Trudeau to discuss Canada's sovereignty with King Charles after Trump threat

London Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau said his priority in talks with King Charles on Monday will be protecting his country's sovereignty after US President Donald Trump recently suggested making Canada the 51st US state. Trudeau said nothing is more important to his citizens than "standing up for our sovereignty and our independence", ahead of the meeting with Charles, who is Canada's head of state.Last week, Charles invited Trump to what would be a historic second state visit to Britain, with Prime Minister Keir Starmer handing over the invitation during a meeting before the world's media in the Oval Office."I look forward to sitting down with His Majesty tomorrow (Monday), as always we will discuss matters of importance to Canada and Canadians, and I can tell you that nothing seems more important to Canadians than standing up for our sovereignty and our independence as a nation," Trudeau told reporters.Trudeau, the outgoing Prime Minister, said last month that Trump's talk about absorbing Canada "is a real thing" and is linked to the country's rich natural resources.Trump has repeatedly suggested Canada would be better off if it agreed to become the 51st US state.

UK Police Discover Remains In Search For Woman Murdered By Husband In 2013

- world.Police searching near a main road in North Yorkshire believe they have found the remains of a woman murdered by her husband more than a decade ago. Rania Alayed was 25 when she was murdered by Ahmed al-Khatib in a Salford flat in June 2013 in what police at the time described as an "honour" killing, the Guardian reported.
- A court heard that Khatib, enraged after Alayed left him, lured her to her death and later wore her clothing to deceive friends and family into believing she was still alive. It was known that Alayed's body had been transported to North Yorkshire and buried near the A19. Despite multiple searches over the years, her remains had not been found. However, following new information, Greater Manchester Police launched a fresh search in Thirsk on Monday, which led to the discovery of human remains. While formal identification is still pending, a police spokesperson stated, "We strongly suspect the remains are that of Rania." Alayed's son, Yazan, speaking on behalf of the family, described the discovery as "surreal" and said, "For the past 11 years, all we have wanted is to provide my mother with a final resting place. To finally be able to lay down a few flowers for her is more than I can ask for from this world."
- Originally from Palestine, Alayed had moved to the UK with Khatib from Syria. Her marriage was marked by domestic violence, but after leaving Khatib, she was striving to build a better life for herself and her three

Wildfires engulf North and South Carolina, states declare emergency; check affected areas

South Carolina Governor Henry McMaster declared a state of emergency on Sunday amid the ongoing wildfire crisis across the state.

World. The raging wildfires across North and South Carolina have affected the normal lives of thousands as crews evacuated residents amid strong winds and dry conditions. On Sunday, firefighters faced challenges containing the blazes due to dry fuels and very low relative humidity. Fire crews worked tirelessly to contain a large wildfire near Carolina Forest, located west of Myrtle Beach. Horry County Fire Rescue had ordered evacuations for several neighborhoods as the fire spread. According to the South Carolina Forestry Commission, the fire had burned nearly 1.9 square miles (4.9 square kilometers) by Sunday afternoon and was not contained. However, no casualties or injuries have been reported so far.

State Of Emergency Declared In South Carolina

South Carolina Governor Henry McMaster declared a state of emergency on Sunday amid the ongoing wildfire crisis across the state. With more than 175 fires having scorched large areas of the state, a statewide burning ban has also been imposed. As smoke enveloped the air and entire communities faced evacuation, the situation remained tense. However, in some regions, including Carolina Forest near Myrtle Beach, firefighters made significant progress which helped evacuees safely return home by late Sunday afternoon.

North Carolina

In western North Carolina, a separate fire near the towns of Tryon and Saluda, caused by a fallen power line along US Highway 176 on Saturday afternoon, quickly spread uphill, threatening structures in the area.

By Sunday evening, the fire had burned over 500 acres, with only 30 percent of it contained, according to Polk County Emergency Management. Meanwhile, the Polk County Emergency Management/Fire Marshal's office reported that the North Carolina Forest Service was carrying out helicopter water drops and backburning operations on the ground.

In North Carolina, the US Forest Service reported multiple wildfires burning across the state, with crews actively working to contain the blazes that have consumed over 400 acres (161.87 hectares) in four different forests. The largest fire reported at Uwharrie

National Forest, nearly 50 miles (80.47 kilometers) east of Charlotte, has burned around 300 acres (121.41 hectares).

Israel supports a US proposal to extend Gaza ceasefire's first phase; Hamas wants Phase 2

CAIRO. Israel's government said early Sunday it supports a proposal to extend the first phase of the ceasefire in Gaza through Ramadan and Passover, though Hamas has insisted on negotiating the truce's second phase instead. The statement by Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office came minutes after the first phase ended, and as talks have begun on starting the second phase that's aimed at ending the war and seeing all remaining living hostages in Gaza returned home

The statement gives new details on what Israel described as a U.S. proposal: A ceasefire extension through Passover, or April 20. On the first day, half the hostages, alive and dead, would be released. The rest would be released if agreement is reached on a permanent ceasefire. The statement said it was proposed after U.S. envoy Steve Witkoff got "the impression that at this stage there was no possibility of bridging the positions of the parties to end the war, and that more time was needed for talks on a permanent ceasefire."There was no immediate comment from Hamas, which earlier rejected an Israeli proposal to extend the ceasefire's first phase by 42 days doubling its length — saying it goes against the truce agreement, according to a member of the group who requested anonymity to discuss the closed-door negotiations. Officials from Israel and mediators Qatar, Egypt and the United States have been involved in

Preserving records of 'atrocities' by Hasina regime critical: Yunus

DHAKA. Bangladesh's interim government's Chief Adviser Muhammad Yunus has called for the "meticulous preservation" of records documenting alleged "atrocities" committed under the administration of deposed prime minister Sheikh Hasina.

During a Sunday meeting with United Nations officials, Yunus emphasised that without a proper archival system "it is difficult to know the truth and ensure justice", the Dhaka Tribune newspaper reported.

A statement issued by the chief adviser's press wing said the chief adviser during his conversation with UN Resident Coordinator Gwen Lewis and UN human rights expert Huma Khan cited the crackdown on demonstrators at Shapla Chattar, police brutality against protesters following the Delwar Hossain Sayedee verdict, and years of alleged extrajudicial killings.The UN officials, in response, reaffirmed their willingness to assist Bangladesh in documenting human rights abuses.

This is a process of healing and truth-building," Lewis said, offering the UN's expertise in technical assistance and capacity-building. Yunus also commended the organisation's recent fact-finding report on human rights violations following the July-August

European leaders pledge strong support for Ukraine

2024 uprising that led to the end of 15 years of Awami League regime from power and Hasina's escape to India.According to Lewis, UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Volker Turk will present the document at the Human Rights Council session in Geneva on March 5."We are very pleased that the UN has published this report; it is timely," Yunus said.The discussion also touched on the plight of the Rohingya refugees, with Lewis expressing concern over dwindling international aid.UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres will visit Bangladesh from March 13 to 16.Lewis hopes this trip will refocus global attention on the refugee crisis."We are very worried about the money situation," Lewis said, noting that USD 15 million per month is required to sustain food supplies for Rohingya refugees and other basic children.During the murder trial, the court heard that Khatib killed her while their children were in the next room. CCTV footage later captured him wearing her headscarf and jeans in an attempt to maintain the illusion that she was still alive.Khatib was sentenced to life in prison with a minimum term of 20 years. A police detective involved in the case called it an "honour" killing, stating that Khatib's actions were driven by "outrage and jealousy" over Alayed's desire to take control of her own life."The contempt you showed for Rania in death matched the contempt with which you treated her in life," trial judge Mr Justice Leggatt told Khatib.Greater Manchester Police confirmed that forensic teams would remain at the Thirsk site in the coming days.

Pope Francis's Condition Stable But Complex

Rome, Italy.Pope Francis is in a "stable" condition in hospital but the clinical picture remains complex, the Vatican said Sunday, as the 88-year-old issued a statement thanking well-wishers for their support.

