening in Bangladesh now. As, the leader of the country, as the interim leader of the Bangladeshi people. If you can't of civil society, which is you have to protect people, people have to be safe. If the rule of law becomes so inefficient that instead of getting due process, a lawyer is killed. This is unbelievable, I was astonished by the response of Mr Yunus in the Bangladeshi government. They are saying this is exaggerated. They're saying that this isn't as big a deal as it seems," he added. Moore said the visuals and the reports

Aoore said the visuals and the reports that are coming out of Bangladesh show that how a Hindu priest was first arrested then he was denied bail by the local court. "Then the lawyer defending the priest was killed amid protests outside the court where the lawyer was hacked to death by protesters, dragging him out of his chamber. It's become a major rallying point in the country," Moore said.

As the leader of the country, as the interim leader of the country, there are no aspirations for the Bangladeshi people if you can't manage a very, very simple component of civil society, which is you have to protect people. People have to be safe. And you certainly, you certainly cannot have a vibrant democratic country...if the rule of laws becomes so inefficient that instead of getting due process, a lawyer

Donald Trump's call for 'energy dominance' is likely to run into real-world limits

WASHINGTON. President-elect Donald Trump is set to create a National Energy Council that he says will establish American "energy dominance" around the world as he seeks to boost U.S. oil and gas drilling and move away from President Joe Biden's focus on climate change. The energy council - to be led by North Dakota Gov. Doug Burgum, Trump's choice to head the Interior Department - will be key in Trump's pledge to "drill, drill, drill" and sell more oil and other energy sources to allies in Europe and around the globe.he new council will be granted sweeping authority over federal agencies involved in energy permitting, production, generation, distribution, regulation and transportation, with a mandate to cut bureaucratic red tape, enhance private sector investments and focus on innovation instead of "totally unnecessary regulation," Trump said.

But the president-elect's energy wishes are likely to run into real-world limits. For one, U.S. oil production under Biden is already at record levels. The federal government cannot force companies to drill for more oil, and production increases could lower prices and reduce profits. A call for energy dominance — a term Trump also used in his first term as president — "is an opportunity, not a requirement," for the oil industry to move forward on drilling projects under terms that are likely to be more favorable to industry than those offered by Biden, said energy analyst Kevin Book.Whether Trump achieves energy dominance — however he defines it — "comes down to decisions by private companies, based on how they see supplydemand balances in the global marketplace," said Book, managing partner at ClearView Energy Partners, a Washington research firm. Don't expect an immediate influx of new oil rigs dotting the national landscape, he said. Trump's bid to boost oil supplies and lower U.S. prices - is complicated by his threat this week to impose 25% import tariffs on Canada and Mexico, two of the largest sources of U.S. oil imports. U.S. The oil industry warned the tariffs could raise prices and even harm national security."Canada and Mexico are our top energy trading partners, and maintaining the free flow of energy products across our borders is critical for North American energy security and U.S. consumers," said Scott Lauermann, speaking for the American Petroleum Institute, the oil industry's top lobbying group.American Fuel & Petrochemical Manufacturers, which represents U.S. refineries, also opposes potential tariffs, saying in a statement that "American refiners depend on crude oil from Canada and Mexico to produce the affordable, reliable fuels consumers count on every day."Scott Segal, a former Bush administration official, said the idea of centering energy decisions at the White House follows an example set by Biden, who named a trio of White House advisers to lead on climate policy. Segal, a partner at the law and policy law firm Bracewell, called Burgum "a steady hand on the tiller" with experience in fossil fuels and renewables.

Putin: Russia will use all weapons at disposal if Ukraine gets N-arms

World President Vladimir Putin said Thursday that Russia would use all weapons at its disposal against Ukraine if Kyiv were to acquire nuclear arms. The NYT reported last week that some unidentified Western officials had suggested US President Joe Biden could give Ukraine nuclear weapons before he leaves office. If the country which we are essentially at war with now becomes a nuclear power, what do we do? We will use all means of destruction available to Russia," Putin said at a presser in Kazakhstan. "If officially someone were to transfer something, then that would mean a violation of all the nonproliferation commitments they have made," Putin said. He also said it was practically impossible for Ukraine to produce a nuclear weapon, but that it might be able to make some kind of "dirty bomb", a conventional bomb laced with radioactive material. In that case, Russia would respond appropriately, he said.Putin also said that Russia may use its new Oreshnik hypersonic missile to attack "decisionmaking centres" in Kyiv in response to Ukraine's firing of Western missiles at Russian territory. Russia has not so far struck Ukrainian ministries, parliament or president's office in the 33-month war.

Kyiv is heavily protected by air defences, but Putin says the Oreshnik, which Russia fired for the first time at a Ukrainian city last week, is "incapable of being intercepted". "At present, the ministry of defence and the general staff are selecting targets. These could be military facilities, defence and industrial enterprises, or decision-making centres in Kyiv."Putin praised US Prez-elect Trump as an experienced and intelligent politician, but said he did not believe he was safe. Putin said he had been shocked by the way the US election campaign had unfolded.

Israeli Fighter Jet Launches Airstrike In Lebanon Amid Ceasefire

Jerusalem. An Israeli fighter jet launched an airstrike in southern Lebanon, said the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) in a statement, claiming the attack aimed to "thwart a threat."

This is reportedly the first strike of its kind took place on Thursday since the ceasefire deal between Israel and Hezbollah in Lebanon took effect early Wednesday morning, Xinhua news agency reported. The IDF statement said that "terrorist activities were identified in a facility used by Hezbollah to store mid-range rockets in southern Lebanon," adding, "The IDF troops are deployed in southern Lebanon, operating to prevent any violation of the ceasefire." Earlier on Thursday, the IDF confirmed that it conducted a drone strike in southern Lebanon in the morning, describing it as a warning shot. The IDF said several "suspects," southern Lebanon, violating the ceasefire agreement. In response, the military fired a warning shot near a vehicle in the Markaba area, aiming to deter it without causing casualties. However, Lebanese military sources reported that at least two individuals were injured due to the strike.

Meanwhile, unnamed official and military sources in Lebanon reported four additional injuries in a series of Israeli attacks on the village of Taybeh in southern Lebanon, accusing the Israeli army of breaching the truce. They added that more such attacks took place in the towns of Al-Bissariye, Shebaa, and Khiam, as well as in the villages of Kfarchouba, Halta, Tayr Harfa, Mays al-Jabal, Kafr Kila, and Aitaroun.

Although a cautious calm prevailed across the border areas in southern Lebanon since the entry into force of a ceasefire between Hezbollah and the Israeli army at 4:00 a.m. local time on Wednesday, the two sides have been trading accusations of ceasefire violations. Israel launches airstrike on Lebanon day after ceasefire, says Hezbollah violated truce

Israel said they were violating the ceasefire agreement, without providing details. Lebanon's state-run National News Agency said two people were wounded.

BEIRUT. The Israeli military on Thursday said its warplanes fired on southern Lebanon after detecting Hezbollah activity at a rocket storage facility, the first Israeli airstrike a day after a ceasefire between Israel and Hezbollah took hold. There was no immediate word on casualties from Israel's aerial attack, which came hours after the Israeli military said it fired on people trying to return to certain areas in southern Lebanon.Israel said they were violating the ceasefire agreement, without providing details. Lebanon's state-run National News Agency said two people were wounded.The back-to-back incidents stirred unease about the agreement, brokered by the United States and France, which includes an initial twomonth ceasefire in which Hezbollah militants are to withdraw north of the Litani River and Israeli forces are to return to their side of the border. The buffer zone would be patrolled by Lebanese troops and U.N. peacekeepers.

On Thursday, the second day of a ceasefire after more than a year of bloody conflict between Israel and Hezbollah, Lebanon's state news agency reported that Israeli fire targeted civilians in Markaba, close to the border, without providing further details. Israel said it fired artillery in three other locations near the border. There were no immediate reports of casualties.An Associated Press reporter in northern Israel near the border heard Israeli drones buzzing overhead and the sound of artillery strikes from the Lebanese side.The Israeli military said in a statement that "several suspects were identified arriving with vehicles to a number of areas in southern Lebanon, breaching the conditions of the ceasefire." It said troops "opened fire toward them" and would "actively enforce violations of the ceasefire agreement."Israeli officials have said forces will be withdrawn gradually as it ensures that the agreement is being enforced. Israel has warned people not to return to areas where troops are deployed, and says it reserves the right to strike Hezbollah if it violates the terms of the truce.A Lebanese military official said Lebanese troops would gradually deploy in the south as Israeli troops withdraw. The official spoke on condition of anonymity because they were not authorized to brief media.The ceasefire agreement announced late Tuesday ended 14 months of conflict between Israel and Hezbollah that began a day after Hamas' Oct. 7, 2023 attack out of Gaza, when the Lebanese militant group began firing rockets, drones and missiles in solidarity.Israel retaliated with airstrikes, and the conflict steadily intensified for nearly a year before boiling over into allout war in mid-September. The war in Gaza is still raging with no end in sight.

