US Brothers Charged In Luxury Real Estate Sex-Trafficking Scheme

New York, United States. Three brothers were charged by US authorities with sex trafficking on Wednesday, in a lurid case that alleges they used their high-profile connections in the luxury real estate world to assault women for years.

Oren and Tal Alexander are the founders of real estate firm Official, which has offices in Miami and New York. Alon Alexander -- Oren's twin -- worked at the family's private security firm, according to US media.

The brothers are alleged to have used "deception, fraud and coercion" -- including the promise of luxury travel accommodation -- to engage in sex trafficking as well as drugging, sexually assaulting and raping dozens of women. They used "their wealth and prominent positions in real estate to create and facilitate opportunities" to do so, the US Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York said in a statement. The assaults date from at least 2010 to at least 2021, prosecutors said. Just two years ago, Tal, 38, and Oren, 37, were the subject of a New York Times profile detailing their successful ventures as real-estate high rollers, including the sale of a 24,000 square foot (2,230 square meter) Manhattan penthouse for $234 million.

Tal Alexander flaunted a "no days off" lifestyle of constantly showing glamorous residences to wealthy clients. Prosecutors painted a grim picture of all three brothers luring women to events and parties, then drugging them with cocaine, mushrooms and GHB, and assaulting them. The Alexanders and those in their circle used "social media, dating applications, inperson encounters... and party promoters who would recruit women for these events," prosecutors said.

Susan Necheles, an attorney for Oren Alexander, said in a statement that her client was innocent and "the evidence will show that neither he nor his brothers ever committed a crime." Alon, 37, Oren and Tal are charged with engaging in sex trafficking conspiracy and sex trafficking by force, fraud or coercion, which both carry a maximum sentence of life in prison.

Plane Crashes Into Vehicles On Texas Highway, Splits In Half; 4 Injured

Texas, US. At least four people were injured after a small plane landed on a South Texas highway on Wednesday before crashing into three cars. After the crash, the twin-engine propeller plane split in two, leaving debris scattered across the busy roadway, the authorities said. The aircraft crashed on the State Highway Loop 463, in Victoria City of South Texas at around 3 pm, according to a report by NBC. Four people injured in the crash were taken to the hospitals, of them, three had non-life-threatening wounds. The fourth person was taken to another facility for a higher level of care, police said.

Addressing reporters, Deputy Police Chief Eline Moya of the Victoria Police Department said, "We are glad that it wasn't worse than what it is. This is not something we see every day."But we are glad that people seem to be OK, and they are getting checked out," she added. The moments before the crash and the devastation that followed were captured on camera by observers on the roadway. The footage, which is being widely shared on social media, shows the aircraft flying very low before landing on a street. The video then shows the plane splintered in two near the highway overpass, with debris scattered across the road. The plane, a twin-engine Piper PA-31, was carrying just the pilot at the time of the crash, according to a report by Fox News Digital.

The Victoria Police Department and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) have begun their investigation into the crash. Per a FlightAware report, the aircraft took off from the Victoria Regional Airport around 9:52 am and was airborne for around five hours before the crash.

Russia Says Ukraine Used US Missiles To Attack Military Base in Rostov, Vows Response

world. Ukrainian forces launched a missile strike with Western high-precision weapons on the Taganrog military airfield in Russia's Rostov region, the Russian Defence Ministry said Wednesday. Six USmade ATACMS ballistic missiles were used, the ministry noted, adding that two of them were shot down and the rest were deflected by Russian electronic warfare systems, Xinhua news agency reported.Falling missile fragments caused casualties among the personnel, the ministry said. "This attack by Western long-range weapons will not go unanswered, and appropriate measures will be taken," it added. In a major shift of policy on the

New Syria PM says rights of all religious groups will be 'guaranteed' under rebel-led regime said the Islamist-led alliance that ousted president Bashar al-Assad will guarantee the rights of all religious groups and called on the millions who fled the war to return home.Assad fled Syria after a lightning offensive spearheaded by the Islamist Hayat Tahrir al-Sham (HTS) group and its allies, which brought to a spectacular end five decades of brutal rule by his clan.

Syrians across the country and around the world erupted in celebration, after enduring a stifling era during which anyone suspected of dissent could be thrown into jail or killed. With Assad's overthrow plunging Syria into the unknown, its new rulers have sought to assure members of the country's religious minorities that they will not repress them. They have also pledged justice for the victims of Assad's iron-fisted rule, with HTS leader Abu Mohammed al-Jolani vowing on Wednesday that officials involved in torturing detainees will not be pardoned. Australia To Force Meta And Google To Pay For News Shared On Platforms

Sydney, Australia. Australia will force Meta and Google to pay for news shared on their platforms under a new scheme unveiled Thursday, threatening to tax them if they refuse to strike deals with local media.Traditional media companies the world over are in a battle for survival as precious advertising dollars are hoovered up online. Australia wants big tech companies to compensate local publishers for sharing news links that drive traffic to their platforms, an idea they have baulked at in the past.

US, China officials to hold economic talks ahead of Trump's return and looming tariff war

WASHINGTON. Economic officials in outgoing US President Joe Biden's administration are set to meet their Chinese counterparts this week for talks, in a final effort to strengthen ties before Donald Trump's White House return. The talks come as Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen stressed in an interview on Wednesday the need for "ongoing communications at all levels" to avoid needless worsening in relations between the world's two biggest economies.

Economic and trade tensions between Washington and Beijing have continued to flare during Biden's time in office. But temperatures could rise further under Trump, who has threatened sweeping tariff increases on Chinese goods ahead of his presidency, most recently over concerns surrounding the flow of illegal fentanyl into the United States."It's critical to have open channels of communication," Yellen told Bloomberg Television, warning that Trump's universal tariffs proposal would likely trigger retaliation.For now, US

officials are seeking to reinforce communication

Wounds reopen as sectarian clashes flare in Pakistan's border region

PARACHINAR. Once again, Ali Ghulam receives mourners at his home -- his brother and nephew killed 40 years apart in the same sectarian conflict that was reignited this year in northwest Pakistan, claiming 200 lives since July alone.