The head of the Catholic Church was admitted to Rome's Gemelli hospital on February 14 with bronchitis, which later developed into pneumonia in both lungs. After appearing to recover slightly during the week, the Argentine pope suffered a breathing crisis on Friday, causing widespread concern, but he passed a quieter weekend."The clinical conditions of the Holy Father remained stable today," the Vatican said on Sunday in its regular early evening medical update.

The leader of the world's almost 1.4 billion Catholics "did not require non-invasive mechanical ventilation. only high-flow oxygen therapy", it said.

He does not have a fever, and on Sunday morning he participated in mass, spending the rest of the day alternating rest with prayer, it added. A Vatican source said that with 48 hours now passed, it appeared there had been "no further consequences" from Friday's crisis.However, the Holy See statement added that "in view of the complexity of the clinical picture, the prognosis remains reserved". at London summit amid growing US tensions LONDON. European leaders closed ranks Sunday in support of Kyiv at a London summit, where they pledged to spend more on security and assemble a coalition to defend any truce in Ukraine.Bringing together 18 allies, the talks were devoted to the key questions of how to provide security guarantees for Ukraine and bolster Europe's future defences while keeping the United States under President Donald Trump onside.Just days after a thunderous row between Trump and Ukraine's Volodymyr Zelensky raised fresh questions over the US leader's commitment to Ukraine and NATO, British Prime Minister Keir Starmer warned that Europe found itself "at a crossroads in history"."This is not a moment for more talk -- it's time to act. It's time to step up and lead and unite around a new plan for a just and enduring peace," the premier added.With no guarantee of US involvement, "Europe must do the heavy lifting" in securing peace in Ukraine, Starmer said, indicating that several countries were ready to help defend any truce.Zelensky was warmly embraced by many of the summit's attendees, including Starmer, Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and NATO chief Mark Rutte, while protesters rallied outside the UK

leader's home in support of Ukraine.That welcome stood in stark contrast to Zelensky's treatment in the White House on Friday, where he was berated by Trump for not being grateful enough for US aid and not being for peace with Russia.Avoid "ready dividing WestTheir argument, played out in front of the world's news cameras, raised fears that Trump wants to force Kyiv into a peace deal giving Russian President Vladimir Putin what he wants while leaving Ukraine broken and insecure. After the leaders gathered on Sunday, European Commission chief Ursula von der Leyen warned that "we urgently have to rearm Europe' and "prepare for the worst" on the continent.Polish Prime Minister Donald Tusk meanwhile called for the United States and Europe to "speak with one voice" in showing Putin "that West has no intention of the capitulating before his blackmail and aggression".Starmer and France's President Emmanuel Macron have said they are prepared to deploy British and French troops to Ukraine to help preserve the peace in the event an agreement is signed to end the war.Rutte pointed to promises from more European countries to "ramp up defence spending", while insisting the United States remained committed to the transatlantic alliance.The London meeting brought together allies from around continental Europe, including France, Germany,

Denmark and Italy as well as Turkey, NATO and the European Union.In addition to attending the security summit, Zelensky also met King Charles III at his Sandringham estate in England.'Very welcome'As Sunday's gathering got underway dozens of protesters draped in the yellow and sky-blue flag of Ukraine gathered outside Starmer's office, some holding signs bearing the legend "Putin's end is near" and "Stop vermin, Stop Putin". That mirrored the hero's welcome Zelensky received on Saturday when his convoy swept into Downing Street to a cheering crowd.

negotiations on starting the ceasefire's second phase in Cairo. But Basem Naim, a member of Hamas' political bureau, told The Associated Press there had been "no progress" before Israeli negotiators returned home on Friday. Hamas did not attend, but its position has been represented through Egyptian and Qatari mediators.

Under the ceasefire deal's terms, fighting should not resume while negotiations are underway on phase two. Israel's new statement says it can return to fighting "if it believes that the negotiations are ineffective,' and it noted Hamas' refusal to accept the proposal for an extension of the first phase.

However, "if Hamas changes its position, Israel will immediately enter into negotiations on all the details of the Witkoff plan," the statement says. Before Israel's new statement, an Egyptian official involved in the talks spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss the negotiations. The official said Hamas, Qatar and Egypt wanted to continue with the existing ceasefire deal, and they rejected Israel's proposal to extend the ceasefire for four weeks with a release of hostages every Saturday without officially entering negotiations on the second phase.

The Egyptian official said the U.S. wants to start negotiations on the second phase but called for hostage releases during the negotiations. Hamas insisted on a full implementation of the ceasefire terms.

The first phase, which paused 15 months of fighting in Gaza, saw the release of 33 hostages, including eight bodies, in exchange for nearly 2,000 Palestinian prisoners. Hundreds of thousands of people returned home to northern Gaza, aid into the territory increased and Israeli forces withdrew to buffer zones.

USAID official warns of unnecessary deaths from Trump move, put on leave: Report

USAID official Nicholas Enrich warns of deaths due to agency dismantling Enrich placed on leave after memo criticising leadership 🕳 Trump's administration cut $60 billion in foreign aid

Washington.A senior official with the US Agency for International Development in an email on Sunday warned that the Trump administration's dismantling of the agency will result in unnecessary deaths -- only to email his staff less than 30 minutes later to say that he had been placed on leave.

Nicholas Enrich, USAID's acting assistant administrator for global health, in the seven-page memo shared with staff, and which was seen by Reuters, said "political leadership" had made it impossible to deliver lifesaving humanitarian assistance around the world, contradicting assurances from Secretary of State Marco Rubio that such aid would continue despite President Donald Trump and billionaire Elon Musk's cost-cutting campaign.

- Twenty minutes later, Enrich sent another email, which was also seen by Reuters, that he had "just received notification that I have been placed on administrative leave, effective immediately."A source familiar with the matter said the decision to put Enrich on administrative leave was made Wednesday, before he sent his email on the consequences of USAID's dismantling.
- Spokespeople for the State Department and DOGE did not immediately respond to requests for comment. Enrich did not respond to a query from Reuters. The blocked USAID programs include efforts to help contain a deadly Ebola outbreak in Uganda that had killed two and infected 10, Enrich said in the memo seen by

Reuters."This will no doubt result in preventable death, destabilisation, and threats to national security on a massive scale," Enrich wrote in the memo, which was dated Feb. 28 and shared widely with staff in the global health division on Sunday afternoon. The Trump administration announced last week that it was cancelling nearly 10,000 foreign aid grants and contracts worth almost $60 billion, ending about 90% of USAID's global work. The shuttering of USAID is part of an unprecedented downsizing of the federal government by Musk's so-called Department of Government Efficiency. The agency's sudden demise has thrown global humanitarian relief efforts into chaos.In a separate memo seen by Reuters, Enrich estimated that a year-long pause in lifesaving aid from USAID would cause between 71,000 and 166,000 additional malaria deaths, a nearly 40% increase; an increase of between 28% and 32% in tuberculosis cases worldwide; and up to 28,000 cases of emerging infectious diseases such as Ebola.After Trump ordered all foreign aid frozen in January pending a review, Secretary of State Marco Rubio issued a temporary waiver for lifesaving assistance, such as essential medicines, food and shelter.

But Enrich said DOGE workers and other political appointees have made it impossible to approve payments for those critical programs. According to Enrich's memo, various officials at USAID and the State Department issued conflicting guidance on what programs would qualify for the waiver and how they would be funded.