Nine elected MLAs from UP take oath with 'Nation First' commitment

by Sanjay Saxena

Lucknow: After the results of the nine assembly seats in Uttar Pradesh, all the newly elected MLAs were sworn in today, Friday, by the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, Satish Mahana. After the ceremony, the BJP legislators went to the party office where they were honored. During the oath-taking ceremony, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath congratulated the winning candidates, calling their victory a triumph for the state's development and the people's trust.

Out of the nine newly elected, seven were from the BJP and two from the Samajwadi Party. The victorious candidates who took the oath included Ramveer Singh from Kundarki, Deepak Patel from Phulpur, Surendra Singh from Khair, Sanjeev Sharma from Ghaziabad, Dharmraj Nishad from Katehari, Suchismita Maurya from Majhwan, and Mithlesh Pal from Mirapur of RLD. All of these candidates expressed their gratitude to the public for their trust and support and emphasized prioritizing the development of their constituencies. All of them reaffirmed their commitment to "Nation First" and, in unison, seven out of the nine elected MLAs expressed their loyalty to the leadership of Modi and Yogi. After the oath-taking ceremony, Speaker Mahana addressed the newly elected members, stating that being a member of the Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly is a matter of pride. He said, "You have been given the opportunity to serve the public." Mahana told the BJP legislators that if they go among the people to discuss the work of the Chief Minister, they will win every time. "You have two and a half years; spend as much time as possible among the people. Also, your presence should be visible in the assembly. Your performance here will be a message to the public of your active involvement." During the oath ceremony, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, Deputy Chief Minister Keshav Prasad Maurya, and Brajesh Pathak, along with many other BJP leaders and workers, were present.

In view of the security during the Maha Kumbh Mela, which is set to begin in Prayagraj on January 14, the Mela Authority has started focusing its attention on the railway tracks. Surveillance will be carried out on every railway track using drones. The live footage from the drones will be connected to the railway control room. Security personnel will monitor every activity on large screens. If any major intrusion or suspicious activity is detected on the railway track, an alert will be issued, and the RPF's Quick Response Team will be dispatched immediately.

The railway administration and the Mela administration have also stated that they are not ignoring the discovery of suspicious items on the tracks and plots to derail trains in recent months. During the Maha Kumbh, security will be at its highest level. Civil police assistance has been requested for the security of the railway tracks.

The RPF will monitor the area around the railway station, and drones will also keep an eye on it. However, the major responsibility of monitoring the railway tracks far from the station has been assigned to the civil police. In a meeting between the police and Mela Authority, it was decided to identify all locations from where people could access the railway tracks. These unwanted elements, when the crowd increases, may take these routes to reach the station to catch a train. To ensure that only the designated routes are used for entry inside the railway station, necessary arrangements will be made.

ED Raids Kanpur House Linked to Raj Kundra's Associate in Pornography Case

RANCHI I 30 November 2024

Kanpur: On Friday, the ED conducted a raid at the Kanpur residence of Arvind Srivastava, who handles the business operations for Raj Kundra in Singapore. The house, located in Shyam Nagar, belongs to Srivastava's in-laws, and the ED also detained his father for questioning in connection with the case.

Arvind Srivastava, who resides in Singapore with his wife Harshita Srivastava, has been associated with Raj Kundra Productions. Sources confirm that the ongoing investigation is linked to the pornography case that has implicated Kundra and his wife, Shilpa Shetty. As part of the probe, ED officials have been conducting searches at both residential properties and offices connected to Srivastava.

Reports indicate that Arvind Srivastava's wife, Harshita, has ties to Kanpur, where her maternal home is located in MIG Block A, Barra-8. A joint bank account with her mother was opened in 2008 at a PNB branch in Barra, with an initial balance of just Rs 20,000. However, between May 2019 and 2021, the account saw a large influx of funds, amounting to Rs 2.33 crore. These financial transactions are now under scrutiny as part of the investigation. As of now, Arvind Srivastava's father is also being interrogated by the ED in connection with the case, while the authorities continue their efforts to uncover further details. The raids in Kanpur have heightened tensions, as the investigation into Raj Kundra's alleged illegal activities intensifies.

Half a dozen BJP candidates in the race for Milkipur by-election ticket

by Ajay Kumar

Lucknow: After the results of the by-elections to nine assembly seats in Uttar Pradesh, political pundits' attention is now focused on the Milkipur seat in Ayodhya. Although the election date has not yet been announced, the Samajwadi Party has already declared its candidate for the seat. The Samajwadi Party has fielded Ajit Prasad, the son of MP Awadhesh Prasad, as their candidate.

The name of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) candidate has not yet been revealed, but there is a long list of contenders for the ticket. While the BJP has not announced its candidate yet, ministers have started focusing on Milkipur again to win over voters. This process began with the visit of the district in-charge minister, Surya Pratap Shahi. The political activity in Milkipur had slowed down due to the by-elections for nine assembly seats, but it has now picked up again.

It is worth noting that along with Minister Surya Pratap Shahi, the Minister of Sports Girish Yadav, State Minister of Food and Supplies Satish Sharma, and State Minister Mayankeshwar Sharan Singh have been assigned the responsibility of the Milkipur by-election. It is believed that other ministers will also set up camp in Milkipur within the next two to three days. More than half a dozen BJP leaders are vying for the ticket in the Milkipur by-election. Former MLA Gorakhnath Baba, who has previously represented Milkipur, is a natural contender. District Secretary Radheshyam Tyagi is also seeking the ticket, having held several positions in the organization. Along with him, Deputy Commissioner of Transport Surendra Kumar Rawat, former MLA Ramu Priyadarshi, Chandra Bhanu Paswan, Vinay Rawat, Chandra Ketu, and Brajesh Kumar Paswan are also in the race for the ticket. It is important to note that the by-election for the Milkipur assembly seat had not been held earlier due to a legal dispute in the High Court, but now the dispute has been resolved. After the path for the Milkipur by-election was cleared, political accusations and counter-accusations between the BJP and Samajwadi Party have intensified. The court accepted and dismissed the petition for withdrawal filed by former MLA Gorakhnath Baba, as there were no objections. In fact, in the 2022 assembly elections, Awadhesh Prasad, from the Samajwadi Party, was elected as the MLA for Milkipur. BJP candidate Gorakhnath Baba had challenged his election in the High Court. Due to this petition being under consideration, the Election Commission had not announced the Milkipur by-election along with the by-elections for the other ten assembly seats in the state.

madh Formation: A Martian Analog," highlighted her innovative research into the geological properties of hydrous sulphate minerals. These minerals are key to understanding the history of water on Mars and the planet's geological evolution. Her findings, which offer insights into the potential for past water activity on Mars, are set to make a significant impact in the field of planetary science.

The Early Career Research Award recognizes Navanita's exceptional dedication, hard work, and the high quality of her research, which has earned recognition from experts across the globe. The MetMess conference serves as a vital platform for scientists to present their work and foster collaboration in the study of meteoroids and extraterrestrial bodies.

The Department of Applied Geology at IIT-ISM Dhanbad congratulates Navanita on this well-deserved honor and looks forward to her continued contributions to scientific advancements in planetary exploration.