Thousands of residents are stranded without food and medicine in parts of remote Kurram district, which borders Afghanistan, as the government struggles to end clashes between Sunni and Shiite Muslims stemming from decades-old tensions over farmland."Our generations yearn for peace," 72-year-old Ghulam told AFP at his home in Parachinar, the main town and a Shiite bastion of the restive district. The latest flare-up of violence has "reopened wounds" he said, recalling how his brother was killed in an attack in 1987 that also wounded another three of his brothers.Kurram, known as the "Parrot's Beak" for its protrusion into neighbouring Afghanistan, is bounded by dizzyingly high mountains, the northern flank of which includes the Tora Bora caves where Al Qaeda founder and 9/11 mastermind Osama bin Laden once hid.Pakistan's northwestern border districts have long been a haven for various militant groups, with militants and weapons able to flow largely unchecked in and out of Afghanistan."I have never experienced peace in my life and have no hope my coming generations will live free of fear, Ghulam said. Tribal and family feuds are common in Pakistan.But they can be particularly protracted and violent in the mountainous tribal northwest, where communities live by traditional codes of honour and revenge. Shiites making up 10 to 15 percent of the population, or at least 25 million people.

Members of the two sects have periodically clashed in Kurram, where Shiites are particularly vulnerable as they must pass through Sunni-majority neighbourhoods to access essential services.Kurram's location on the frontier of Pakistan and Afghanistan put it at the heart of the religious and political upheavals of the last five decades.In 1979, Shiites led a revolution in Iran and later that year the Soviet Union

Pakistan's military ruler Zia-ul-Haq aligned with them, funnelling thousands of Sunni militants into Afghanistan through Kurram.

It became a hub for arms supply to Afghanistan, including landmines, mortar shells, and weapons of all kinds. Every household in Kurram had a stockpile of weapons," Malik Attaullah Khan, a local tribal elder told AFP.Khan, who signed a 2007 agreement aimed at bringing peace to Kurram, criticised the government for failing to "fulfil in its responsibilitie" in enforcing land settlements. The ethnic Pashtun heartland was merged into the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province in 2018, but the Pakistani state maintains limited control in the merged districts. In rural areas of Pakistan, villages often bypass the formal justice system and men-only "jirgas" or councils made up of respected village elders resolve disputes, sometimes in the form of fines or land reallocation.

One Nation, One Election Bill gets Cabinet nod, Set to be tabled in Parliament

New Delhi: The Union Cabinet has given its approval for the "One Nation, One Election" Bill, which is expected to be tabled in the ongoing winter session of Parliament this week. Following its introduction, the bill will be referred to the Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) for further review.

The proposal stems from the recommendations of the Ramnath Kovind Committee, which suggests that elections for Parliament and state assemblies should be held simultaneously. Additionally, it proposes that local body elections be conducted within 100 days of the national and state elections, marking a phased implementation approach.

The initiative, which aims to synchronize elections across multiple levels of government, would require 18 constitutional amendments. Several of these amendments will need ratification by at least half of India's states.

A separate recommendation by the Law Commission advocates for simultaneous elections for all three levels of government: Lok Sabha, state assemblies, and local bodies, beginning in 2029. The Commission's proposal also includes provisions for the formation of a unity government in the event of a hung parliament or no-confidence motions. This move aligns with a key promise made by the BJP in its Lok Sabha election manifesto. However, the proposal

Nationwide Cashless Treatment Scheme for Accident Victims to Launch Soon

New Delhi: Union Minister for Road Transport and Highways, Nitin Gadkari, announced today in the Lok Sabha that a nationwide cashless treatment scheme for road accident victims will soon be launched. The scheme, which is currently operational in six states, will first be introduced in Uttar Pradesh and later expanded across the country.

The new initiative will allow road accident victims to receive treatment worth up to 1.5 lakh rupees at participating hospitals, without the need for upfront payment. This move is expected to significantly improve emergency medical responses for accident victims and reduce fatalities caused by delayed treatment.

Addressing concerns over the rising number of road accidents, Gadkari urged Members of Parliament to establish Accident Prevention Committees in every district. These committees will be tasked with identifying and addressing the root causes of accidents. The Minister pointed out that Uttar Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, and Madhya Pradesh are the states with the highest number of accidents, while Delhi, Bengaluru, and Jaipur top the list among cities. Highlighting the urgency of timely medical care, Gadkari noted that 30 percent of road accident victims die due to delays in receiving early treatment. He further revealed that the cashless treatment scheme has already saved 2,100 lives in the six states where it is currently being implemented.

New Delhi: The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) has criticized the Congress for attempting to shift attention away from the alleged connection between Congress leader Sonia Gandhi and financier George Soros. The controversy emerged amid a standoff in Parliament over the INDIA bloc's motion to remove Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar.

BJP President and Union Minister J.P. Nadda took aim at Congress Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha, Rahul Gandhi, for reportedly filming a mimicry of Vice President Dhankhar in Parliament. Nadda stated, "The Vice President, who also serves as the Rajya Sabha Chairman, holds a constitutional position. It is inappropriate for the Leader of Opposition to make a video mocking this role and encourage such behavior."

his disappointment that Sonia Gandhi and the Congress party did not condemn the mimicry. He said, "It reminded me of my college days when opposition and ruling parties engaged in similar conduct. Yet, the Congress leadership remained silent."

The BJP president accused Congress of trying to divert attention from allegations linking Sonia Gandhi to George Soros, claiming that the Congress was attempting to "deviate and divert" the debate surrounding this issue. Nadda added, "The nation is disturbed by the idea that George Soros wants to undermine the stability of our country. People want to know the truth behind the connection between Sonia Gandhi and Soros.'

Trinamool MP submits written apology over remarks on Jyotiraditya Scindia

New Delhi. Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Thursday said that TMC MP Kalyan Banerjee has submitted a written apology for his remarks against Union Minister Jyotiraditya Scindia besides apologising in the House.As soon as the House met, some members belonging to the ruling alliance stood up to raise the issue of the remarks made by Banerjee. However, Birla intervened and said whatever happened on Wednesday was unfortunate and no member should make any personal remark against any fellow member.

Without taking the name of Banerjee, he said any remark against women is in bad taste and it hurts their dignity and honour.

The speaker said agreements and disagreements are part of the democratic process but no member should make any personal remark against anyone."The member concerned had apologised (in the House). He has also given me in writing too," he said and started with the day's proceedings.On Wednesday, there were verbal clashes when Banerjee was speaking in the House during a discussion on the amendments to the Disaster Management Act. The TMC member had alleged non-cooperation by the central government during the COVID-19 pandemic, but Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai countered it, saying it was Prime Minister Narendra Modi who helped all the states and successfully handled the crisis by taking everyone along.