Tamil Nadu. Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin on Sunday hit back at Governor RN Ravi over his remarks on the state's two-language policy, accusing him of pushing a false narrative and questioning the linguistic policies in BJP-ruled states. Stalin's comments come after Governor Ravi claimed that the rigid two-language policy had deprived Tamil Nadu's youth of opportunities and restricted their ability to learn other South Indian languages. In his sixth letter to DMK cadre, Stalin states like Uttar Pradesh and Bihar? The Governor will not have an answer, nor will those who make him speak."Stalin also countered Ravi's claim that knowing Hindi guarantees employment in North Indian states, pointing out that many Hindispeaking migrants are coming to Tamil Nadu seeking work. "Those who speak only Hindi are coming to developed Tamil Nadu in search of jobs because of its two-language policy. Even the Hon'ble Governor is being paid with Tamil Nadu taxpayers' money to work here," he added.

The DMK leader also responded to criticism from BJP leaders who questioned why party members defaced Hindi on railway sign boards but not on rupee notes. "The rupee note carries multiple languages, ensuring language equality. This is unlike the railway and central government departments, where language imposition is evident," Stalin asserted.

Stalin's response comes after Governor Ravi, during a visit to Tamil Nadu's southern districts of Thoothukudi and Tirunelveli, expressed concerns over youth unemployment and drug abuse. He also demanded the implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, which promotes multilingual education.

Replacing humans with robots: Akhilesh Yadav rips into calls for 90-hour workweek

New Delhi. The debate over long workweeks has intensified, with Samajwadi Party chief and former Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Akhilesh Yadav weighing in on the argument. Responding to recent remarks by corporate leaders advocating for extreme work hours, Yadav strongly criticised the notion, questioning whether employees were being treated as humans or robots.

Those who are advising employees to work for 90 hours - are they talking about replacing humans with robots, because humans want to live with their emotions and family," Akhilesh Yadav said, adding that true economic progress should benefit all and not just a select few.

His comments come amid growing discussions surrounding statements by prominent industrialists such as Infosys co-founder Narayana Murthy, who suggested young Indians should work 70 hours a week to boost national productivity. More recently, L&T Chairman SN Subrahmanyan further escalated the debate by advocating a staggering 90hour workweek, even suggesting that employees should give up Sundays for work. Yadav condemned such proposals, arguing that they disregard employees' well-being and the importance of work-life balance. He emphasised that productivity is not merely about clocking excessive hours but about working wholeheartedly and efficiently.

- Quality of work is most important, not quantity. The truth is that the people sitting at the top get the maximum benefit of the hard work of the youth without doing anything, that is why some such people give impractical advice like 'working for 90 hours'," he said.
- He also took a dig at the BJP government, questioning the economic benefits of extended work hours. "If economic progress only benefits a few, then whether the economy reaches USD 30 trillion or USD 100 trillion, what difference does it make to the common people? True economic justice means prosperity is shared by all, but that is not possible under this government," Yadav said.

Kannada actor agrees with DK Shivakumar, Opposition slams 'nut and bolt' threat

- Karnataka. A day after Karnataka Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar criticised actors for not attending the inauguration of the 16th Bengaluru Film Festival, actress and former MP Ramya (Divya Spandana) supported Shivakumar's statement.
- Amid the controversy, she agreed with Shivakumar, arguing that actors have a responsibility toward their culture and language. "What DK Shivakumar sir said is true; there is nothing wrong in what he said. As actors, we always have a responsibility. Look at what Dr Rajkumar did for our Kannada language; he protested so much in the past. The cooperation and support that once existed between cinema and politics are missing today. The patronage is currently lacking. Yes, as actors, we have a duty—it is our responsibility to stand up for our language, land, culture, and water. There is no fault in what DK Shivakumar said.'

BJP intensifies attack on AAP, raises CAG report on health in Delhi Assembly

The Delhi Assembly saw heated exchanges on Monday as Minister Dr Pankaj Singh slammed the AAP government over the CAG report on health, accusing Kejriwal of widespread betrayal.

Minister Dr Pankaj Singh launched a He added that out of 86 contracts scathing attack on the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) government over the findings of the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) report on health services in the national capital. Accusing the AAP government of gross mismanagement in the healthcare sector, Singh said, "There is no one close whom Kejriwal hasn't betrayed."

Singh also alleged that the AAP government failed to ensure quality checks on food provided in hospitals and forced people to migrate from the city due to its policies. He also claimed that the government neglected medicine procurement, purchased drugs from blacklisted companies - including expired medicines and failed to assess the need for new hospital beds. 'Today, in the house, we will discuss the CAG report on health, and all their scams will be exposed. The AAP has already been exposed before the people of Delhi. Today, everyone is witnessing how AAP deceived them. They came to Delhi wearing the cloak of honesty but crossed every limit of dishonesty," Gupta was quoted as saying by . She further stated that twelve more CAG reports were yet to be tabled, hinting at more irregularities likely to come to light.

Meanwhile, Delhi Minister Ashish Sood also slammed the AAP government, alleging major failures in handling the city's healthcare and power infrastructure. With every page of the CAG report, more and more scams of the AAP government are coming to light. When the people of Delhi needed oxygen, when they needed Mohalla clinics, the Delhi government was busy constructing their Sheesh Mahal. The High Court and the CAG have made serious allegations about their 'Mohalla clinics' and the so-called health model. During the session, Speaker Vijender Gupta addressed the issue of the suspension of Opposition MLAs, making it clear that expelled legislators would not be allowed to participate in the proceedings. "Under Rule 277, they will be barred from entering the Assembly premises and from participating in the proceedings of the House and its committees. Permission may be granted for entry only for a specific purpose," Gupta said.

He also reiterated that any MLA marshalled out of the House must leave not only the Assembly chamber but also the entire premises. "After suspension, the premises must be vacated.

Security dynamics of the Siliguri corridor

- THE turbulence and violence in the neighbouring Bangladesh reflect latent security threats and implications which may well spill over across the border, especially in the sensitive region of the Siliguri corridor. The geographical attributes and cartographic peculiarities of this area create vulnerabilities which can be exploited by inimical elements using non-conventional methods
- This corridor, which links India with eight of its states in the north-east, is formed due to the sudden decrease in width as the Indian territory extends eastwards across the land mass linking north Bengal with Assam and with Nepal, Bhutan and Bangladesh hedging in this area from the west, north and south, respectively. The shortest expanse is 20 km, between Naxalbari on the India-Nepal border and Phansidewa on the India-Bangladesh border. Close to this is the 30-km transit route for third-party trade permitted by India between the border checkpoints of Kakarbhitta in Nepal and Banglabandha in Bangladesh. The Indian territory's width between Bhutan and Bangladesh is 43 km at its narrowest. Known as the 'gateway to the Northeast', major communication arteries, including NH 17 and 27, broad gauge rail lines, oil and gas pipelines and the national power grid, pass through it. The strategic airfields of Bagdogra and Hasimara, important military formation HQs, and the large towns of Siliguri, Jalpaiguri and Cooch Behar are located within this corridor. In the north, this area is over 40 km from the Chinese territory of Chumbi Valley, across the undeveloped mountainous terrain of south Bhutan till the Indian border. However, all along its southern length, it is flanked by the undulating border with Bangladesh as it meanders across the riverine terrain and swampy areas.
- Guarding such a border, primarily against illegal immigrants and smugglers, is a herculean task as it is also densely populated on either side.
- The conventional threats to the Siliguri corridor appear overhyped. Whether it is the Chinese People's Liberation Army (PLA) through Bhutan or the Bangladesh forces from the south, the Indian armed forces can deter them and may well carry the battle across in the unlikely scenario of hostilities breaking out. The real threat lies in the unconventional domain. The high volume of illegal crossings driving a rapid demographic change, ethnic assertion turning to insurgency and support for both from across the borders — these are the actual security challenges.
- Illegal immigration from Bangladesh has always been the bane of this region. It has impacted the ethnic composition of the populace in towns and villages. It has built up over the years in the garb of labour, domestic workers and petty businesses, including trans-border smuggling. All this provides a human resource for creating unrest in a vital part of India.A strong vein of Islamic fundamentalism had existed in East Bengal even before and after 1947, when it became the East of Jinnah's Pakistan. 1971 did not exorcise these elements. Pakistan recognised Bangladesh in 1974. Ironically, Pak PM Bhutto got a hero's welcome in Dhaka barely three years after the Pakistan army's infamous Operation Searchlight in 1971, which led to the Bangladesh liberation war.Khaleda Zia's tenure from 2001 to 2006 was the high noon of Pakistan/ISI influence with radical Islamists in government. Harkat-ul-Jihad al-Islami ran terror operations, targeting Indian interests with impunity. Sheikh Hasina did focus on this common enemy, but she could not eliminate the powerful strain of opinion.