"Positive": Eknath Shinde On Meeting Amit Shah Amid Maharashtra Suspense

New Delhi. Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde on Friday said he had "good and positive" discussions with Union Home Minister Amit Shah and BJP chief J P Nadda on the issue of government formation in the state. Speaking to reporters here before leaving for Mumbai, Mr Shinde said the decision on the next chief minister of Maharashtra will be taken "in a day or two" in another meeting of the Mahayuti coalition in the state capital.Mr Shinde, along with Deputy Chief Ministers Devendra Fadnavis and Ajit Pawar, met Mr Shah and Mr Nadda late Thursday to thrash out a power-sharing pact for the next government in Maharashtra after the BJP-led coalition registered a thumping majority in the Assembly elections."We will take a decision (on Maharashtra CM) in a day or two. We have held discussions, and the discussions will continue. You will get to know when we take a final decision," the outgoing chief minister said.Mr Shinde said that he would not be an obstacle in the government formation in the state and abide by the decision taken by Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Mr Shah."This 'ladka bhau' (beloved brother) designation is higher than anything else for me," he said.Mr Shinde said the meeting with Mr Shah and Mr Nadda was "good and positive"."We all discussed the formation of government. are all very positive and we will honour the clear-cut mandate given to us by the people. We will form the government soon," he said."The meeting was good and positive. This was the first meeting. There will be another meeting of the Mahayuti in Mumbai," Mr Shinde told reporters early Friday.The Shiv Sena leader said the people of Maharashtra have re-elected them with a thumping majority and respecting the mandate is the topmost priority, not "running after posts".Recovering from its Lok Sabha elections losses, the BJP bagged 132 Assembly seats, the highest among all constituents of the Mahayuti alliance.Mr Shinde's Shiv Sena and Ajit Pawar's NCP also performed well. Sena won 57 while NCP bagged 41 seats. The Congress-led Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) suffered a setback with the grand old party registering one of its worst performances in the Assembly polls as it won only 16 seats.

Raghav Chadha's Rajya Sabha Move To Discuss "Atrocities On Hindus In Bangladesh"

New Delhi. Aam Aadmi Party MP Raghav Chadha on Friday gave a Suspension of Business notice in Rajya Sabha to discuss "atrocities on Hindus in Bangladesh and arrest of ISKCON priest Chinmon Krishna Das.""Under Rule 267 (Notice of Motion for Suspension of rules) of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in Council of States (Rajya Sabha), I hereby give notice of my intention to move the following motion," Raghav Chadha stated in the notice to motion.

He further demanded that the house discuss and condemn the detention of ISKCON priest Chinmoy Krishna Das.

That this House do suspend Zero Hour and relevant rules relating to Ouestion Hour and other business listed for the day to discuss the atrocities on Hindus in Bangladesh and the arrest of ISKCON priest Chinmoy Krishna Das. Further, I demand that this house collectively discusses and condemns the detention of ISKCON priest Chinmoy Krishna Das," he added.Chinmoy Krishna

Das Brahmachari was arrested on charges of sedition for allegedly raising a flag on a stand displaying Bangladesh's national flag. He was presented before a Chittagong court on November 25. The court denied his bail plea and sent him to custody. The arrest has sparked widespread outrage, with many calling for his immediate release.Earlier, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leaders Manish Sisodia and Saurabh Bharadwaj met Vrajendra Nandan Das, Communication Director of ISKCON, in the national capital.Manish Sisodia, a senior AAP leader, also expressed concern over the situation in Bangladesh following Chinmoy Das's arrest."Whatever is happening with ISKCON in Bangladesh is deeply worrying. ISKCON has delivered a message of love and harmony to the entire world--it cannot be a terrorist organisation. These people cannot be radical, and such allegations will not be accepted globally, let alone in India. I urge the Government of India to take all necessary action," Mr Sisodia said to reporters.

Genocide of Hindus by your friend: Mohandas Pai jabs businessman for backing Yunus

Mohandas Pai's remark was to an August 7 post by Vinod Khosla in which the businessman expressed enthusiasm on Muhammad Yunus being chosen to lead the interim government in Bangladesh.

New Delhi. Former Infosys executive Mohandas Pai hit out at Indian-American businessman Vinod Khosla for not speaking up against the "genocide of minority Hindus" in Bangladesh led by his "very close friend" Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus. Pai's remark was to an August 7 post by Khosla in which the businessman expressed enthusiasm on Muhammad Yunus being chosen to lead the interim government in Bangladesh after the fall of the Sheikh Hasina regime."Will you please stand up and protest against the genocide of minority Hindus in Bangladesh led by your very close friend Muhammad Yunus? Hindus are being beaten and killed by jihadi extremists in the streets and Yunus is basking in glory at the admiration of people like you. Please stand up for human rights," Pai, who is very vocal on social media on pressing issues, tweeted.On August 7, Khosla, while sharing a report, wrote, "Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus to lead Bangladesh's interim government. Excited as I am a big fan." Even then, Form 'teen-murti' temple: Sanjay Raut mocks the co-founder of Sun Microsystems had faced backlash for not raising his voice on the violence in Bangladesh.

In 2023, Khosla was among a group of global leaders who wrote an open letter to then Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina expressing "deep concern" for the well-being of Muhammad Yunus. In several opinion pieces, Khosla has mentioned he considers Yunus a friend whom he has known for decades.Pai's remark comes amid a fresh wave of unrest in Bangladesh over the arrest of a Hindu leader, Chinmoy Krishna Das, and the targeting of temples by radical Islamic outfits. In fact, the past two months have seen over 200 temples being targeted.

Traditional to open-chested position: Jaishankar's cricket analogy on Pak policy

New Delhi. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar used a cricket analogy to explain India's foreign policy towards Pakistan, saying it has moved from the "traditional side-on position" to an "open-chested position". Speaking at an event on the release of Mohinder Amarnath's memoir 'Fearless', Jaishankar referred to the former cricketer's views on India's cricket tour to Pakistan in 1982-83."You said you played them better because from the traditional side-on position, you now move to an open-chested position. I couldn't have found a better description for a Pakistan policy that time," Jaishankar said. In the 1982 tour, India lost 3-0 to Pakistan in a six-Test match series. Apart from Amarnath, the Indian side featured cricketing legends like Kapil Dev and Sunil Gavaskar. The Union Minister also drew intriguing parallels between cricket and the evolution of India's foreign policy, and called the team's World Cup victory in 1983 as the "inflection point".

"It was not just the inflection point, but the man of the match of the

Maharashtra Chief Minister deadlock

New Delhi. Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sanjay Raut on Friday mocked the Mahayuti alliance's victory in Maharashtra and the apparent deadlock over the chief minister post, calling it a 'wonder of EVMs'. He proposed building a 'teen-murti' temple featuring an electronic voting machine (EVM) at the centre, along with PM Modi and Amit Shah. Raut also claimed that all key decisions for the state would be made in Delhi, with Eknath Shinde and Ajit Pawar needing to seek approval from the central leaders."All matters related to Maharashtra will be decided in Delhi... Eknath Shinde and Ajit Pawar will have to come to Delhi again and again to present their issues... they will have to listen to PM Modi and Amit Shah," Raut said, as the BJP-Shiv Sena-NCP alliance leaders held discussions in Delhi regarding the chief minister's post.In a dig at NCP leader Ajit Pawar, Raut said, "He was always the Deputy CM, and he will continue to be the Deputy CM... The brightness of his face, which had disappeared after the Lok Sabha polls, has now returned--it's the wonder of EVMs"."A 'teen-murti' temple should be built, with an EVM at the centre, PM Modi on one side, and Amit Shah on the other," the Uddhav Sena leader said.

The incumbent Mahayuti alliance swept the Maharashtra assembly elections by winning 233 out of 288 seats. The BJP emerged as the largest party with a record 132 seats, while Shiv Sena and NCP also strengthened their positions, securing 57 and 41 seats, respectively. However, even after six days of results, the alliance is yet to reach a consensus on who would be the next chief minister.

Multiple deliberations were held in Maharashtra, and alliance leaders--caretaker Chief Minister Eknath Shinde, BJP leader Devendra Fadnavis, and NCP leader Ajit Pawar-met Amit Shah in Delhi. However, the stalemate continued even after the meeting.

inflection point. Pakistan won it at one point and Sri Lanka won it at one point. But nowhere else was it as big an inflection point as it was in the history of cricket. Because, if you look at India's role in world cricket after 1983, it fundamentally changed," Jaishankar said.

He also highlighted that while the world was intensely competitive, respect had to be earned. This aspect was also explained by Jaishankar using a cricketing incident. "So the same Clive Lloyd in 1976, who did not spare any of you from body line bowling, was also the fielding captain who was generous enough to declare that pitch unfit in 1983. And that, in many ways, was respect earned," he said.Jaishankar, known for his extraordinary sharpness and efficiency on the diplomatic pitch, said foreign policy was more like cricket rather than chess.