Rai also alleged that the West Bengal government tried to put hurdles in the transportation of the Covid vaccines through the state. Scindia stood up to support Rai, saying that India had emerged as a "Vishwa Bandhu" during the pandemic and helped all the needy countries across the world.

Following this, Banerjee attacked Scindia and made certain remarks against the minister which were expunged by the Speaker after an uproar. The verbal spat between the treasury and opposition benches led to adjournment. When the House reconvened, Banerjee apologised for his remarks, but Scindia refused to accept it, saying the opposition members should desist from making personal attacks."Mr Kalyan Banerjee rose in this House and said sorry. But I will say that we all come to this House with the spirit of contributing to the nation's development... but we also come with a sense of self-respect.s

The Thiruvananthapuram MP clarified that he was absolutely fine and has been regularly attending the winter session of Parliament."For all those expressing concern about my well-being, I am pleased to say that not only is my leg alright, but I have been attending Parliament daily and spoke in the debate on the National Disaster Management bill yesterday," he said.

missing a step in the Parliament building during the winter session. The former Union Minister had also shared photographs of him in a hospital bed with a cast around his left ankle.

Due to the injury, Tharoor had to be taken to Parliament in a wheelchair. He had then expressed his disappointment on how poorly equipped India was for disabled people.

"This temporary disability has taught me how poorly equipped we are to support people with disabilities," the Congress MP had tweeted then. The Congress MP, who often grabs social media attention for his unique linguistic style, however, is no alien to trolls. In August, Tharoor was trolled for his "memorable day in Wayanad" post during his visit to the landslide-hit district. The tragedy left over 300 people dead and displaced hundreds."For all the trolls: the definition of 'memorable': Something that is memorable is worth remembering or likely to be remembered, because it is special or unforgettable. That's all I meant," he

AAP's Poll Special: 1,000 A Month For Delhi Women, 2,100 If It Wins

Minutes after the AAP's announcement, the BJP's Virendra Sachdeva issued a sharp reminder; "Kejriwal should answer promises made for women before the Punjab," he said.

New Delhi. Arvind Kejriwal on Thursday announced a new scheme for Delhi women - ? 1,000 in their accounts every month, with a promise to double it? 2,100 if his Aam Aadmi Party wins February's

However, the initial payment of ? 1,000 cannot be credited till after the election, he said, pointing out "... poll dates will be announced in 10-15 days, so it is not possible to transfer the money now". The AAP boss, with Chief Minister Atishi by his side, also hit out at the opposition Bharatiya Janata Party, accusing them of having delayed the scheme's roll-out - by "conspiring and sending me to jail (in the alleged liquor policy case)" - and having cost Delhi women the steady honorarium.

have come to make two big announcements for the people of Delhi... both are for women. I had earlier promised to give ? 1,000 to every woman. This proposal was passed in a cabinet meeting chaired by Atishiji this morning. Now this scheme has been implemented in Delhi...""(But) elections will be announced in 10-15 days, so it is not possible to transfer money to your accounts right now. Also, some women had said ? 1,000 will not be enough - due to inflation and price rise. Therefore, registration will start from tomorrow for ? 2100 per month...""This scheme is for empowering women and addressing their financial needs," Mr Kejriwal said, snapping back at criticism from the BJP - that it is merely a pollrelated freebie, or revdi.

The BJP also asks, 'where will the BJP's Punjab Reminder money come from?'... but I had said we will give free electricity (a promise the AAP made before the 2015 Delhi election, and which is now a party standard) and we did that," he reminded voters. Deputy Chief Minister under Mr Sachdeva was speaking about a promise the AAP made before the 2022 election - to deposit? 1,000 in the bank accounts of eligible women in that state - and which has not yet happened.That amount was later raised to ? 1,110. Why Punjab has fallen deeper into the abyss

AS I heard the news of the attempt to assassinate Sukhbir Singh Badal, my mind flashed back to the April of 1983 and the killing of AS Atwal (DIG), an outstanding police officer and a gem of a person. Atwal was martyred while on duty with the limited resources he had while facing an armed militancy. Sukhbir survived — barely. The individual heroics of a policeman saved the day, but how a known terrorist with Pakistani training and support was allowed to not only recce the area but also approach a Z plus protectee is a question that remains to be answered. They say that history repeats itself but in the case of Punjab, we seem to be approaching the cycle with alarming speed. The conditions being created are similar, but as, yet, we do not have a full-blown militancy. The Punjab countryside is awash with unemployed youth who indulge in petty crimes and feed the drug industry. A lot of them have organised themselves into armed gangs, available for kidnappings, killings and inter-gang warfare. Their tentacles reach into Canada, the USA, Australia and, of course, Pakistan. They even operate from within jails how is this possible? The youth are unemployed as agriculture has been, for the past many decades, a failing proposition for most marginal farmers. Punjab was never given priority for industrialisation as it was considered a border state and was landlocked. Even today, with its huge diaspora, air connectivity to the rest of the world remains a distant dream, with paltry routes being assigned to its international airports. Employment in the defence and paramilitary forces is no longer of the scale it used to be. Also, most youth are unemployable in skilled professions because of a failed education system. In the 1960s and 70s, the region had four of the top medical institutions — Amritsar medical college, CMC, Ludhiana, Rajindra Hospital, Patiala, and the PGIMER, Chandigarh. Today, barring the PGI, the rest are poor reflections of their old days as poor funding and administration has eroded them. Punjab University commanded immense respect, boasting a successful alumnus in all fields of life; today, it's a shadow of its former self. The odd IIT or private institution that has come up is a case of too little. There seems to be no well-conceived plan to create suitable employment. Why are the youth running to foreign shores for basic education and jobs? Why are they not productively employed here?I recall the theory of 'Masterly Inaction', initially practised by John Lawrence (Viceroy of India) in the 1860s through his policy on dealing with Afghanistan after the death of its Emir, Dost Mohammad Khan, and the subsequent civil war. This policy helped the British consolidate their Indian empire. Its adaption on the home front is leading to the creation of a failed state. The concept of proactive administration, which identifies problems, finds solutions, engages in planning for its citizens, has changed to 'masterly instituted a continued to its co inactivity', a conjuror's trick of creating an illusion of activity where there is none. Punjab alone is not at fault, Delhi also is missing in action. There is no acknowledgement of our problems. A proxy war was waged on the country through instigating, funding and promoting militancy in the state by Pakistan for two decades. What happened from 1970 to 1995, the days of horror and nights of massacres inflicted on us, is well known.