Post the regime change in Bangladesh, the emerging alignment between Bangladesh and Pakistan not augur well for peace and stability in the adjoining regions. The fundamentalist elements who have come to fore in the post-Hasina era would find mutuality of interests with a rogue state like Pakistan, whose ISI, for one, would like to get involved in this part of the sub-continent.

Why India's Oscar submissions need a makeover

India's submissions reflect stories that align with the western perception of India, focussing on poverty rather than the full breadth of its storytelling, including its heritage and achievements

THE 97th Academy Awards, popularly known as the Oscars, will dazzle the audiences on March 2 in Los Angeles, celebrating the finest achievements in global cinema. While anticipation runs high for the winners, the journey to the coveted golden statuette has already seen its share of surprises and heartbreaks. Amidst it all, one enduring question remains: What kind of stories does Indian cinema choose to tell on this stage and why?

India's journey in the 'Best International Feature Film' category at the Oscars has been a complex tapestry of artistic ambition, cultural representation and pursuit of global recognition, often sparking debates about the selection process and narratives chosen to represent its diverse cinema. While the country boasts a rich and varied film industry, its official submissions frequently reflect a preference for stories that align with the western perception of India. They focus on poverty, caste struggles and socio-political unrest rather than the full breadth of India's cinematic storytelling, including its cultural heritage, achievements and progress.

This pattern raises an important question: are we truly showcasing the best of Indian cinema or are we curating narratives that cater to a western gaze? A closer look at past selections suggests that India's choices on the global stage may not always reflect the full spectrum of its cinematic excellence, fuelling discussions about what truly defines Indian storytelling and how India chooses to represent itself internationally. The global reception of Indian films is often shaped by western perceptions. Slumdog Millionaire (2008), not an Indian film, but the United Kingdom's official submission, won multiple Oscars for its portrayal of Mumbai's slums. Similarly, Lion (2016), an Australian production about an Indian child's struggles, gained worldwide acclaim. This year, All We Imagine as Light (2024), which won the Grand Prix at Cannes, was overlooked as India's official submission, reportedly for being 'too European.' Instead,

Laapataa Ladies (2024) was chosen, sparking debates about the criteria used by the Film Federation of India (FFI). Likewise, Santosh (2024), again UK's official entry for the 2025 Oscars, directed by British filmmaker Sandhya Suri, reinforces stereotypes about caste oppression and systemic injustice in India. Though the film is in Hindi and rooted in rural north Indian settings, it represented the UK at the Oscars!

This raises another important question: why do so many foreign productions choose to tell stories about India's struggles, injustices and poverty?India's own submission for the same category, Laapataa Ladies (2024), also follows a similar path, highlighting the challenges faced by rural women. Though distinct in storytelling, both Santosh and Laapataa Ladies cater to an audience eager to see a certain version of India - one of hardships, inequality and deeply ingrained social issues. This fuels the perception of India as a country still trapped in poverty and injustice rather than a rapidly evolving, diverse and modern nation.

Similarly, Anuja (2024), produced by Guneet Monga and Priyanka Chopra, was selected as India's official entry for the 2025 Academy Awards and secured a nomination in the Best Live Action Short Film category.

A poignant tale, but again on the same lines - it follows the journey of a poor nine-year-old girl, portraying struggles and triumphs of working children, while addressing such critical issues as child labour and girls' education.

ndia's Oscar journey began in 1957 when Mother India became its first official submission. The film, depicting a woman's resilience against poverty and societal oppression, resonated globally and secured a nomination. This set a precedent - Indian films recognised at the Oscars often portray struggle and hardship.Continuing this trajectory, films like Salaam Bombay! (1988) and Lagaan (2001) focussed on themes of street life and drug addiction and colonial oppression, respectively. Notably, these remain the only three Indian films to have secured nominations in the Best

International Feature Film category.Bandit Queen (1994), which explored caste violence and oppression, was the official Oscar entry, while Hum Aapke Hain Koun..! (1994), a cultural phenomenon celebrating Indian weddings and traditions, was overlooked. Similarly, Earth (1998) and Hey Ram (2000) delved into communal conflicts while Newton (2017) highlighted electoral challenges in a politically volatile region. The selection of Newton over more popular contenders like Dangal or Baahubali 2 raised the question if commercial viability and mass appeal should be factored in decisionmaking. Though thought-provoking, these selections reinforced the narrative of India's struggles rather than its achievements. Consider The Lunchbox (2013) and Court (2014), both internationally acclaimed, but ignored for Oscar submission. Sardar Udham (2021), a powerful historical drama, was sidelined, as was Kantara (2022), rooted in indigenous traditions. Even Rocketry: The Nambi Effect (2022), celebrating ISRO scientist Nambi Narayanan's contributions, failed to make the cut. Meanwhile, The White Tiger (2021), a critique of class struggles, found favour globally.

So, are these choices a reflection of the reality or are they curated to fit western expectations? While acknowledging social issues is crucial, should India not also showcase its progress, scientific excellence and cultural richness? Perhaps, it's time for India's selections to reflect the full spectrum of its storytelling. The Oscars' Best International Feature Film category has often been criticised for favouring narratives that align with western perspectives. Yet, countries like South Korea and Mexico have successfully reshaped their global cinematic image through strategic Oscar campaigns. Parasite (2019) blended dark humour with social critique while Drive My Car (2021) explored human relationships beyond national struggles. Winners like Perfect Days (2023) from Japan and Emilia Pérez (2024) from France highlight diverse storytelling that transcends stereotypes.

বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটেছে, ঝাড়খণ্ড থেকে বেঙ্গলে যানবাহনের প্রবেশ শুরু

প্রায় ২৪ ঘন্টা পর, বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটেছে এবং ঝাড়খণ্ড থেকে বেঙ্গলে যাওয়া সমস্ত পণ্যবাহী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ শুরু হয়েছে। গত সন্ধ্যা ৭টার পর বেঙ্গল সরকারের আদেশে ঝাডখণ্ড–বেঙ্গল মথন সীমান্তে পণ্যবাহী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ নিষিদ্ধ করা হয়েছিল।

এর ফলে রাত থেকে দুপুর পর্যন্ত প্রায় ২০ কিমি দীর্ঘ যানজট সৃষ্টি হয়। চালকদের সমস্যার কথা বিবেচনা করে, MASS বেঙ্গল সরকারকে চাপ দেয় ঝাডখণ্ড সীমান্ত থেকে বেঙ্গলে প্রবেশ করা সমস্ত যানবাহন বন্ধ করার জন্য। এর ফলে, বেঙ্গল সরকার পিছু হটতে বাধ্য হয় এবং অবশেষে ভারী যানবাহনের প্রবেশ আবার স্বাভাবিক হয়।

বেঙ্গল সরকারের এই অনুমতির পর, ট্রাক চালকরা স্বস্তির নিঃশ্বাস ফেলেন। প্রাক্তন নিরসা বিধায়ক অরূপ চ্যাটার্জি ঝাড়খণ্ডের মুখ্যমন্ত্রী হেমন্ত সোরেনের এই উদ্যোগের প্রশংসা করেন। তিনি বলেন, মুখ্যমন্ত্রী হেমন্ত সোরেন এই বিষয়ে ক্রমাগত গুরুত্ব দিয়েছেন। বেঙ্গল সরকারের সাথে ইতিবাচক আলোচনা করার পর বেঙ্গল সরকার নিষেধাজ্ঞা তুলে নেয়। এর পর, সারিতে দাঁড়িয়ে থাকা সমস্ত পণ্যবাহী যানবাহন ধীরে ধীরে বেঙ্গলে প্রবেশ করতে শুরু করেছে। NH–এ দীর্ঘ যানজট এখন সীমিত হচ্ছে এবং যানজটও ভাঙতে শুরু করেছে।