Big mystery why govt not resisting Parliament adjournments, it has much to feel defensive: Congress

Soon after laying of listed papers in the morning session, Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar said he had received 17 notices for adjournment of scheduled business under Rule 267 of the House.

NEW DELHI. With Parliament facing repeated adjournments, the Congress on Friday said the big mystery is why the government is not resisting the interruptions and instead facilitating the aggression of the INDIA parties especially on the Adani issue.Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said the government has much to feel defensive and apologetic about.

"Yet another day of a washout in the Parliament on the Modani issue. Both Houses adjourned today after only a few minutes. The big mystery is why the government is not resisting the adjournments," Ramesh said in a post on X.On the contrary, the government is facilitating the aggression of the INDIA parties on Modani especially - as also on Manipur, Sambhal, and Delhi's law and order. Clearly it has much to feel defensive and apologetic about," the Congress leader said.His remarks came soon after Rajya Sabha proceedings were adjourned for the day on Friday as Amazitian MDs mastastad that adjournment notices for a discussion on allegations against the Adani Group, and the violence in Manipur and Sambhal.Soon after laying of listed papers in the morning session, Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar said he had received 17 notices for adjournment of scheduled business under Rule 267 of the House. The Chairman said he was rejecting all the notices. This led to a protest by several opposition MPs who began raising slogans.Expressing anguish, Dhankhar said, "I call upon you (MPs) for deep reflection. Rule 267 is being weaponised as a mechanism of disruption". The remark was protested by opposition MPs including those belonging to the Congress.

Before adjourning the proceedings for the day, he said similar issues had been raised repeatedly, leading to a loss of three working days.Lok Sabha proceedings were adjourned till noon on Friday following vociferous protests by Opposition members over the Adani controversy and the recent violence in Sambhal

Punjab's road initiative shows the way to safer highways

- To tackle road safety issues and the alarming number of road fatalities in the state, one of the major challenges of Punjab, Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann held a meeting of the Chief Secretary, Transport Minister, Director General of Police (DGP), ADGP (Traffic) and Traffic Adviser, Punjab, in April, 2023. Around 12 to 13 persons die in mishaps every day. An innovative and determined approach to reduce the accidents was decided upon he Punjab Road Safety and Traffic Research Centre (PRSTRC) was directed to identify accident-prone routes using a real-time data-driven approach. The PRSTRC mapped 144 critical routes spanning 4,100 km, where at least 60 per cent of the mishaps happened, usually between 6 pm and midnight, when the enforcement was lean. With only 1,800 traffic personnel for over 1.3 crore vehicles, 180 cities and towns and more than 72,000 km of highways, Punjab's 15-year-old highway patrol system, with its ageing fleet and outdated gadgets, was ill-equipped to handle the rising challenges.
- Determined to find a speedy solution, the financial and procedural obstacles were cleared by the CM. On August 11, 2023, the Cabinet approved the creation of the Sadak Surakhya Force (SSF). Designed for 24/7 patrolling on the identified high-risk routes, the SSF was set up with 1,600 personnel in its first phase, including 1,255 fresh recruits. They underwent a rigorous six-month training. The SSF team has an average age of 22, with women constituting 28 per cent of the strength, marking a significant step towards gender equality in law enforcement.
- Women were earlier excluded from vehicle driving and maintenance training due to outdated norms. The SSF became the first Punjab Police unit to have 350 women in motor transport training. Incidentally, all of them had volunteered for it. A 12-module course was introduced, covering crash investigation, emergency response, road engineering basics and advanced navigation technology. Conducted at the in-service training centre in Kapurthala, it focused on imparting practical skills.Data from the National Crime Records Bureau reveals that 650 to 700 police and paramilitary personnel lose their lives every year while on duty and 80 to 90 per cent of these fatalities are due to road accidents. These numbers underscore the critical need for improved road safety, especially for those enforcing it. To address this issue, uniforms and vehicles were designed for enhanced visibility and safety, particularly for night operations. The uniforms feature retroreflective piping and jackets with reflective bands. The vehicles, Toyota Hilux models, selected for their safety standards and off-road capabilities, are also equipped with retroreflective markings and painted in white, red and yellow colours, ensuring maximum visibility in foggy and low-light conditions, commonly experienced during the winter months. The SSF was officially launched in January this year. Operational since February 1, it has been providing round-the-clock patrolling in all 144 high-risk routes. Each team has four members, including at least one woman, and stationed every 30 km to ensure that accident victims receive medical care within 15 minutes.

Strategic halting points, that have been determined by using three years' accident data, ensure optimal coverage and response time. Patrolling routes and schedules (morning, evening, late night and lean hours) are planned using crowd-sourced data from Google Maps and TomTom, ensuring near-real time response and comprehensive coverage. The second phase will focus on enforcing violations such as speeding, drunk driving, use of mobile phone while driving

Why scaling back troops on LAC is risky

INDIA and China appear to be moving swiftly towards the normalisation of relations following the meeting between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Xi Jinping on October 23 in Kazan, Russia, held on the sidelines of the BRICS Summit. A key outcome of the talks was the initiation of Coordinated Joint Patrolling along the Line of Actual Control (LAC).India's stance on its relationship with China in recent years has been firmly anchored in the principle of resolving friction points along the LAC as a precondition for any meaningful progress.Experts have long stressed the importance of a structured approach to normalisation, involving de-escalation, disengagement and the eventual de-induction of troops from sensitive border areas.

However, given the deep trust deficit between the two Asian powers, any move to revert the troop levels to the pre-2020 conditions poses significant risks for India.Recent weeks have seen a substantial momentum in multilateral diplomacy, with platforms like the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit and the G20 meetings fostering an environment conducive to breakthroughs between the two nations. Agreements reportedly under discussion include the resumption of direct flights, reciprocal accreditation of journalists and improved visa facilities, signalling a potential thaw in bilateral relations. While these developments are welcome, they represent only the low-hanging fruit. Any temptation to scale back troop deployments to the pre-2020 levels must be resisted as such a move could prove disastrous. This caution is rooted in China's history of violating border agreements, including the Five Principles of Peaceful Coexistence (1954), the Border Peace and Tranquillity Agreement (1993), the Agreement on Confidence-Building Measures (1996), the Protocol for the Implementation of Military Confidence-Building Measures (2005) and the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination (2012).Despite 31 rounds of talks under the Working Mechanism for Consultation and Coordination framework and 21 Corps

Commander-level discussions yielding some progress, these mechanisms have failed to prevent incidents like the 1962 war, the 1967 Nathu La conflict, the 1975 firing incident and the more recent confrontations at Sumdorong Chu, Chumar, Depsang, Doklam, Galwan and Yangtse. This history underscores the need for continued vigilance in managing bilateral relations and securing the LAC.The critical question for India is how much trust can be placed in Xi Jinping's leadership. Time and again, China has embarrassed India by expanding its claims to previously undisputed areas. For instance, Galwan Valley, once considered uncontroversial, became a flashpoint. Similarly, in Bhutan, China arbitrarily raised the Sakteng Wildlife Sanctuary as a disputed area to pressure India. Disputes along the LAC are categorised as either contested areas or zones of differing perceptions of the boundary.Beyond territorial issues, China's "grey zone" tactics include cyberattacks — India is the second-most targeted country in Asia after Taiwan — causing losses amounting to billions of dollars.Moreover, China actively interferes in India's neighbourhood, straining relations with Nepal, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, the Maldives and, to a lesser extent, Bhutan.

Instances like its near-success in turning the Maldives against India, gaining port access in Sri Lanka, and suspected military activity on Myanmar's Coco Islands highlight China's strategic manoeuvring to contain Indian influence in the Indian Ocean region.In this complex and highstakes environment, it is difficult to trust China's overtures or confidence-building measures. India must ask: What assurances, if any, has Xi Jinping provided to guarantee that China will not e n g a g e i n f u t u r e conflicts?Without credible commitments, any premature deinduction of troops could embolden Beijing to initiate further incursions, forcing India into a settlement on unfavourable terms.At a time when trust between India and China is at its nadir and China holds an upper hand in economic, military, intelligence and technological domains, troop de-induction from the LAC must not be entertained under any circumstances. For the first time since Independence, Chinese troops are deployed outside their peacetime accommodations in the challenging high altitudes of the Great Himalayan ranges. This has created significant challenges for Beijing, including backlash from families due to the one-child policy, high sickness rates among Han Chinese soldiers and the need to recruit local troops better suited to the harsh conditions of Tibet and Xinjiang.Despite efforts at theaterisation, the Tibetan and Xinjiang military regions remain distinct, reflecting Beijing's logistical and organisational challenges. India must maintain consistent military and diplomatic pressure to compel China to resolve the border issue on favourable terms. Any haste to normalise relations by withdrawing troops will only encourage China to launch another major incursion (the Big One), further undermining India's position.While economic ties with China - India's largest trading partner — offer short-term benefits, these gains should not come at the cost of national security and military readiness.