The Government of India resources were poured into fighting the militancy, but it was the blood of Punjabis that soaked its fields. Things were brought under control, but the political, administrative and economic fabric was destroyed. The situation required an initiative — a 'master plan'. It required political and administrative leadership of the highest order, but this was not to be. There has been no coordinated plan to pull Punjab out of this morass, no injection of financial or administrative support to help revive it. People forget the sheer scale of human tragedy during this time — over 3,000 police and paramilitary personnel were martyred. The Centre should have taken the lead and Punjab followed in its effort to revive.

The significance of variability in data-based estimates

The average is not the 'only' message. If individuals from all walks of life understand that, the data-based world will become more transparent and clear to people.

IONCE served in a debate competition as one of the three judges. The ranking made by me prevailed even after the final rankings of the candidates were prepared by aggregating the scores given by all judges. The other two judges were taken aback. However, as a statistician, I was aware of the cause. The other two judges' ratings were much less variable; they were typically in the range of, say, 60 to 65. However, the distribution of the scores given by me had a lot more variability because they ranged from 5 to 95Ideally, the scores should be added up after each judge's score has been divided by an appropriate measure of variability. Unfortunately, there was no such clause. This also holds true in many other real-world scenarios.

In fact, statistics recognises many measures of central tendency, or "average", such as the mean, which is the total divided by the number of observations, and the median, which is the middle-most value. We often state that country X has a larger per capita income than, say, country Y.

However, is the average income a reliable measure of the state of the economy if social inequality is ignored?In his 2013 book Capital in the Twenty-First Century, Thomas Piketty used quantiles, such as the percentage of total wealth held by the poorest half of the population, the top 10%, the top 5%, the top 1%, or even the top 0.1% or 0.01%, because he believes that the Gini coefficient — a single number between 0 and 1 — is insufficient to explain the economic inequalities and their evolution. Four or five of these quantiles are seen to be adequate to understand the key components of economic inequality and its development, depending on the type of inequality and the time period that is being studied. Therefore, we basically require a sense of how wealth is distributed, which is just variability. Unfortunately, the majority of data-based estimates of different political and socioeconomic indicators are typically published without sufficiently addressing the estimates' variability.

Three researchers from the University of Southern Denmark have illustrated four classes of circumstances in which the conclusion reached based solely on the mean is qualitatively changed when variability is also taken into account. Their paper, "Variability Matters", was published in the International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health in 2020. Variability is a significant issue when it comes to economic disparities, health and longevity disparities among social groups and population selection potential, which is based on the fitness distribution's tails. This is becoming increasingly clear to experts working on data. It has also been suggested that predicting and comprehending the Covid-19 pandemic required an understanding of the disease transmission variability. Again, Havelock Ellis, an English physician and author, first put up the theory of greater male variability in 1894 to explain the overabundance of males among the eminent and among the mentally ill. This theory has been used to attempt to explain why Harvard has so few female mathematics professors, for instance. The statement, A statistician confidently waded through a river that was on average 50 cm deep. He drowned," is commonly credited to Dutch author and television personality Godfried Bomans. To be fair, though, a statistician would never do that because she understands the importance of variability and that the river's depth might surpass her height in the he significance of understanding variability in medical prognosis is demonstrated by the extraordinary story of renowned evolutionary biologist Stephen Jay Gould. Gould was diagnosed with abdominal mesothelioma, an incurable cancer, in 1982. From the medical literature, he learnt that the median survival duration was eight months. "I will probably be dead in eight months," he thought initially. However, means and medians are abstractions of reality, as Gould was aware. Because Gould was an optimist and because he understood nature, statistics and the meaning of variance in life's processes, he consequently took a very different approach to the mesothelioma statistics. Well, half of the population will undoubtedly survive longer than eight months if the median is eight months. Due to his youth, disease identification at a relatively early stage, first-rate medical care he received, and a strong will to live, he didn't give up. "The distribution of variation had to be right-skewed... the upper (or right) half can extend out for years and years... my favourable profile made me a good candidate for that part of the curve," he thought. Gould's 1991 essay "The Median Isn't the Message" was included in his book Bully for Brontosaurus: Reflections on Natural History, which has been reprinted numerous times for a wide range of readers. Twenty years (not 20 months!) after being diagnosed, Gould passed away due to a different cancer.Perhaps, significant in this context is a quotation from William Winwood Reade that was referenced in Arthur Conan Doyle's novel The Sign of the Four. "While the individual man is an insoluble puzzle, in the aggregate he becomes a mathematical certainty,' Sherlock Holmes said to Watson. "You can, for example, never foretell what any one man will do, but you can say with precision what an average number will be up to," said Holmes.Finally, let's consider a snapshot of election prediction. In the recent US presidential election, the final-minute survey indicated that Donald Trump would receive 47.2% of the national vote and Kamala Harris 48.4%. But in the end, Trump and Harris received 49.9% and 48.4% of the vote, respectively. Was the poll prediction, at least for the vote share percentages, overly weird statistically? Obviously not. The opinion poll predictions are usually subject to a plus-minus 3% margin of error if proper care is taken to design them. This means that if the same process is applied frequently, the true population average will, 95% of the time, fall within the sample estimate, plus or minus 3%, which is derived using the variability of the estimates, and sample sizes in opinion polls are ideally set accordingly. As per this, the aforementioned opinion poll suggests that Trump's expected vote share could reach 50.4%. At least, it didn't go beyond that limit!

All being said, the average is not the "only" message. If individuals from all walks of life understand that, the data-based world will become more transparent

Assad's fall

Fragile hope in Syria's new dawn

in ruins and its economy shattered by war and sanctions.

Internally displaced citizens and refugees yearn for a return to normalcy, but fears of ethnic and sectarian divides linger. The promise of democracy is clouded by the ghosts of Libya and Iraq, where transitions led to chaos rather than cohesion. The US faces a critical moment in its West Asia strategy. Having supported Kurdish forces against the ISIS and maintained a military presence, Washington must now navigate the aftermath of Assad's fall. Its role could define whether Syria's future is one of peace or continued strife, balancing counterterrorism with humanitarian engagement. External forces further complicate Syria's path. Turkiye, the Gulf states and western powers have vested interests. while Israel and Iran remain wary of instability spilling across borders.