अस्तु, मन की सम्पूर्ण वृत्तियों को एक ही तत्त्व की ओर परिचालित करो, एक नाम का उपयोग करो, मात्र अपने इष्ट मंत्र का उपयोग करो और किसी अन्य मंत्र का उपयोग मत करो। हनुमान इसीलिए कहते हैं, मैं मात्र राम का नाम जपता हूं। कभी भी नारायण का नाम नहीं जपता। मैं नहीं जानता कि और नारायण हैं कौन? प्रत्येक साधक को जानना चाहिए कि संपूर्ण विश्व में मात्र एक ही मंत्र है और वह है उसका इष्ट मंत्र। वह कोई और मंत्र जानता ही नहीं है।

नारायण और राम दोनों वास्तव में एक ही हैं, मात्र नामों का अंतर है। नारायण संस्कृत का शब्द है। राम का अर्थ क्या है? एक अर्थ है रमंते योगिनः यस्मिन रामः। अर्थात् राम ही मात्र एक ऐसे विषय है जो योगियों के आध्यात्मिक मानसिक आभोग हैं, मानसाध्यात्मिक भोजन है, मानसाध्यात्मिक आनंद और प्रसन्नता के स्रोत हैं।

एक कहानी है कि किसी ने हनुमान से कहा, हनुमान, तुम एक भक्त हो और जानते हो कि मूलतः नारायण और राम में कोई अंतर नहीं है। तब तुम सर्वदा राम का ही नाम लेते हो, कभी नारायण का नाम नहीं लेते हो जबकि दोनों मूलतः एक ही हैं।

राम का दूसरा अर्थ है, राति महीधरः रामः। रति का प्रथम अक्षर र है और महीधर का प्रथम अथर म, राम। रति महीधरः, संपूर्ण विश्व की सर्वश्रेष्ठ ज्योतित सत्ता है, जिनसे सभी ज्योतित (प्रकाशित) सत्ताएं ज्योति

- यदि आपकी कनिष्ठा उंगली और अनामिका उंगली को आपस में सटाने के बाद बीच में गैप नज़र आ रहा हो तो समझ लीजिए कि बुढ़ापे में पैसों की तंगी से आप परेशान हो सकते हैं।
- यही गैप यदि मध्यमा और अनामिका उंगली के बीच नज़र आ रही हो तो साफ है कि युवा अवस्था में आप पैसों के संकट से जूझ सकते हैं।
- यदि मध्यमा और तर्जनी के बीच यह गैप हो तो बचपन में जातक को आर्थिक समस्या से सामना करना पड़ सकता है।
- यदि यह गैप किसी भी उंगली के बीच न हो तो इसका अर्थ है कि व्यक्ति जन्म भर धन-संपत्ति से परिपूर्ण रहता है।
- यदि उंगलियों के सभी पर्व लंबे हों तो व्यक्ति धनवान होता है।
- यदि मध्यमा उंगली के तीसरे पर्व के करीब अनामिका आकर मिल गई हो तो ऐसे लोग कलाकार, बुद्धिमान, विद्वान और विचारशील होते हैं और इस क्षेत्र में धन

प्रार्थना की। भगवान विष्णु ने कहा कि आप लोग दैत्यों से संधि कर लें और उनके सहयोग से मंदराचल को मथानी तथा वासुकी नाग को रस्सी बनाकर क्षीरसागर का मंथन करें। समुद्र से अमृत निकलेगा, जिसे पिलाकर मैं देवताओं को अमर बना दूंगा, तभी देवता दैत्यों को पराजित करके पुनः स्वर्ग को प्राप्त कर सकेंगे।

इन्द्र दैत्यराज बलि के पास गये और अमृत लोभ से देवताओं और दैत्यों में संधि हो गयी। देवताओं और दैत्यों ने मिलकर मंदराचल को उठाकर समुद्र तट की ओर ले जाने का प्रयास किया, किंतु असमर्थ रहे। अंत में स्मरण करने पर भक्त भयहारी भगवान पधारे। उन्होंने खेल खेल में ही भारी मंदराचल को उठाकर गरुण पर रख लिया और क्षणमात्र में क्षीरसागर के तट पर पहुंचा दिया। मंदराचल की मथानी और वासुकी नाग की रस्सी बनाकर समुद्र मंथन प्रारम्भ हुआ। भगवान ने मथानी को धंसते हुए देखकर स्वयं कच्छप रूप में मंदराचल को आधार प्रदान किया। मंथन से सबसे पहले विष प्रकट हुआ, जिसकी अमृत बांटने की प्रार्थना की। वास्तव में भगवान ने ही दैत्यों को मोहित करने के लिए मोहिनी रूप धारण किया था। मोहिनी रूप धारी भगवान ने कहा कि मैं जैसे भी विभाजन का कार्य करूं, चाहे वह उचित हो या अनुचित, तुम लोग बीच में बाधा उत्पन्न न करने का वचन दो तभी मैं इस काम को करूंगी। सभी ने इस शर्त को स्वीकार किया। देवता और दैत्य अलग अलग पंक्तियों में बैठ गये। जिस समय भगवान मोहिनी रूप में देवताओं को अमृत पिला रहे थे, राहु धेर्य न रख सका।

वह देवताओं का रूप धारण करके सूर्य-चंद्रमा के बीच बैठ गया। जैसे ही उसे अमृत का घूंट मिला, सूर्य-चंद्रमा ने संकेत कर दिया। भगवान मोहिनी रूप का त्याग करके शंख चऋधारी विष्णु हो गये और उन्होंने चऋ्र से राहु का मस्तक काट डाला। असुरों ने भी अपना शस्त्र उठाया और देवासुर संग्राम प्रारम्भ हो गया। अमृत के प्रभाव से तथा भगवान की कृपा से देवताओं की विजय हुई और उन्हें अपना स्वर्ग वापस मिल गया।

युगों-युगों के लिए आदर्श भाई बन गए भरत

श्रीराम वनवास के बाद महाराज दशरथ ने उनके वियोग में अपना प्राण त्याग दिया। फिर गुरुदेव वसिष्ठ के आदेश से उनके शरीर को सुरक्षित रख दिया गया और ननिहाल से भरत और शत्रुघ्न को बुलाने के लिए शीघ्रगामी दूत भेजे गये। भरतजी के ननिहाल से लौटने के बाद कैकेयी ने उन्हें प्रेमपूर्वक गले से लगाया और उनसे अपने पिता, भाई और माता की कुशल क्षेम पूछी। महाराज दशरथ को कैकेयी के महल में न देखकर भरत ने पूछा, मां तुम यहां अकेली बैठी हो, तुम्हारे बिना तो पिताजी एकांत में कभी नहीं रहते थे। भईया श्रीराम भी नहीं दिखाई दे रहे हैं। कारण क्या है उन्हें नहीं देखकर मुझे दुख हो रहा है।

कैकेयी ने कहा कि पुत्र तुम्हारे लिये भय और दुख की कोई बात नहीं है। मैंने महाराज से पूर्व वर के अनुसार तुम्हारे लिये राज्य तथा श्रीराम के लिये चौदह वर्षों का वनवास मांग लिया। श्रीराम के वनवास से दुखी होकर तुम्हारे पिता मृत्यु को प्राप्त हुए। कैकेयी के इस कुकृत्य को सुनकर भरत शोक समुद्र में डूब गये। उन्होंने कैकेयी से कहा, %अरी पापिनी, तू बात करने योग्य नहीं है। तू अपने पति की हत्या करने वाली हत्यारिणी है और तेरे गर्भ से जन्म लेने के कारण उस महापाप का मैं भी भागीदार हूं। मैं तेरा मुंह भी नहीं देखना चाहता। अतः तू मेरे सामने से तत्काल हट जा। कैकेयी के कुकृत्य की निंदा करने के बाद भरत माता कौशल्या के पास गये और उन्हें विभिन्न प्रकार से सांत्वना दी। उसके बाद उन्होंने