DISCIPLINE in India is undergoing a transformative shift. In Faridkot, Punjab, a group of rowdy students, who allegedly endangered police officers during a clash recently, were met with an unusual punishment: a week of assisting the traffic police for two hours daily after school. This innovative disciplinary approach aims to teach civic responsibility while deterring future misconduct. In Srinagar, a tragic car accident involving underage drivers in mid-November led to a crackdown on violations. The authorities seized vehicles and implemented stricter licensing policies while counselling parents and students to address the root causes of rash behaviour. This holistic tactic underscores the need for behavioural reform rather but also guiding young minds toward self-awareness and societal contribution. Restorative justice, community service and counselling are replacing outdated corporal punishment, which often leaves emotional scars. Nevertheless, these reforms require collective commitment. Policymakers must institutionalise such practices, educators must adopt empathetic approaches and parents must support these efforts. Experts from NIMHANS (National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences) have stressed the importance of balancing love and limits at home to complement schoolbased initiatives.Constructive discipline reflects the society's recognition that youth's missteps often stem and non-compliance with helmet and seatbelt laws. The SSF vehicles are equipped with nightvision speed guns and public address systems to guide the road users. This evidence-based datadriven strategy has shown immediate results. Within eight months, the SSF has reduced the average emergency response time to just six minutes and 41 seconds, saving numerous lives.

than mere retribution. In schools, innovative methods are gaining ground. For example, rowdy students in UP schools are assigned such tasks as organising books or assisting peers. Meanwhile, creative punishments like rewriting lessons or engaging in debates channel energy constructively and emphasise growth over reprimand.

Discipline should not be about just imposing consequences from immaturity, not malice. By transforming mistakes into learning experiences, we not only shape better individuals but also foster a more compassionate community. It's time to make responsibility the cornerstone of discipline, steering youth away from chaos and towards civic-mindedness.

RECENTLY, I read an illuminating piece written by Henry Giroux — one of the finest educationists of our times. While reflecting on the grand victory of Donald Trump in the US presidential election, Giroux examined the crisis in education. If education is reduced to a set of "instrumental skills needed to compete in the global economy" or if it continues to privilege "standardised tests over critical thinking", as he reminded us, it will lose its radical and emancipatory potential. His complaint is that even First, in India too, we are witnessing the democrats or liberals in America have failed to recognise what education ought to be --- "not merely a service or a tool for economic adaptation, but the very foundation of democratic life". As the prevalent practice of education seeks to produce "compliant workers rather than active/informed citizens," argues Giroux, "Americans find themselves in a world where ignorance is weaponised and truth is under siege". No wonder he sees with deep anguish the rise of "a band of white supremacists, neo-Nazis, radical Christian nationalists and cruel band of misogynists and neoliberal fascists" in the US. Moreover, as neoliberal universities tend to prioritise "profit over democratic values, civic responsibility and critical thought", we see the invasion of 'pedagogical terrorism' that suppresses critical thinking, distorts history, stifles dissent and dehumanises the oppressed.Indeed, in the age of 'fascist dreamworlds', as Giroux argues passionately, "what is needed is a collective determination to reshape mass consciousness through critical pedagogy".

It seems that we, too, can draw a couple of lessons from his insights and his plea for a creatively nuanced critical pedagogy. In fact, the rise of Trump is not an isolated phenomenon in the age of right-wing nationalism. Even our own country, despite the ritualisation of periodic elections, is not altogether free from the monologues of 'populist/charismatic' leaders, the tyranny of majoritarianism, the celebration of hyper-masculine nationalism and some kind of Hindu supremacist thinking. In this context, I will make two arguments.

some sort of 'pedagogical terrorism'particularly, the way our children are getting increasingly deprived of the taste of self-reflexive, libertarian education. Yes, their formative years are primarily spent preparing for standardised tests like JEE, NEET and CUET. As this sort of coaching centredriven instrumental strategy becomes more important than the joy of creative learning, critical thinking and the aspirations for a just and humane world, it becomes exceedingly difficult for them to celebrate a vision of life beyond careerism, consumerism and economic productivity. It destroys all alternative strivings, kills the power of the imagination and makes them accept that the ultimate destiny of life is to become 'compliant workers' rather than politically awakened, culturally sensitive and active citizens in search of a democratic living.Second, we are witnessing the systematic decay of our public universities. In recent times, the organised attack on some of our leading public universities indicates that it is becoming increasingly difficult to retain the While the vibrancy of critical thinking is repressed, spirit of academic freedom, the culture of nuanced debates and conversations and the ethos of cultural pluralism. Is it, therefore, surprising that, according to the 2023 Academic Freedom Index, India is ranked 161st out of 179 countries? Imagine the fate of a university if the authorities get panicky when a professor plans to organise a seminar on the Palestine crisis or the way Israel violated all sorts of international laws, engaged in war crimes, didn't spare even schools, hospitals and residential buildings and killed no less than 43,000 people over

universities are asked to engage in an absurd game the strategic act of pleasing the 'ranking agencies' through the production of largely meaningless research papers, seminars and projects. What do you do with a 'top-ranking' university if it loses its soul and conscience, robs education of its transformative potential and produces only a bunch of conformists? In fact, together with the decline of public universities, we are also seeing the corporatisation of universities. These corporate/neoliberal universities sell education as a 'product' to their rich and affluent 'clients'.

For instance, a fancy private university in India charges more than Rs 12 lakh per year for an undergraduate programme. Even if the university claims that it wants to help students become "well-rounded individuals who can think critically", the fact is that, barring exceptions, young learners from an elitist/exclusivist/corporate university are likely to miss what, as my experience as a faculty member at Jawaharlal Nehru University suggests, a sensitive student from an inclusive public university experiences. This includes the empathy that an exposure to cultural diversity generates, the art of listening to the tales of caste/class/ethnic/gender violence that some of his/her friends might have experienced and hence the art of resistance against casteism, religious fundamentalism, majoritarianism, patriarchy and gross economic inequality.

देश-विदेश की यात्राएं करना आज के दौर में मुश्किल भरा काम नहीं है। चाहे बिजनेस के लिए यात्राएं करनी हों या एडवेंचर के लिए या फिर छुट्टियां बिताने के लिए। उन्नात ट्रांसपोर्ट और संचार साधनों से सब कुछ आसान हो गया है। ट्रिज्म सेक्टर देश की जीडीपी में भी बडा योगदान दे रहा है क्योंकि पर्यटकों के जरिए विदेशी मुद्रा अर्जित करने का यह बडा स्रोत है। इतना ही नहीं, लाखों लोगों को टूरिज्म विभाग, ट्रैवल एजेंसी, होटल, एयरलाइंस, ट्रांसपोर्ट एजेंसी या फिर कार्गो कंपनियों में रोजगार भी मिला हुआ है।

र्ल्ड ट्रैवल एंड टूरिज्म काउंसिल की रिपोर्ट के अनुसार, नए वीसा सुधार, अतुल्य भारत अभियान और

सरकार द्वारा इंफास्ट्रकर पर ज्यादा जोर दिए जाने से भारतीय ट्रैवल एंड टूरिज्म उद्योग में आने वाले वर्षों में और तेजी आने की उम्मीद है। एक अनुमान के मुताबिक, बीते कुछ वर्षों में करीब 9 प्रतिशत (3.74 करोड) लोगों को टूरिज्म सेक्टर में रोजगार मिला। देश की भौगोंलिक और सांस्कृतिक-ऐतिहासिक विरासत ऐसी है कि दक्षिण एशिया घूमने आने वाले करीब 50 प्रतिशत पर्यटक हर साल भारत आना पसंद करते हैं। यही वजह है कि टूरिज्म सेक्टर में युवाओं के लिए रोजगार की संभावनाएं लगातार बढ रही हैं।