While Trump has said the Americans must keep off, the question is how the HTS was able to find the gunpowder to mount the final assault on Damascus, forcing even the Russians to withdraw. Who has this kind of military

Stakes are the highest for Israel

Assad was pillar of Iran-led 'axis of resistance' that posed a challenge for Jerusalem & US

THE US and its Turkish and Israeli allies are the prime movers in what has been characterised as the Syrian revolution that brought a stunning end to the 54-year rule of the Assad dynasty. They are the apparent beneficiaries of a process that started with a civil war, which began in 2011 and reached its climax on December 8 when the regime collapsed and the country's dictator, Bashar al-Assad, fled to Moscow with his wife and three children.

Assad was the main pillar of the Iran-led "axis of resistance" that posed a major challenge for both Jerusalem and Washington. He was also Russia's most trusted regional ally and his departure means Moscow is obliged to evacuate its last naval and military strongholds in West Asia.

Turkey, for its part, will finally have a sympathetic regime in charge in Damascus that can help Ankara confront the problems it faces with its Kurdish minorities living along the Syrian border. Even better for Turkey is the prospect of lakhs of Syrian refugees returning home and reducing the economic burden of hosting them that Ankara has been forced highest for Israel where Assad's downfall has attracted mixed responses, ranging from jubilation to fears about what could emerge in the new Syria. "This is a historic day in the history of the Middle East," Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu declared during a visit to the Syria border. "The Assad regime is a central link in Iran's Axis of Evil — this regime has fallen." In a bit to take credit for what has happened in Syria, Netanyahu added,

"This is a direct result of the blows we have inflicted on Iran and Hezbollah, the main supporters of the Assad regime. This has created a chain reaction throughout the Middle East of all those who want to be free from this oppressive and tyrannical regime."In this time of uncertainty, including a power vacuum in Damascus, Israel has taken the initiative by launching a series of pre-emptive military measures. These include deploying army bulldozers, painted in distinctive orange colours, to dig three-metre deep ditches along the Syria border to block militants from attacking the Jewish state that has the most to lose from what unfolds in Damascus. The nightmarish scenario for Israeli generals, echoed in Washington, is a repeat of last In another unprecedented move, thousands of Israeli year's invasion from Gaza when Hamas gunmen used 4-by-4 Toyota pickups to crash through border fences and launch the deadliest attack against Jews since the World War II Holocaust. At least 1,200 Israelis were killed and thousands injured, while 240 were kidnapped and taken as hostages. Currently, 100 hostages still remain in custody.

to bear for the past over a decade. The stakes are the Israelis, monitoring the progress of Syrian rebels, as they too drove to Damascus in similar four-by-four convoys and backed up by rocket-propelled grenades (RPGs), are fearful that what happened across the Gaza border last year could be repeated on the northern border with Syria. Digging the trenches — code-named Project New East — is one of the several measures approved by cabinet ministers who have been holding emergency meetings to assess the unfolding crisis in Syria.

soldiers have created a 14-km deep buffer zone on the Syrian side of the border, known as Mount Hermon and famous on the Israeli side as a winter ski resort. Israeli media has published pictures of soldiers displaying their national flag with a caption declaring: "Syria's Mount Hermon has been occupied."Such is the fear of an escalating conflict along this border that the Israeli cabinet is contemplating ordering the army to expand its presence by capturing yet more Syrian territory. In the past few days, Israeli warplanes have launched endless strikes on Syrian military bunkers, missile bases and strategic military installations that are alleged to host clusters of chemical weapons, first used more than a decade ago to intimidate opponents of ousted President Bashar al-Assad, an ally of Russia and Iran, when they demanded the end of his authoritarian rule. At the time, Assad defied US President Barack Obama by crossing a so-called red line and deploying these chemical weapons with disregard for international law. Obama could have retaliated, but chose not to risk involving the US in the Syrian civil war.Delight in Assad's downfall is shared by many Syrian political prisoners rescued from his notorious jails. Horror stories of what they endured have sent shock waves across the region. These include the account of a weeping man who described how he and 54 others were due to be executed last Sunday, but were saved at the last minute when the regime in Damascus collapsed.

Another released victim is a middle-aged woman who was jailed as an unmarried teenager and has now emerged as the mother of two children. She has no idea about the identity of the children's father, or fathers. Some elderly prisoners, long presumed dead by their families, have resurfaced to tell their horror tales. None of these accounts come as a surprise to Syrian human rights campaigners, who explain how Assad and his late father, Hafez al-Assad, were among the Arab world's most ruthless dictators. Although the Assad family's human rights record has never been of interest to Israel, Tel Aviv has always been fearful of how Syria has played host to multiple terror groups headed by the likes of Nazi fugitive Alois Brunner, an associate of the late Adolph Eichmann, who died in 2001, Germany's Baader-Meinhof, Carlos the Jackal, and members of the Japanese Red Army.

नर्ड दिल्ली। केंद्र सरकार ने गेहं की जमाखोरी रोकने और कीमतों पर नियंत्रण करने के लिए सख्त कदम उठाए हैं। सरकार ने कीमतों में तेजी पर लगाम लगाने के लिए थोक विक्रेताओं, छोटे और बडे खुदरा विक्रेताओं और प्रसंस्करणकर्ताओं के लिए गेहूं का स्टॉक रखने के मानदंडों को और सख्त कर दिया है। उपभोक्ता, खाद्य एवं सार्वजनिक वितरण मामलों के मंत्रालय ने जारी एक बयान में कहा कि गेहूं की कीमतों को कम करने के निरंतर प्रयासों के तहत सरकार ने 31 मार्च, 2025 तक लागू गेहूं की स्टॉक सीमा को संशोधित किया गया है। संशोधित मानदंडों के अनुसार थोक विक्रेताओं को अब 2,000 टन के

नई दिल्ली। एशियाई विकास बैंक (एडीबी) ने चालू वित्त वर्ष 2024-25 के लिए भारत की आर्थिक वृद्धि दर के अनुमान को सात फीसदी से घटाकर 6.5 फीसदी कर दिया है।