गुरुदेव वसिष्ठ की आज्ञानुसार महाराज दशरथ का विधिवत अंतिम श्रीराम को मनाने के लिए पैदल ही चित्रकूट चल दिये। मार्ग में निषादराज संस्कार किया तथा पिता के उद्देश्य से ब्राम्हणों को अनेक प्रकार का दान गुह और श्रीभरद्वाज जी से मिलते हुए भरतजी चित्रकूट पहुंचे। वहां उन्होंने

श्रीराम को मनाने के लिए पैदल ही चित्रकूट चल दिये। मार्ग में निषादराज गुह और श्रीभरद्वाज जी से मिलते हुए भरतजी चित्रकूट पहुंचे। वहां उन्होंने दूर्वादल के समान श्याम शरीर और विशाल हृदय वाले श्रीराम को बैठे हुए देखा। वे श्रीजानकीजी को निहार रहे थे और श्रीलक्ष्मणजी उनके चरण कमलों में सेवा कर रहे थे। भरत पाहि नाथ कहते हुए दण्ड की भांति जमीन पर गिर पड़े और उन्होंने श्रीराम के युगल चरणों को पकड़ लिया। श्रीराम ने प्रेम से अधीर होकर उन्हें गले से लगाया। भरतजी ने श्रीराम से कहा, हे महाभाग! यह समस्त पैतृक राज्य आप ही का है। आप हमारे बड़े भाई हैं, आप हमारे पितातुल्य हैं। आप इस राज को स्वीकार करें और मेरी माता के अपराध को भुलाकर हमारी रक्षा करें।

श्रीराम ने कहा, भाई पिताजी ने मुझे चौदह वर्ष का वनवास और तुम्हें अयोध्या का राज्य दिया है। पिता के आदेश का पालन करना हम दोनों का परम धर्म है। जो मनुष्य पिता के आदेश का उल्लंघन करता है वह जीता हुआ भी मृतक के समान है। अतः तुम अयोध्या का पालन करो और मैं दण्डकारण्य में निवास करूंगा तथा वनवास से लौटने के बाद जैसा तुम चाहोगे वैसा करूंगा। इस तरह विभिन्न प्रकार से समझाकर श्रीराम ने अपनी चरण पादुकाएं श्री भरत जी को सौंप दीं। भरतजी अयोध्या लौट आये और उन पादुकाओं को सिंहासन पर स्थापित कर नंदीग्राम में तपस्वी जीवन व्यतीत करते हुए अयोध्या पर शासन करने लगे।

व्यक्तित्व

कहते हैं अंगूटा मस्तिष्क का अहम बिंदु होता है। पुराने जमाने में किसी का अंगूटा देखकर उसकी बीमारी और उपचार के बारे में बताया जाता था। आइए, जानें कि अंगूटे का शेप क्या– क्या कहता है आपके बारे

में...

 अंगूठा यदि मोटा हो तो कहते हैं ऐसे लोग बड़े ही जिद्दी स्वभाव के और भद्दे आचरण वाले होते हैं।

- अंगूठा यदि छोटा हो तो ऐसे लोग फिकल माइंड के होते हैं। पल में ये पल में वो– यह सोचने में उन्हें ज्यादा देर नहीं लगती। अंगूठा छोटा और पतला हो तो व्यक्ति की मानसिक स्थिति कमजोर और उनमें लीडिंग पावर की कमी दिखती है।
- लंबे अंगूठे वालों का व्यक्तित्व शानदार होता है। वे काफी जल्दी खुद पर कंट्रोल करना जानते हैं।
- कहते हैं कि अंगूठे के आगे का हिस्सा यदि शेप में पतला हो तो व्यक्ति बेहद होशियार, बुद्धिमान और हर बात को अलग और बेहतर तरीके से सोचने वाला और संवेदनशील होता है।
- कुछ लोगों का अंगूटा ऊपर से बिल्कुल चौड़ा सा नजर आता है। जिनका अंगूटा ऐसा हो, वह व्यक्ति प्रैक्टिकल होता है। कही अनकही बातों पर ध्यान न देते हुए वह वही करता है जो प्रैक्टिकली सही हो। हालांकि ऐसे लोग बड़ी जल्दी उत्तेजित भी हो जाते हैं।
- हममें से ज्यादातर लोगों का अंगूठा नीचे से मोटा और ऊपर थोड़ा पतला और मुड़ा होता है। लेकिन, यदि किसी का अंगूठा शेप में बिल्कुल सीधा हो तो समझ लें कि मूड खराब होने पर उन्हें समझाना किसी के बस की बात नहीं। स्वभाव से बड़े ही जिद्दी किस्म के होते हैं। लोग उनसे दूर रहना ही पसंद करते हैं।
- कुछ लोगों का अंगूटा बेहद लचीला होता है और ऐसे लोगों का स्वभाव भी काफी सॉफ्ट होता है। दोस्ती तो इनकी सबसे हो जाती है, लेकिन ऐसे लोगों पर भरोसा कोई जल्दी नहीं करता।

NEWS BOX Shooting: Seeking productive season with long-term target in mind

CHENNAI. Shooting was one of the very few sports that helped India capture the coveted Olympic medals during the 2024 Paris Games. After some period of relaxation, the shooters have been looking to recalibrate and gradually find their zone ahead of competitions ahead. There were some notable scores during the national trials that were conducted recently and now, the shooters are set for a national camp ahead of their first international assignment this year.

- It's a phase that national rifle coach, Deepali Deshpande, is excited about. "This is the first year in the new Olympic cycle. This time we have a very strong bench strength. It is a very interesting situation right now. We have to maintain it for the next three, four years now," she noted.
- With rich talent pool in hand, the National Rifle Association of India (NRAI), the governing body of the sport in the country, and the coaches are looking to ensure that more shooters can get the platform to display their talents. "More shooters will be getting exposure tours this time. It won't be just No 1, 2 and 3 ranked shooters. The last Olympic cycle was very short, so we need to plan well. This year will be more about training and preparing teams and assessing the shooters. There are many established shooters who have been around for a long but there are some new faces in the squad and we need to check their performances at the international level," she said.

National camp from March 14

During the upcoming national squad camp, which is expected to be held from March 14 in New Delhi, as many as eight shooters (at least) are expected to be part of it. The coaches, who were named recently by NRAI, will also get a close look at the talented bunch. "The camp was originally meant for the team for the upcoming World Cups. But we proposed to have a national squad camp so that we can meet all the should camp so that we can have three camps or so, that would be ideal," the Dronacharya Awardee said.

The size of the squad is fine. Since the shooters are of really high standards, the work at the base level will be much less and it will be different. That is quite exciting. There's more order this time and I hope everything goes smoothly," she added.

IND vs NZ | Varun Chakravarthy elated with Dubai redemption: Looks good right now

New Delhi. India spinner Varun Chakravarthy expressed his delight at completing his Dubai redemption on Sunday, February 2 as he guided India to a big win over New Zealand. Varun picked 5 wickets for 42 runs as India won the match against the Blackcaps to finish top of the table in Group A, winning 3 matches out of 3. However, the mystery spinner didn't have the best of times in Dubai last time he was here.In 2021, Varun had a lacklustre T20 World Cup campaign, as he went wicketless in 3 matches and was dropped from the playing XI. Since then, Varun has reinvented himself and made himself a permanent fixture in India's T20I side, before making his ODI debut during the recent England

Atletico hoping Alvarez can end Real Madrid heartbreak in Europe

Atletico have reached three Champions League finals and lost every time, including against Real Madrid in 2014 and 2016.