चूंकि टूरिज्म उद्योग में कार्य का दायरा काफी विंस्तृत है, इसलिए यहां युवाओं के लिए सरकारी और निजी दोनों ही क्षेत्रों में अनेक प्रकार की संभावनाएं मौजूद हैं । टूरिज्म से संबंधित कोर्स करने के बाद आप विभिन्न विमानन कंपनियों, होटल आदि में मैनेजर, टूर मैनेजर, कस्टमर सेल्स एग्जीक्यूटिव, ट्रैवल प्रोडक्ट डिजाइनर, सेल्स एंड मॉर्केटिंग स्टाफ, ट्रैवल एजुकेटर, गाइड, दुभाषिया आदि के तौर पर जॉब पा सकते हैं। इसी तरह ट्रैवल एजेंसीज में भी ढेर सारे अवसर हैं, जहां आप मैनेजर, रिजर्वेशन एंड काउंटर स्टाफ, सेल्स एंड मार्कटिंग स्टाफ, टूर एस्कॉर्ट, टूर ऑपरेटर आदि के रूप में सेवा दे सकते हैं। कहने का मतलब यह है कि टूरिज्म सेक्टर में आपके लिए करियर ग्रोथ और पैसा दोनों हैं । अगर चाहें, तो कुछ वर्षों के अनुभव के बाद खुद का ट्रैवल बिँजनेस भी शुरूँ कर सकते हैं। धीरे–धीरे पासपोर्ट एंड वीसा हैंडलिंग, डेस्टिनेशन मैनेजर. टैवल कंसल्टेंट. फंट ऑफिस मैनेजमेंट, एचआर, बिजनेस डेवलपमेंट, पीआर, इवेंट मैनेजमेंट जैसे

पर्यटन विभाग - इससे संबंधित कोर्स करने के बाद आप पर्यटन विभाग में रिजर्वेशन एंड काउंटर स्टाफ, सेल्स एंड मार्केटिंग स्टाफ, टूर प्लानर्स, टूर गाइड जैसे पदों पर सरकारी नौकरी में जा सकते हैं। यूपीएससी या पीएससी परीक्षा पास कर केंद्र व राज्यों के पर्यटन विभागों में अफसर भी बना जा सकता है। एयरलाइंस - पर्यटन उद्योग का यह सबसे आकर्षक क्षेत्र माना जाता है । आप एयर होस्टेस, ग्राउंड सपोर्ट एंड एयरपोर्ट मैनेजमेंट, एयरलाइन ग्राउंड ऑपरेशन, एयरलाइन टिकिटिंग, होटल मैनेजमेंट या टूरिज्म जैसे कोर्स करके यहां ग्राउंड स्टाफ याँ इन-फ्लाइट एसोसिएट, ट्रैफिक असिस्टेंट, रिजर्वेशन एंड काउंटर स्टाफ, क्लाइंट सर्विसिंग स्टाफ के रूप में करियर बना सकते हैं। होटल - किसी भी देश की टैवल एंड टरिज्म इंडस्ट्री का अहम हिस्सा हैं होटल्स । यही कारण है कि यह क्षेत्र देश में तेजी से आगे बढ

रहा है । तमाम तरह के जॉब के अवसर भी लोगों को विभिन्ना स्तरों के होटलों में मिल रहे हैं। ट्रांसपोर्ट – हवाई, सड़क, रेल और समुद्री मार्गों से परिवहन के क्षेत्र में को–ऑर्डिनेटर, सूपरवाइजर, ड्राइवर आदि के रूप में बड़ी संख्या में जॉब के अवसर हैं । टूर ऑपरेटर्स - ऐसे प्रोफेशनल्स

अपने क्लाइंट के लिए टूर की व्यवस्था करते हैं, उन्हें विभिन्न पर्यटन स्थलों पर घुमाने के लिए ले जाते हैं, रिवर राफ्टिंग, रॉक क्लाइंबिंग आदि जैसे साहसिक खेलों में टूरिस्ट की मदद करते हैं। क्लाइंट की यात्रा और ठहरने का प्रबंध भी यही

प्रोफेशनल्स करते हैं । अगर आपका व्यक्तित्व अच्छा है, आप पर्यटन स्थलों की अच्छी जानकारी रखते हैं और आपकी लैंग्वेज स्किल अच्छी है, तो आप इस फील्ड में अपना करियर बना सकते हैं ।

टाइम शेयर कंपनीज - ऐसी कंपनियां हॉलीडे रिसॉर्ट को मैनेज करने का काम करती हैं। विदेशी कंपनियों के रिसॉर्ट के साथ भी इनका बिजनेस टाई–अप होता है। आप ऐसी कंपनियों में काम करने का मौका पा सकते हैं। हॉलीडे कंसल्टेंसी – ट्रैवल एंड टूरिज्म उद्योग में

वाले टूरिस्ट की मदद हेतु प्रोफेशनल्स की सेवाएँ ली जाती हैं। तमाम बैंक आजकल पर्यटकों के लिए होटल और टिकट बुकिंग की सुविधाएं भी उपलब्ध करा रहे हैं । बैंकों में ऐसे जॉब के लिए आम तौर पर एमबीए स्टूडेंट्स को हायरिंग में खास तवज्जो दी जाती है।

पर्सनल स्किल्स

ट्रैवल एंड टूरिज्म उद्योग में कम्युनिकेशन स्किल सबसे जरूरी है क्योंकि यहां लोगों को अक्सर पर्यटकों से बातचीत करके उनकी जिज्ञासाओं को शांत करना होता है । आपका

व्यवहार कुशल होना भी जरूरी है । अच्छी पर्सनैलिटी से फायदा होगा। क्षेत्र विशेष की भौगोलिक जानकारी भी होनी चाहिए । अगर आप मैनेजेरियल या एडमिनिस्टेटिव पद पर हैं. तो लीडरशिप कॉलिटी के साथ-साथ त्वरित समस्या समाधान की क्षमता और टीमवर्क की भावना भी आपमें होना जरूरी है।

कोर्स व कॉलिफिकेशन

टूरिज्म इंडस्ट्री में करियर बनाने के लिए डिग्री, पीँजी डिग्री, डिप्लोमा और सर्टिफिकेट कोर्स के रूप में कई प्रकार के कोर्स उपलब्ध हैं। डिग्री कोर्स की अवधि 3 वर्ष होती है। इसमें किसी भी स्ट्रीम के युवा 12वीं के बाद प्रवेश ले सकते हैं। अगर आप ग्रेजुएट हैं, तो टूरिज्म में पीजी या डिप्लोमा कोर्स कर सकते हैं। कुछ संस्थान सर्टिफिकेट कोर्स भी कराते हैं, जिसे 12वीं के बाद करके आप टूर एजेंसीज या टूर प्रमोशन एंड सेल्स कंपनियों में जॉब पा सकते हैं।

सैलरी कितनी?

ट्रिज्म उद्योग में सैलरी काफी आकर्षक है। एँयरलाइंस, ट्रैवल एजेंसीज आदि में ऐसे प्रोफेशनल्स और उनके परिवारों को कई मुफ्त

ग्रुप डिस्कशन में पीछे न रह जाएं, अपनाएं ये टिप्स

कुछ एग्जाम में ग्रुप डिस्कशन का बहुत बड़ा रोल होता है। कई बार आप लिखित परीक्षा में तो अच्छे अंक से पास हो जाते हैं लेकिन जब ग्रुप डिस्कशन का समय आता है तो वहां विफल हो जाते हैं। आखिर ऐसी कौन-कौन सी बातें है जिनका ध्यान रखा जाए तो आप ग्रुप डिस्कशन में भी बाजी मार सकते हैं। सबसे पहली बात इसके लिए आपको अपडेट होने के साथ-साथ आपकी बॉडी लैंग्वेज भी अच्छी होनी चाहिए।