इसके साथ ही एडीबी ने अगले वित्त वर्ष 2025-26 के लिए देश के सकल घरेल उत्पाद (जीडीपी) ग्रोथ के अनुमान को 7.2 फीसदी से घटाकर सात फीसदी कर दिया है। अंतरराष्ट्रीय वित्तीय एजेंसी एडीबी ओर से जारी एशियाई विकास परिदृश्य (एडीओ) रिपोर्ट के मुताबिक अमेरिकी व्यापार, राजकोषीय तथा आव्रजन नीतियों में बदलाव की वजह से विकासशील एशिया तथा प्रशांत क्षेत्र में वृद्धि प्रभावित हो सकती है और महंगाई बढ़ सकती है। रिपोर्ट में कहा गया है कि एशिया तथा प्रशांत क्षेत्र की अर्थव्यवस्थाओं के 2024 में 4.9 फीसदी की दर से बढ़ने का अनुमान है, जो एडीबी के सितंबर

अनुमान से थोड़ा कम है। एडीबी ने अपनी ताजा रिपोर्ट में कहा है कि निजी निवेश और आवास मांग में उम्मीद से कम वृद्धि की वजह से भारत की आ?र्थिक

मुबई ।भारतीय रिजर्व बैंक के 26वें गवर्नर के रूप में कार्यभार संभालने वाले संजय मल्होत्रा ने अपने पहले संवाददाता सम्मेलन में नीति में स्थिरता और निरंतरता की आवश्यकता पर जोर दिया लेकिन उन्होंने यह भी स्वीकार किया कि इस गतिशील दुनिया में चुनौतियों का सामना करने के लिए केंद्रीय बैंक को 'सतर्क और चुस्त' रहना होगा। श्री मल्होत्रा ने कहा नीति में स्थिरता बहुत महत्वपूर्ण है। यह कुछ ऐसा है कि मेरी पिछली भूमिका में भी हम नीति में स्थिरता और निरंतरता देने की कोशिश कर रहे थे। इसलिए, चाहे वह कराधान हो, या राजकोषीय या मौद्रिक नीति, सभी व्यवसायों, सभी लोगों को इस निरंतरता और स्थिरता की आवश्यकता होती है। जबकि स्थिरता महत्वपूर्ण है, हम यह भी जानते हैं कि

परिवर्तन के प्रभाव और दनिया भर में राजनीतिक अनिश्चितता के साथ गतिशील है। हमें इस तथ्य के प्रति सचेत रहना होगा कि जब हम निरंतरता और स्थिरता बनाए रखते हैं, तो हम उससे चिपके नहीं रह सकते। पूर्व राजस्व सचिव और अब अपनी नयी भिमका में आये श्री मल्होत्रा ने कहा हमारी अर्थव्यवस्था को विकसित होने की जरूरत है क्योंकि हम इस अमृत काल में प्रवेश कर रहे हैं और 2047 में विकासशील भारत के सपने को साकार करना है। हमारे पास यह सुनिश्चित करने की बहुत बड़ी जिम्मेदारी है कि इस देश में जो विकास हो रहा है वह जारी रहे।उन्होंने ने कहा कि आरबीआई एक प्रतिष्ठित संस्था है और इसकी विरासत बहत

ध्वनिमत से पारित नर्ड दिल्ली। लोकसभा ने रेलवे

(संशोधन) विधेयक, 2024 ध्वनिमत से पारित कर दिया। विधेयक 1905 के रेलवे बोर्ड अधिनियम और 1989 के रेलवे विधेयक को एकीकृत करेगा। केन्द्रीय रेल मंत्री अश्वनी वैष्णव ने आज विधेयक पर पिछले दिनों हुई चर्चा का उत्तर दिया। उन्होंने कहा कि रेलवे बोर्ड और रेलवे से जुड़े विधेयक को एकीकृत करने से रेलवे का विकास और कार्यदक्षता बढ़ेगी। विधेयक के माध्यम से कानूनी ढांचे का सरलीकरण होगा। रेल मंत्री ने विपक्ष को रक्षा और रेलवे को राजनीति से दूर रखने की अपील करते हुए उसके केन्द्रीकरण और निजीकरण से जुड़े आरोपों का खंडन किया। उन्होंने कहा कि पिछले 10

साल में रेलवे में विकेन्द्रीकरण का

कार्य हुआ है। काम में तेजी आई है। वैष्णव ने कई मद्दों पर चरणबद्ध तरीके से विपक्ष के प्रश्नों का जवाब

दिया। उन्होंने बताया कि रेलवे में एसी और नॉन एसी कोच का अनपात लगातार बरकरार रखा गया है। साथ ही नॉन एसी श्रेणी में अमृत भारत ट्रेन लाई गई हैं। आज इनके माध्यम से 400 रुपये में एक हजार किमी की यात्रा की जा सकती है। मंत्री ने विपक्ष के रेलवे सुरक्षा से

जुड़ी चिंताओं का भी जवाब दिया। उन्होंने बताया कि यूपीए के कार्यकाल के मुकाबले रेल दुर्घटनाओं में 75

प्रतिशत और पटरी से उतरने की घटनाओं में 78 प्रतिशत की कमी आई है। उन्होंने रोजगार पर कहा कि यूपीए के कार्यकाल में 4.11 लाख को रेलवे में नौकरियां दी गई थी। अब प्रधानमंत्री मोदी के 10 वर्षों के दौरान 5.20 लाख लोगों को नौकरियां दी गई हैं। हमने चयन प्रक्रिया को भी कैलेंडर आधारित, सरल और पेपर लीक से मुक्त रखा है। भारतीय रेलवे बोर्ड अधिनियम, 1905 के तहत केंद्र सरकार रेलवे के संबंध में अपनी शक्तियों और कार्यों को रेलवे बोर्ड में निवेश कर सकती है। विधेयक 1905 अधिनियम को निरस्त करता है और इन प्रावधानों को रेलवे अधिनियम, 1989 में शामिल करता है।

पटनीटॉप-सनासर (जम्मू कश्मीर)। चारों ओर बिछी हुई बर्फ की सफेद चादर, देवदार तथा चीड़ के पेड़ों से गिरते बर्फ के टुकड़े सच में यहां आने वालों को नई दुनिया का आभास देते हैं। जिधर नजर दौड़ाएं, बस बर्फ ही बर्फ दिखती है और उस पर दिखते हैं बर्फ के खेलों का आनंद उठाते हुए लोग, जो देश के विभिन्न भागों से आए थे। यह है पटनीटॉप का प्रसिद्ध और मनमोहक पर्यटन स्थल जहां सिर्फ गर्मियां ही नहीं बिल्क सर्दियां भी मनोहारी होती हैं। जम्मू से 108 किमी दूर पटनीटॉप का रमणीय