MADRID. For Atletico Madrid it has been a Diego Simeone's team were ousted repetitious and painful tale whenever they have faced city rivals Real Madrid in Europe, but they signed Julian Alvarez to try and rip up the script. The Argentina international has become Atletico's key attacking threat after arriving from Manchester City last summer and will lead the line for them on Tuesday at the Santiago Bernabeu in the Champions League last 16.Atletico have reached three Champions League finals and lost every time, including against Real Madrid in 2014 and 2016.

Those agonising defeats, the first in extra-time and the second on penalties, were compounded by Los Blancos wins in the 2015 quarter-finals and 2017 semi-finals.

The only other occasion they have met in the competition was in 1959, when after an aggregate semi-final draw the tie went to a play-off.Real Madrid emerged triumphant and went on to lift a fourth consecutive European Cup. Their dominance in the competition has held until this day, with Carlo Ancelotti's side record 15-time winners and the current holders.

by Borussia Dortmund in last year's quarter-finals, one of the low points of a miserable campaign. They responded in the summer by signing Alvarez for 85 million euros ($88 million), hoping the 25-year-old forward would become the cornerstone of their side.

"He has everything a player needs to play for Atletico Madrid, and for many years to come," said Simeone after Alvarez struck twice to help them beat German champions Bayer Leverkusen in the group phase.

Alvarez has nine goals in his last 13 matches across all competitions, and 21 strikes in 40 games in total. Alvarez is well-rounded, a sharp finisher with great mobility, ability to link the play and high work-rate."Every move he gets involved in, he improves," said impressed Athletic striker Inaki Williams.Simeone requires great intensity from his players, with those who don't sweat for the club badge not lasting long at Atletico.Despite arriving as a World Cup winner with Argentina and a Champions League and double Premier League winner with Man City, Alvarez has shown no airs

His dedication to what Simeone demands of him makes him already seems a better fit than the one more expensive player in the club's history -- Joao Felix.

The Portuguese striker flopped at the Metropolitano and was sold to Chelsea last summer."(Alvarez) is a guy who won everything and he's the one who runs the most, you look at him and admire him," said Atletico defender Jose Gimenez."He is an example for all of us, from the oungest to the oldest."The forward has a point of his own to prove too, after Pep Guardiola left him on the bench during City's 2023 Champions League final win over Inter Milan. 'I didn't get to play in the Champions League final, I didn't play much in the semi-finals," Alvarez told Argentine news site Infobae.

Something inside me told me that I needed a different challenge, to look for something new."Alvarez has found that with Atletico and aims to give the Rojiblancos a new experience against Real Madrid in Europe

Champions Trophy: Australia name Cooper Connolly as Matthew Short's replacement

Connolly replaces Short for the rest of the tournament

- Short picked up a calf injury during Australia vs Afghanistan
- Australia made first Champions Trophy semi-final in 16 years

New Delhi. Australia have announced allrounder Connor Connolly as the replacement for injured opener Matthew Short ahead of their crucial Champions Trophy semi-final clash against India. Short sustained a calf injury during Australia's rain-affected match against Afghanistan on February 28, ruling him out of the remainder of the tournament.

Short picked up the injury while fielding and was seen in visible discomfort after his brief knock of 20 runs off 15 balls before being dismissed by Azmatullah Omarzai. Despite initial hopes of a quick recovery, Australia's medical staff confirmed that he would not regain full match fitness in time for the semi-final.Champions Trophy: Full Coverage | Points Table His replacement, Connolly, was already part of the Australia squad as a travelling reserve. The 24-year-old all-rounder has played six international matches for Australia, including three ODIs, and will now step into the squad at a crucial stage of the tournament. While primarily a middle-order hetter Gamedic's ghility to head off anis batter, Connolly's ability to bowl off-spin gives Australia an extra bowling option in what is expected to be a high-pressure contest against India.Australia's return to the Champions Trophy semi-finals marks their first appearance in the tournament's final four since 2009. The five-time ODI World Cup winners last won the Champions Trophy in 2006 and will be aiming to add another ICC title to their illustrious record.

Steve Smith, who has been leading Australia in the absence of regular captain Pat Cummins due to injury, confirmed Short's unavailability after the Afghanistan game. The semi-final against India on March 4 will be a major test for Australia, with both teams coming in strong form. With the conditions in Dubai likely to favour spin, the inclusion of Connolly could prove valuable in providing an extra bowling option alongside Adam Zampa and Glenn Maxwell.

Australia squad: Steve Smith (c), Sean Abbott, Alex Carey, Cooper Connolly, Ben Dwarshuis, Nathan Ellis, Jake Fraser-McGurk, Aaron Hardie, Travis Head, Josh Inglis, Spencer Johnson, Marnus Labuschagne, Glenn Maxwell, Tanveer Sangha, Adam Zampa.As Australia prepare for their biggest challenge in the tournament yet, all eyes will be on how Connolly performs in his new role as the team pushes for a spot in the final.

New Delhi. Shreyas Iyer commented on the mantra that he followed to get back into the Indian team after a whirlwind one and a half years. Shreyas was one of the key players for India during the ODI World Cup in 2023, which he played after recovering from surgery on his back. However, 2024 saw the Mumbai batter get dropped from the Test team and lose his BCCI central contract before guiding KKR to the IPL 2024 title.Shreyas would make a return to the ODI team during the England series, where he initially admitted he wasn't the first choice to be in the lineup for the first match. Since then, the 30year-old has made a great impact for his side and has scored 150 runs in 3 matches during the Champions Trophy, which includes 2 fifties.Speaking to the broadcasters after India's win over New Zealand, Shreyas said that the last one and a half years taught him how to take responsibility for himself rather than depend on someone else. The 30-yearold said he has been backing himself and his instincts. Shreyas also pointed out to the technique he has developed in the last few series. While Varun went wicketless in T20 World Cup 2021, he was economical, something that the spinner pointed to during the press conference. Varun said that the results didn't go his way in 2021, but things look better as the team is doing well.

I was nervous and emotional ahead of first spell, but chat with seniors calmed me down: Varun Chakravarthy

- "Yeah, of course, in 2021, we didn't have a I didn't, personally, I didn't have a great tournament here. But I do feel that I did bowl decently. But the results were not our way. But it looks good right now. And Team India is doing well. And the combinations have set very well so feels good," said Varun.
- 'What happened in 2021 did play in my mind during first spell'Varun admitted that in his first spell, he was a bit nervous as the failure in 2021 did play in his mind. However, the spinner said that captain Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli and Hardik Pandya were telling him to calm down and kept talking to him.
- "And yeah, of course, the first spell of mine I was a little nervous because the previous things, the emotions and all were playing whatever happened in the last three years before in this ground. Where little bit it was playing with me and I was trying to keep it down, control it. But Virat bhai, Rohit and even Hardik, they were telling calm down, calm down. They were coming and talking to me. That really helped," said Varun.

DUBAI. Varun Chakravarthy erased his painful Dubai memories with a matchwinning five-wicket haul against New Zealand, but the India spinner admitted feeling "nervous" ahead of his opening spell due to the "emotions" running through his mind. The 33-year-old had figures of 4 for 33 in a 10-wicket drubbing by Pakistan during the 2021 T20 World Cup here, but four years later he registered 5 for 42 as India defeated New Zealand by 44 runs in the Champions Trophy to top group A here on Sunday.