- जीडी के दौरान किसी एक मेंबर की और फोकस न करें। सभी पर नजर आई-कॉन्टेक्ट बनाए रखें।
- जीडी में आप अपनी बात तभी रख पाएंगे जब आपको जीडी वाले टॉपिक का नॉलेज हो। अगर नॉलेज नहीं है तो आप अच्छे से डिस्कशन नहीं कर पाएंगे।
- इस बात का जरूर ध्यान रखें कि जब दूसरा बोल रहा हो तो उसे बीच में टोके नहीं, चाहे आप उसकी बात से सहमत न भी हों। जब आपको मौका मिले तो अपनी बात को विनम्रता के साथ कहें।
- जो भी बोलें बिलकुल साफ बोलें, वरना सामने बाकी लोगों को या तो समझ नहीं आएगा या वो आपकी बात का कोई और मतलब निकाल सकते हैं ।
- ध्यान रखें कि जिस टॉपिक पर डिस्कशन हो रहा है, उससे भटके नहीं। टॉपिक की थीम को ध्यान में रखकर उसी पर अपना व्यूज रखें ।
- पॉॅंजिटिव एटीट्यूड रखें और कॉन्फिडेंस बनाए रखें। लेकिन ध्यान रखें किन तो किसी को नीचा दिखाना है और ही खुद को बहुत नॉलेजेबल शो करना है।
- आंपको बस अपनी बात शेयर करनी है न कि किसी को मानने के लिए फोर्स करना
- जो भी बोलें उसमें दम होना चाहिए । आपकी बात में अगर प्वॉइंट नहीं होगा तो आप इंम्पैक्ट डालने से चूक जाएंगे।

Joe Root out for duck in 150th Test, goes past Virat Kohli on unwanted WTC list

- New Delhi. Star England batter Joe Root endured a bitter milestone in his storied career during the first Test against New Zealand at Hagley Oval. Root, playing his 150th Test match, was dismissed for a fourball duck by New Zealand debutant Nathan Smith.Root's dismissal, his 13th in Test cricket and eighth in the World Test Championship (WTC) era, elevated him to an unenviable list of batters with the most ducks in the WTC, surpassing the likes of Virat Kohli and Steve Smith, both of whom have seven. This lean patch continues a difficult run for Root, who has scored just 90 runs in five innings since his double-century against Pakistan in Multan.
- Smith, a debutant seamer, had a dream start, dismissing England's Jacob Bethell and Root in the same over, reducing the visitors to 45/3 after Zak Crawley's early exit. England's struggles were compounded by Ben Duckett's dismissal, leaving them reeling at 71/4. However, a resilient 103-run stand between Ollie Pope (59*) and Harry Brook (54*) brought some stability, with England reaching 174/4 at tea, still 174 runs behind New Zealand's first-innings total of

Root's duck in his milestone 150th Test match places him in an exclusive yet undesirable club, joining Australian legends Steve Waugh and Ricky Ponting as the only batters to record ducks in their 150th Test appearances.Earlier in the day, England dismissed New Zealand for 348, with Glenn Phillips (58*) anchoring the tail after Kane Williamson's composed 120 on Day 1. England's bowlers Brydon Carse (4/64) and Shoaib Bashir (4/69) excelled, but the visitors faced immediate setbacks in reply. Harry Brook and Ollie Pope's counterattacking 150-plus partnership provided hope, but England's task remains daunting with a significant deficit to overcome and New Zealand's pace attack firing on all cylinders.

IPL: Too many Australians in Punjab Kings Ricky Ponting reacts to criticism

New Delhi. Punjab Kings head coach Ricky Ponting has reacted to criticism about making the side mini-Australia. Punjab bought 6 players in the IPL mega-auction on November 24-25. The team made fresh signings after retaining only two players. The Punjab side RTMed Arshdeep Singh for a massive amount of Rs 18 crore and majorly made a fresh side with 5 Australian players including the likes of Glenn Maxwell and Marcus Stoinis.Speaking in a media interaction, Ponting said that the players that Punjab bought in the IPL auction fit their roles perfectly. We have brought some of the

Simona Halep calls out double standards after Swiatek escapes lengthy doping ban

Former World No.1 Simona Halep slammed the International Tennis Integrity Agency for double standards on doping bans. Halep, who was once banned for 4 years hit out at the association after Iga Swiatek received a 1-month ban for doping.

New Delhi. Former World No.1 tennis player Simona Halep slammed the International Tennis Integrity Agency over their double standards while dishing out doping bans. In a lengthy Instagram post, Halep slammed the agency for trying to ruin her career, and being partial against her.Halep's comments came after the ITIA handed a one-month ban to Iga Swiatek after she tested positive for a banned substance. Halep pointed out at the discrepancy between her ban and the current World No.1's and said that she was left frustrated at the twilight of her career due to the unfair treatment."I'm sitting and trying to understand, but it's really impossible for me to understand something like this. I stand and ask myself, why is there such a big difference in treatment and judgment? I can't find and I don't think there can be a logical answer. It can only be bad will from ITIA, the organization that has done absolutely everything to destroy me despite the evidence," Simona Halep wrote on Instagram."I really wanted to destroy the last years of my career, I wanted something that I could never have imagined would be wanted. I always believed in good, I believed in fairness, I believed in goodness. It was painful, is painful and maybe the injustice that was done to me will always be painful. How is it possible that in identical cases happening around the same time ITIA to have completely different approaches to my detriment. How could I accept that the WTA and the players council did not want to return me the ranking that I deserved?!" Halep said."I lost two years of my career, I lost many nights when I couldn't sleep, thoughts, anxiety, questions without answers... but I won justice. It turned out that it was a contamination and that the biological passport was a pure invention. And I won something else, my soul remained clean!! I feel disappointed, I feel mad, I feel frustrated, but I do not feel evil even now. I am grateful for the support and unconditional love of those who have been by my side every day. THANK YOU! In all the naughtiness, I also received love because those who offered me love in those moments really knew me! Perhaps this is the biggest victory! As we know well that every morning the sun rises for everyone, but it's good to rise finding yourself with a flawless soul! And that's how I am, packed and proud of what I am!" concluded Halep. SWIATEK'S DOPING BAN

World number two and five-times Grand Slam champion Iga Swiatek accepted a one-month suspension after testing positive for banned substance trimetazidine (TMZ), the International Tennis Integrity Agency said on Thursday.Swiatek tested positive in an out-of-competition sample in August but the ITIA, which runs tennis's anti-doping programme, accepted that it was caused by contamination of her medication melatonin, which was manufactured and sold over the counter in her native Poland.wiatek said she had been taking it for jet lag and sleep issues and as there was no significant fault or negligence, the ITIA ruled it was "the lowest end of the range" and offered the reigning French Open champion a one-month suspension which the 23-year-old accepted."The player was provisionally suspended from Sept. 12 until Oct. 4, missing three tournaments, which counts towards the sanction, leaving eight days remaining," the ITIA said in a statement."

wiatek is not the first world number one to fail a doping test this year after Italy's Jannik Sinner, the men's top-ranked player, also tested positive for anabolic agent clostebol. However, Sinner was cleared of wrongdoing by an independent tribunal ahead of the U.S. Open, which he went on to win. The World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) has appealed to the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) against the tribunal's finding of "no fault or negligence". With two of the biggest names in tennis escaping lengthy bans for antidoping violations, questions are being raised about the sport's reputation.

Don't want 'confident' Virat Kohli for rest of series vs Australia: Allan Border

New Delhi. Former Australian captain Allan Border has called out Australia's failure to contain Virat Kohli during the first Test in Perth, warning that the star Indian batter's resurgence could jeopardise the Pat Cummins-led side's chances in the Border-Gavaskar Trophy (BGT). Kohli, who had gone 18 months without a Test century, silenced his critics with an unbeaten 100 in the second innings, helping India clinch a commanding 295-run victory.Border criticised Australian captain Pat Cummins for field placements and tactics, arguing they allowed Kohli to regain his confidence far too easily. "I was really disappointed in the way we let Kohli roll on to a hundred without much resistance," Border told SEN radio on Friday morning. "We don't want this guy full of confidence for the rest of the series."

Border's concerns were echoed by Matthew Hayden and Mark Taylor, who criticised Cummins for failing to apply early pressure on Kohli. Former Australian batters pointed out that the lack of close-in fielders allowed Kohli to settle in easily and regain his form."They missed a few tricks with Virat

Shubman Gill returns to training in big boost to India's pink ball Test hopes

New Delhi. India received a huge boost ahead of the Adelaide Test match as batter Shubman Gill returned to practice on Friday, November 29. Gill, who had been out due to a thumb fracture, was spotted in the India nets at Canberra ahead of the tour game against Prime Minister's XI.India are set to play their second Test match against Australia in Adelaide. The team will take on Australia in a Pink Ball Test match - traditionally a big strength for Australia in the 5-match series. Shubman, who had not been in action due to his rehabilitation process was seen leaving the ball well in the nets.Gill got hurt while fielding on the second day of the intra-squad match simulation ahead of the Perth Test. He was seen in considerable pain and immediately left the field for further scans. India Today had learnt at the time that Gill had fractured his left thumb and had been ruled out of the opening game.In case the batter does return to the playing XI, the visitors have to rejig their entire line-up. AUS vs IND: INDIA vs PM XI - ALL YOU India captain Rohit Sharma is poised to NEED TO KNOW return to the playing XI, which will displace KL Rahul from his spot. With Shubman Gill expected to return to the line-up, Rahul might have to drop further down the order, possibly at No.5 or No.6.