अर प्राकृतिक सौंदर्य से भरपूर स्थल समुद्रतल से 6400 फुट की ऊंचाई पर है। लंबे लंबे चीड़ और देवदार के पेड़ हर उस शख्स को अपनी ओर आकर्षित कर रहे हैं जो प्रकृतिप्रेमी हैं। साल भर इसकी खूबसूरत ढलानों पर जमी रहने वाली बर्फ भी पर्यटकों को अपनी ओर खींच लेने की शक्ति रखती है।

जम्मू पर्यटन विभाग पटनीटॉप में बर्फ के खेलों का मजा आने वाले पर्यटकों को देने के लिए अगले कुछ दिनों में 'स्कीइंग फैस्टिवल' आयोजित करने जा रहा है। जम्मू क्षेत्र में यह अपने किस्म का वार्षिक स्कीइंग फेस्टिवल होता है जिसमें पर्यटकों को स्कीइंग तो सिखाई ही जाती है और साथ ही पर्यटक बर्फ के खेलों का आनंद भी लुटते हैं।

जब कश्मीर में आतंकी घटनाओं ने देश-विदेश के पर्यटकों को गुलमर्ग के प्रसिद्ध पर्यटन स्थल से मुख मोड़ने पर विवश किया तो उत्तर प्रदेश व हिमाचल प्रदेश के बर्फीले क्षेत्र बर्फ के खेलों के विकल्प के रूप में उभर कर सामने आए थे। अब जम्मू क्षेत्र के 'पहलगाम' के रूप में जाने जाना वाला पटनीटॉप नए और महत्वपूर्ण बर्फ के पर्यटन स्थल के रूप में पूरी तरह से उभर चुका है।

पहलगाम के उपरांत पटनीटॉप को स्कीइंग स्थल के रूप में ख्याति प्राप्त करवाने में पर्यटन विभाग के जम्मू विंग का अच्छा खासा सहयोग रहा है। विभाग की मेहनत ही है कि आज पटनीटॉप में स्कीइंग और पैराग्लाइडिंग करने वालों की भीड़ लगी रहती है। स्कीइंग के लिए तो पटनीटॉप की सबसे ऊंची पहाडी पर बनी छोटी और बड़ी स्लोपों के साथ ही पटनीटॉप के साथ लगते नथाटाप क्षेत्र को भी इस्तेमाल में लाया जा रहा है। जो आप ही खूबसूरती की एक मिसाल है। पर्यटन विभाग की ओर से अन्य स्लोपों की तलाश तथा उनका विकास किया जा रहा है ताकि स्कीइंग के लिए आने वालों की भीड से निपटा जा सके।

आने वाले सभी लोगों को बर्फ के खेलों का आनंद उठाने का अवसर उपलब्ध नहीं हो पाता क्योंकि स्कीइंग साल में सिर्फ सर्दियों के अढ़ाई महीनों में ही होती है। हिमाचल में यह सिर्फ दो महीने होती है पर पटनीटॉप व नत्थाटाप में यह कभी–कभी 3 महीनों तक होती रहती है क्योंकि बर्फ पिघलती नहीं है।

ऐसा भी नहीं है कि स्कीइंग न कर पाने वालों को पटनीटॉप आकर निराश होना पड़ता हो बल्कि कई बार लोग बर्फ पर फिसलने वाली लकड़ी की स्लेज का मजा लूटते हैं। कुछ लोग बर्फ के पुतले बना बर्फ के अन्य खेलों में लिप्त होते हैं। यह सब कुछ साल के सिर्फ अढ़ाई महीनों के दौरान ही इसलिए होता है क्योंकि बर्फ इसी

दौरान रहती है और गर्मियों में पटनीटॉप आने वाले इन नजारों तथा अनुभवों से वंचित रहते हैं।

गर्मियों में आने वालों को निराशा होती हो ऐसा भी नहीं है क्योंकि गर्मियों में पटनीटॉप आने का अपना ही अलग लुत्फ है जो कश्मीर के मुकाबले का है। ऐसा इसलिए है क्योंकि समुद्रतल से जितनी ऊंचाई पर पटनीटॉप स्थित है उससे कम ऊंचाई पर श्रीनगर शहर है।

कश्मीर का मुकाबला करने वाले इस अनखुए पर्यटनस्थल पटनीटॉप में बर्फ के खेलों का एक रोचक पहलू यह है कि इसका आनंद उढाने वालों में अधिकतर वे लोग हैं जो पटनीटॉप से करीब अढ़ाई घंटों की यात्रा की दूरी पर स्थित प्रसिद्ध तीर्थस्थल माता वैष्णो देवी की गुफा के दर्शनार्थ आते हैं। आधिकारिक रिकार्ड के अनुसार पटनीटॉप आने वाले पर्यटकों में 80 प्रतिशत वैष्णो देवी के तीर्थयात्री ही हैं।