"In 2021, I didn't have a great tournament here. But it looks good right now. I was a little nervous ahead of my first spell (vs NZ). The emotions were playing (in mind) because of whatever happened three years before at this ground," said

Chakravarthy in the post-match press conference.Chakravarthy, who replaced rested Harshit Rana in the playing eleven, said a chat by the senior pros helped him to "calm down"."They (emotions) were playing with me and I was trying to keep it down, control it. But Virat bhai, Rohit and Hardik, were telling me to calm down. They were coming and talking to me. That really helped," he added.Once settled down, Chakravarthy, who made his ODI debut against England last month, had to find a way to shift through the spells unlike in T20Is, where he largely bowls four overs on the trot."In T20s, my sequencing of balls as in how I construct an over is totally different compared to the 50-over format. I was able to figure it out when I played the last two years in the Vijay Hazare Trophy. It really helped me to understand when I can bowl my incoming delivery or outgoing delivery or the straighter one or the top spin. It is completely different from what I do in the T20s," he said. The DICS pitch had considerable assistance for spinners, and Chakravarthy said he was judicious in using his bottomless bag of tricks."It was not a rank turner which people were projecting it to be. But definitely it was holding on a bit, and it was deviating a little bit just to create the doubt.

So, basically, you had to play around it. I would also dedicate my five wickets to the other bowlers as the way they bowled helped me pick wickets," he noted.Patience was another key component for Chakravarthy while bowling on such pitches."It is a patience game. You just need to wait on such slow wickets as the ball doesn't turn fast. So, you need to wait," he said.

years for helping him get back his spot and said he has been focussing on staying in the present."It has definitely taught me a lot as a person, as an individual, on how to take the responsibility on myself rather than depending on someone else because over a period of time, I realised that it's only you versus you. No one is going to be there to help you in your tough times, but there are only imited people who would be there and you know them very closely. So yeah, I've been just backing myself and showing that sort of confidence in every situation I enter in. I always love to back my instincts.""I keep saying that again and again, and I think that's what has helped me in the last 1.5 years. And also the technique that I've developed. I think we had a vivid chat about it. But other than that, just to stay in the present as much as possible and not to dwell in those thoughts which has happened in the past," said Shreyas.

Jyotika On Facing Sexism For Being Married To 'Superstar' Suriya: 'You May Have Identity Crisis'

fter 26 years, Jyotika returned to Hindi films with Srikanth in 2024. And now, she's gearing up for the release of her next Hindi project, Dabba Cartel, a series that chronicles the story of five ordinary women, who accidentally become involved in a high-stakes drug cartel. The film sees Jyotika playing a housewife of a business tycoon, who has put her own high-profile career on hold to focus on her family. Incidentally, in real life, she too took a hiatus from the movies after her marriage to south star Suriya in 2006.

Dabba Cartel, apart from narrating a gripping investigative tale, also touches upon the theme of casual sexism. Now, in an exclusive chat with News18 Showsha, Jyotika reveals that despite spending so many decades in the film industry, she often faces discrimination for being a woman and a large part of the same stems from being Suriya's wife. "It seems like an everyday thing. I'm married to a superstar. So, I face it every now and then, till date. I see it happening even during interviews," she tells us.

- Explaining her stance further, she says, "If I say that I feel lucky to have married Suriya, people say that he's a really nice guy. If he says that he feels lucky to have married a nice woman, it suddenly becomes something like Suriya is such a nice guy that he's thinking of his wife. You experience casual sexism even when it comes to materialistic things. I may buy a car but someone else is supposed to press the button and check the features out. It's now a part of daily life. There are hundreds of instances that I can point out."
- And this discrimination just doesn't end here. According to Jyotika, it often makes her question her own identity. "Sometimes, it reaches a level where you may have an identity crisis. A woman's search for her identity also nudges one to take a lot of decisions and make choices on their own. That's also how I chose my career path," she states. For the unversed, Jyotika and Suriya had first met on the sets of the 1999 Tamil film, Poovellam Kettuppar. After dating for a few years, they finally got married that led her to shift base from Mumbai to Chennai.
- A while ago, Suriya had revealed that post the pandemic, they shifted back to Mumbai as a family to help revive Jyotika's career and give a regular lifestyle to their children. Earlier, in an interview with us, Jyotika spoke about her strong relationship with Suriya and said, "My husband is my best friend. He was the first guy I met in the industry and I did my first film with him. We remained friends for a long time. Since we've lasted this long and continue to, I'm imagining that it's because of the friendship we share."

Govinda's Wife Sunita Ahuja

Lived Separately, She Feared He Was Cheating: 'Never Trust A Man'

n the latest shocking development, Govinda and his wife Sunita Ahuja may be heading for divorce after 37 years of marriage, according to reports. However, it has to be noted that the couple has not confirmed or denied the news yet. According to unverified sources, ongoing disagreements and differing lifestyles have led to frequent arguments between them.

- This reminds us of a recent interview that Sunita gave wherein she hinted at her worries about Govinda cheating on her. She had made some startling revelations about their marriage including the fact that they lived separately.
- Sunita had revealed that she was the one who initiated their relationship, as Govinda "was even scared to touch women." However, she added that Govinda is not the romantic type, at least not in real life. "Now, I don't know if he has become like that. You never know what people do behind your back. Never trust a man. People change colours like a chameleon. It's been 37 years since we got married. Where would he go? Earlier he never went anywhere, now I don't know..." she said in an interview with Hindi Rush.

Sunita also shared that they mostly lived in separate houses, with Govinda often staying at his bungalow. "We have two houses, we have a bungalow opposite our apartment. I have my temple and my kids in the flat. We live in the flat whereas he gets late after his meetings. He loves talking so he'll gather 10 people and sit chatting with them. Whereas me, my son and my daughter live together, but we hardly talk because I feel if you end up wasting your energy by talking too much," she explained. When asked about Govinda's romantic nature, Sunita said, "I have told him that in my next life, he should not be my husband. He doesn't go on holidays. I am a person who wants to go out with her husband and eat pani-puri on the streets. He spent too much time working... I don't recall a single instance when we both went out to watch a movie."

- Sunita also shared that she used to feel secure in her marriage earlier but it's not the case anymore. "I used to be very secure earlier on in our marriage, now I am not," she said with a laugh. "Kya hai na saath (60) ke baad log sathiya bhi jaate hai na... (After 60, people even lose their senses) He has crossed 60, you never know what he does..." she added.
- News18 Showsha contacted Sunita Ahuja and daughter Tina Ahuja for a comment, but they had not responded at the time of publication.

Entourage Costs 'Mental', Urges Actors To Cut Down Fees: 'We Are Suffering'

ohn Abraham recently expressed his take on why the film industry is suffering. He called out actors

- U demanding a hefty fee and loading a film with their entourage costs. He introspected the dire condition of the film industry, stating that it is "bleeding". The Satyameva Jayate actor also suggested that actors accept a pay cut and work on a film from the backend.
- "It's already hurting Hindi cinema," John Abraham told The Hollywood Reporter. He added, "At this point of time, we shouldn't be paying people to act in films because we don't justify those huge budgets. The huge fees that we get paid, and we can't load a film with entourage costs as well. It's ridiculous. Don't know if actors are thinking this way or is it their agent making them think differently. I understand you are put in a bubble, but you can't be so daft. You need to see the real world. If people are blowing sunshine from your backside, you need to wake up and smell the coffee. As an industry, we are really suffering."
- The actor said that stylists these days charge Rs 2 lakh per day, which is "mental". He called this one of the reasons why the film industry is not able to rake in money. "First thing to make amends is by cutting your personal cost. When a director tells you that you aren't worth that much, you need to take that in cognizance. We don't have that thought yet. We compare ourselves to other actors, and we want to broadcast our fees, and that's the worst thing to do," explained John. The Jism star further expressed his concern for the industry and said that it's time actors realise the "deep black hole" they are steadily seeping into. He felt artists should go to the backend to work on a film. He further added that actors' profit-making from films should be dependent on the film's box office business. "How much more will you suck the system dry?", a concerned John said

Govinda and Sunita Ahuja may divorce after 37 years. Sunita hinted at worries about Govinda cheating and revealed they lived separately amid unconfirmed disagreements.