Apart from Gill, India captain Rohit Sharma was also spotted in the nets. The India captain had started his practice midway through the Perth Test match. He was seen in good touch on Friday.

best young Indian talent into our group, which is very exciting. So, our scouts have done a great job and worked really hard and well to make sure that the auctions go exactly how we wanted them to," said head coach Ricky Ponting."We have (a few Australians) and I'll probably get some criticism. I think we have got five Aussies out of our complement of eight overseas. But when you look at the slots that we needed, the players that we have got fitted into those roles perfectly," Ponting reacted to the criticism.

"To have Marcus Stoinis and Glenn Maxwell back to Kings is huge as they have both played here in the past. A couple of new guys, including Xavier Bartlett, Aaron Hardie, and Josh Inglis, are coming into the IPL for the first time, which is also really exciting for us," added Ponting.Ponting adding Australian players to the roster is nothing new. New Delhi. Manchester United staged a thrilling comeback to defeat Norwegian side Bodo/Glimt 3-2, securing their first Europa League victory under new manager Ruben Amorim. Meanwhile, Tottenham Hotspur were denied all three points dramatically as AS Roma salvaged a 2-2 draw with a last-gasp goal on Thursday.

United's Resilience at Old Trafford

At Old Trafford, the match began with a moment of fortune for United. Within the opening minute, Bodo/Glimt goalkeeper Nikita Haikin mishandled a back pass under pressure from Rasmus H jlund, leaving Alejandro Garnacho with an easy tap-in. However, Bodo/Glimt responded emphatically.Håkon Evjen's stunning 19thminute strike into the top corner brought the visitors level, and Philip Zinckernagel muscled past Tyrell Malacia to beat André Onana, putting the Norwegian underdogs ahead and shocking the home crowd.United rallied before halftime. Noussair Mazraoui's precise delivery found H,jlund, who controlled the ball brilliantly before firing a clinical finish to equalize. The Danish striker struck again shortly after the interval, guiding Manuel Ugarte's low cross into the net to give United the lead.Despite dominating the second half, United were unable to extend their advantage and relied on two key saves from Onana to secure the victory.

The result lifted United to 12th in the standings with nine points, while Bodo/Glimt remained seventh with seven points.Spurs Denied Victory by Roma's Late StrikeIn North London, Tottenham Hotspur looked poised for a win but were left frustrated as Roma's Mats Hummels scored a late equalizer in stoppage time.Spurs took an early lead when Son Heung-min converted a fifth-minute penalty after Hummels fouled Pape Matar Sarr. Roma leveled in the 20th minute through Evan N'Dicka, who finished from Paulo Dybala's free kick delivery. Roma appeared to have turned the tide when they scored again, but the goal was ruled out for offside. Tottenham regained the lead in the 33rd minute as Dejan Kulusevski set up Brennan Johnson for a powerful low strike. However, despite dominating much of the match, Spurs failed to close the game out. In added time, a Roma corner initially cleared by Spurs was recycled into the box, where Hummels pounced to secure an unlikely draw for José Mourinho's side. The result leaves Spurs in ninth place with 10 points, while Roma sit 21st with six points, keeping both teams within striking distance of advancing to the next stage.

Kohli in the early part of his innings. Nathan Lyon had mid-on back, one on the off-side catching and a mid-wicket. I felt like it was so easy for him to get off strike," Hayden had told Channel 7 after India's win.

You can't cut a sucker an even break when a bloke is under pressure as he was. The field we actually finished with - two slips, no point, a man straight - it offered up the outside edge of his bat as well. He found it a little more frustrating. When he got the bit between the teeth, it was too late.Hayden also highlighted missed opportunities during India's earlier batting partnerships, particularly with Yashasvi Jaiswal, who looked susceptible to short-pitched deliveries. He criticized the delayed use of such strategies and pointed to Australia's "shell-shocked" approach following their subpar batting performance in the first innings.

Border-Gavaskar Trophy: Michael Hussey has backed Marnus Labuschagne, attributing his form slump to mental adjustments rather than technical issues. Labuschagne has scored just 123 runs at an average of 13.66 in his last 10 Test innings.

New Delhi. Former Australia batter Michael Hussey suggested Labuschagne's attempts to Hussey has thrown his support behind underfire batsman Marnus Labuschagne, attributing his recent slump in form to mental adjustments rather than technical flaws. Labuschagne, widely regarded as one of the world's premier batsmen, has endured a torrid run of form, managing only 123 runs at a paltry average of 13.66 across his last 10 Test innings. His struggles were on full display during the first Test against India in Perth, where he registered scores of just 2 and 3 as Australia succumbed to a crushing 295-run defeat.Critics have questioned Labuschagne's technique, but Hussey believes the root of the problem lies in his approach to the game. "I actually went back and had a look at some of his highlights of some of his great innings from a few years back. It was just to see if I could see anything different than what we've been seeing in the last week or so," Hussey told SEN.

shoulder greater responsibility as a senior player may have led to an overly cautious mindset. "From a technical perspective, there's actually not a lot of difference from when he was playing really well in scoring a lot of runs compared to the last Test match against India. The biggest difference I've noticed is just his intent to score. He's probably looking at it thinking, 'I'm a senior player now, I've got to take responsibility, I've got to bat time, be there for the team, soak up the pressure and all of that'. That gets you into a tentative defensive frame of mind of batting time, being there and being patient. Whereas when I watched some of those highlights from a few years back, he was iust confident and decisive in everything he did, even in defence and when he was letting the ball go he was getting into really strong positions."The 29-year-old Labuschagne took a proactive step to address his form on Thursday, returning to the basics with an intense nets session alongside a close friend. Hussey is optimistic that a mental shift can help Labuschagne rediscover his touch.

"I feel as though it's something that can be fixed really quickly just with a mindset shift," Hussey said."If he can just change that mindset of just looking to occupy the crease ... into, 'Whatever I do, I'm going to do it confidently, decisively and be a little bit more positive with an intent to score'. I feel like he can turn it around really quickly." Australia will hope Labuschagne regains his form ahead of the second Test against India, starting December 6 at the Adelaide Oval. A strong performance from their No.3 will be crucial as the hosts aim to level the series.

ahira Sharma often shares gorgeous photos of herself on social media, leaving everyone impressed. Recently too, the Bigg Boss 13 star took to her Instagram handle and shared a series of pictures in which she was seen posing in a stunning backless traditional outfit. While netizens were impressed with Mahira's sartorial choice, something else caught everyone's attention.Soon after Mahira shared the pictures online, several social media users noticed that cricketer Mohammed Siraj also liked her post. It has left everyone wondering if something is cooking between the two. It should also be noted Mahira and Siraj have never been spotted together. Therefore, the like from the cricketer has left fans even more intrigued about a possible connection between them.

Mahira Sharma was previously dating Paras Chhabra. The two met for the first time in Bigg Boss 13 house and fell in love with each other. However, they parted ways in 2023 when Mahira even unfollowed Paras on Instagram.Later, Paras also confirmed their breakup and told ETimes, "Yes, we have not been talking to each other after a fight over petty issues for more than a week. But aisi fights toh hamari hamesha hoti rahi hain, even when we were inside the Bigg Boss house. I never thought that it will lead to a breakup."

Asked about Mahira unfollowing him on Instagram, Paras added, "I am equally puzzled and shocked by the news. I don't know why Mahira unfollowed me or deleted our pictures from her social media account. I shifted to Mumbai on April 1 and Mahira shifted on March 15. Since then I have been pretty busy and unpacking my stuff and arranging things here. My mom too has come here to stay with me while Mahira is staying with her mom."Meanwhile, on the work front, Mahira Sharma was recently seen in a music video titled 'Without You'.