Did Yashasvi Jaiswal's 'too slow' remark lead to Starc revival Ponting reacts

New Delhi. Ricky Ponting feels that Yashasvi Jaiswal's cheeky remark during the Perth Test could have led to Mitchell Starc's revival during the second match of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Adelaide. During the first match of the series, Jaiswal scored a brilliant 161 in the second innings. scored a brilliant 161 in the second innings which set up India's win. During the knock, there was a moment when the young opener would have an exchange with Starc.Jaiswal said that the Aussie pacer was 'too slow' and Starc would respond with a smile. However, in the Adelaide Test, the pacer would have his revenge as he dismissed Jaiswal for a golden duck with the first ball of the match and ended up registering his best career figures of 6 for 48 in the first innings. figures of 6 for 48 in the first innings. Speaking on the recent episode of the ICC review, Ponting suggested that the exchange with the Indian opener could have given extra motivation for Starc."He's actually a pretty level-headed guy, Mitchell Starc. He doesn't get flustered too much, even you see when he's bowling now," Ponting said."And if one of the batters does happen to say something, he generally responds with a something, he generally responds with a little smile on his face. "But I think that smile on his face might be just a bit of a cover for the fire that's burning inside. Look, he bowled beautifully in Adelaide didn't bowled beautifully in Adelaide didn't he." Ponting hails Starc's adaptabilityPonting also praised Starc for changing his bowling style in recent times to prolong his career. The former Aussie skipper claimed that Starc isn't slowing down, and it is just the way he is bowling at the moment."He certainly deserves high praise. I mean, he's probably in the last couple of years been better than he's ever been." Ponting noted "And the reason that I been," Ponting noted."And the reason that I say that is I think he's a more consistent bowler now than he's ever been before, yet his pace is still about the same as it always was. I mean, he could bowl over 150km/h probably a few years ago and he's in absolute prime now. He's sort of operating in the mid-140s, but his consistency, the way he's starting spells is really good now as well."I was really impressed by how he started his first spell in Perth and then the way he started his first spell in Adelaide was obviously unbelievably good. So his pink-ball record speaks for itself and I think talking to some of the players as well, I think the reason why his pink ball record is so good is I think the pink ball actually performs very similar to the white ball.

Decisive footwork, off-stump discipline: Inside Virat Kohli's Brisbane nets session

New Delhi. Virat Kohli seems to be all set for the Brisbane Test as the star batter engaged in an intense and focused nets session on Thursday, December 12. Kohli, who had scored a hundred in the Perth Test, would struggle in the Adelaide loss. The star batter's weakness outside off-stump was exploited by the Aussie bowlers as he was dismissed for 7 and 11 in the second Test.

Kohli had decided to work on this just after the pink-ball Test, as was seen during the nets session in Adelaide on December 10. The Indian team would engage in their first training session in the city on Thursday and the focus was primarily on Kohli. Kohli was very focused during the time he spent in the nets and similar to the one in Adelaide, the star batter was leaving a lot of deliveries outside off. There was also a lot of backfoot play involved during the session, which saw Kohli bring out some cut shots and pulls.

Kohli would spend a lot of time with the throwdown specialists before facing the best of the Indian bowlers. The star batter focused the last half an hour on what he wanted specifically out of the session. Kohli would play a lot of backfoot punches and cover drives as well to conclude his long net session.

Kohli's record in Brisbane

Kohli has played just one match in Brisbane so far in his Test career. This was during the 2014 series and the star batter could only manage 20 runs across both innings. The Indian team will be expected to have one more practice session on December 13 before the match gets underway.

Boland knows how to trap Kohli then why can't we do same for Head: Mohammad Kaif

New Delhi. Former India cricketer Mohammad Kaif feels Indian bowlers need to target Australia batter Travis Head the same way opposition bowlers target Virat Kohli. Notably, Head has been India's chief tormentor over the past year having scored match-winning centuries against them in the World Test Championship (WTC) final and the ODI World Cup 2023 final.In the ongoing series as well, Head has been in phenomenal form with scores of 89 and a match-winning 140 in the second Test in Adelaide. Mohammad Kaif feels India need to exploit Head's weakness, the same way the opposition targets Kohli by bowling outside off stump against him."If Boland knows how to trap Kohli then why can't we do the some for Travis Head?If his weakness is outside the off-stump, why don't we consistently bowl there? Every batsman has weaknesses. Everyone knows Virat Kohli's weakness. You bowl it outside the off-stump and he will nick it. You'll need to adopt the same strategy against Travis Head as well. You need to move ahead with proper planning. You need

AUS vs IND: How India batters trained in Brisbane ahead of 3rd Test

Team India enagged in intense practice in their first session in Brisbane as batters spent a long time in the nets. Fast bowler Jasprit Bumrah was also seen bowling full throttle, shutting down any concerns on his fitness.

New Delhi. The Indian batters were seen engaging in a long practice session after their disappointing show in Adelaide. Notably, the entire squad arrived in Brisbane on Wednesday, December 11 and had their first nets session. After the loss in the second Border Gavaskar Trophy: Full Coverage who failed to continue their good show from the second innings in Perth and could only score 180 and 175 in the two innings respectively.Hence, the batters seemed determined to put their bad performances behind them and worked on their weaknesses. Star batter Virat Kohli showed great discipline in leaving the balls outside off stump and was decisive in his footwork. India skipper Rohit Sharma started by facing the spinners and then faced an intense spell from Navdeep Saini, Yash Dayal and left-arm throw-downs with a special focus on leaving deliveries outside the off stump.

Test, the focus has been on the Indian batters KL Rahul, who's been promoted to open in the ongoing series, was also seen having a long chat with head coach Gautam Gambhir. Ace speedster Jasprit Bumrah shut down talks on his fitness by bowling full throttle. Opening batter Yashasvi Jaiswal was also seen rolling his arm over as he bowled to Akash Deep. On the other hand, fast bowler Mohammed Siraj looked determined to work on his line and length and give good support to Bumrah in the upcoming Test.

India eager to bounce back in Brisbane

The players also engaged in catching drills as Virat Kohli, Sarfaraz Khan and KL Rahul among others, honed their skills. India will be eager to once again take a lead in the series in the upcoming Test, which could well decide which way the series heads. After a thumping 295-run victory in the first Test in Perth, the Rohit Sharma-led side was completely blown away in Adelaide against the pink ball as Australia hammered them by ten wickets. Hence, it's extremely crucial for the visitors to get a much-needed win under their belt in Brisbane and put the hosts under pressure once again. They will take inspiration from their last triumph at the venue during the 2020-21 tour when they to attack him from the first ball; you need to make a fixed plan to exploit his weakness, and then you can get him out," said Kaif in a video shared on his social media handles. Head's marvellous form since 2021

Head has transformed his career ever since the 2021-22 Ashes in Australia where he scored a blistering 152 (148) in the first Test in Brisbane. Since 2021, the southpaw has scored 2260 runs from 32 matches (53 innings) at an average of 45.20 and a strike rate of 79.68 with six hundreds and ten fifties to his name.ead has scored 955 runs from 12 Tests (21 innings) against India at an average of 47.75 which includes a scintillating 163 (174) in the WTC final 2023. The 30-year-old became a thorn in India's flesh in the ODI World Cup 2023 final as well with his gamechanging knock of 137 (120). Hence, India desperately need to find a way to keep Head quiet for the rest of the series as he's looked the only batter to trouble them so far in the first two matches
